Trust Company of New Jersey Starts Action in Court to Force Bond Payment in U.S. Funds

Represented by Calgary Lawyer

Canadian Press

Calgary, Feb. 9. — The Malden Trust Company of Malden, N.J., has instituted court action against the city of Calgary because of the city's refusal to pay United States exchange rates on $2,135,000 in debentures which matured at New York January 1. Announcement of the proceedings was made by Mayor Andy Davison to-day.

Notice of the court action was served on the mayor by A. L. Smith, K.C., prominent Calgary lawyer, who is representing the United States firm. Thirty days' notice must be given, under the city charter, before court action can be started, Mayor Davison pointed out and the time for hearing of the case will not be known for a few days.

HOLDS $5,000 ON BONDS

The Malden Trust Company holds $5,000 worth of Calgary debentures and the firm claims it is legally entitled to receive payment on the bonds in United States funds. It is attempting to recover principal and interest in United States dollars.

On January 1, when the bonds matured, the Calgary City Council went on record as firmly opposed to meeting payments in other than Canadian funds, maintaining the city was not bound legally to pay $300,000 extra in adverse United States exchange rates. Payment was accordingly made in Canadian dollars.

DEFENCE STARTS AT GUY TRIAL

Long Beach, Calif., Feb. 9.—The state to-day rested its case against William J. Guy, charged with the murder of Walter Wanderwell, and a motion was made to take the jury to the home of Edward Delarm, where Guy was arrested December 7. The court granted the motion and the bailiff was instructed to transport the jury to the home in Glendale of Delarm, the principal alibi witness.

A motion for dismissal of the case made by the defence counsel was denied by the court, who ordered counsel to proceed with their defence of Guy.

TWO ARE HELD ON LINDBERGH CHARGES

Associated Press

Roanoke, Va., Feb. 9.—Police here to-day held Joe Bryant, nineteen, and Norman Harvey, twenty-eight, both of this city, for United States authorities in connection with alleged attempts to extort $17,080 from Col. Charles A. Lindbergh by means of abduction threats.

TEMPERATURE REMAINS LOW

Mercury Down to Seventeen in Screen and Twelve on Grass This Morning

Cold Snap Expected to Moderate Slowly; Wave Continues Into Southeast

With the abatement of the biting northeast wind, Victoria's cold snap had lost some of its edge, but temperatures were slow in rising.

Early this morning the mercury dropped to seventeen degrees above in the standard screen of the Dominion Observatory on Gonzales Heights. F. Napier Denison reported. On the grass it went down even lower, to a minimum of twelve above.

By 11 o'clock this forenoon it had risen to twenty-three. Indication pointed to continued fair weather with moderating temperatures and light to moderate winds. There was no sign of an immediate change from the cold weather, Mr. Denison said.

EIGHT BELOW AT KAMLOOPS

At Portland to-day the thermometer read twelve above at the minimum, a temperature equal to that of Vancouver. In Seattle it was four degrees higher, while at Prince Rupert the coldest snap just sent the mercury down to twenty above. At Kamloops it was eight below, a temperature also felt in Kansas City. Chicago shivered in weather eighteen below and at St. Louis the recording was two under the nought. Sharp frosts extended into the Sacramento Valley and the higher regions of California.

SPREADING TO SOUTHEAST

The cold wave was spreading southeasterly towards Florida, Mr. Denison said.

Reports on skating possibilities varied. From Marigold came information to the effect that Panama Flats had been drained to a point where good sheets would be out of the question.

CLEARED IN DEBT NEGOTIATION FIELD

Following statements in Congress, the United States State Department inquired as to the activities in Europe of William C. Bullitt, above. Later Congress was informed he was not claiming to be acting as a confidential representative of President-Elect Roosevelt and carrying on negotiations with European countries which owe large sums to the United States.

SAY PRICES NOT LOWER

Island Coal More Expensive in Seattle Than Here, Coal Men Declare

Differences of Thirty Per Cent Shown in Price Statement

Denying recent reports that Vancouver Island coals sell cheaper to the retail trade in Seattle than in Victoria or Vancouver, representatives of the Island coal companies this morning issued a comparative statement of prices which shows that charges for the Island product in the Sound city are approximately 30 per cent higher than here.

Present Seattle prices on three grades of coal, delivered in the basement, are given as follows: Lump, $14.10 a ton; nut, $13.35, and steam screenings, $8.95. These figures include $2.10 a ton for delivery and packing in Seattle.

In comparison the Victoria prices are: Nanaimo lump, $10.75; Douglas lump, $9.90; Nanaimo nut, $9.75, and screenings, $7.00 and $7.50. In Vancouver the price scale is approximately 25c a ton cheaper on the three first grades.

The Seattle prices were 50c a ton lower last summer, but have been advanced during the winter. The standard prices, in effect prior to last summer were: Lump, $14.60; nut, $13.35, and screenings, $9.60.

CAMPBELL MAY RACE FRIDAY

Daytona Beach, Fla., Feb. 9.—If beach conditions change radically for the better by to-morrow, Sir Malcolm Campbell plans to make a short test run in his racing car, Bluebird II, and then shoot for a new world land speed record.

He holds the present record of 253.96 miles an hour.

TEACHERS GET SALARY SLASH

School Board Lops $24,000 From Budget by Cutting Six Per Cent

Suffer Heaviest Salary Cut of Civic Staffs Over Economy Period

School teachers were placed in the class of city employees suffering most heavily under wage-cutting economy moves over the period of the last year, as the result of an agreement under which the teaching staffs agreed yesterday evening to accept a six per cent reduction in salaries, effective January 1.

Nine delegates, representing the city teachers conferred with the School Board for more than an hour on the salary cut plans yesterday evening, following which it was announced they had accepted the six per cent proposal of the board.

The cut means a saving of approximately $24,000 on the school budget, which will be forwarded to the City Council showing cash requirements for schools about the same as last year. The fact that no reduction can be made in the school levy is due to the heavy cut in the government grant for teachers' salaries.

SIZE OF FULL CUT

The latest reduction in teachers' salaries places them on a scale virtually sixteen per cent below that in effect at the first of last year. All other civic departments, except police and library staffs, have suffered ten and five per cent cuts, but their latest slashes are not effective until April 1, whereas that for the teachers is effective from January 1.

The police department and library staff salaries will be settled shortly and the governing bodies of each have been asked by the City Council to fall in line with the general reductions.

The cuts suffered by the teachers have been made in three moves. The first was in April last year when five per cent was deducted. In September they lost another five per cent and the last six per cent is now in effect.

CO-OPERATION SHOWN

School Board officials paid tribute to the representatives of the teaching staffs for the co-operation shown in agreeing to the latest reduction. The board had pointed out to the teachers the urgent need for economy in the budget and after some deliberation, the cut was accepted.

The reduction extends to other employees of the School Board as well.

British Aviator Sets Record For Trip From Europe To South America

DISTANCE FLIGHT DELAYED BY WIND

Canadian Press

Istres, France, Feb. 9.—A high wind to-day caused Lucien Bossoutrot and Maurice Rossi, French fliers, to postpone a projected take-off for a long-distance flight to either Java or South America.

They had planned to take off early to-day. They had their monoplane fueled and ready for the flight.

Stirred by the success of the British officers, O. R. Gayford and G. E. Nicholetts, in setting a world distance flight record from England to Walfisch Bay, Southwest Africa, the two intend to seek to win a record for France.

Last-minute weather reports will determine whether they will set out for South America or Java.

HUNT MADE FOR HEIRS TO ESTATE

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, Feb. 9—A cable from London received in Winnipeg to-day stated a firm of barristers in London is looking for Mr. and Mrs. George Gilliard and their two children, an English family, who recently inherited a small English estate. The Gillards settled in Saskatchewan in 1913, the exact location being unknown, and relatives in England have lost track of them in recent years.

MAKES SECOND SOLO ATLANTIC CROSSING

PILOT J. A. MOLLISON

Lands His Plane at Port Natal, Brazil, After Solo Flight From Coast of Senegal, West Africa

Time of Flight 3 Days, 10 Hours

Lone Flier is Given Official Welcome at Brazil Coast Town After His Daring Voyage

Canadian Press

Natal, Brazil, Feb. 9.—Captain J. A. Mollison landed here to-day at 6.20 p.m. Greenwich mean time (10.20 this forenoon, Victoria time), completing a flight across the South Atlantic from Thies, Senegal, French West Africa.

Thies, Senegal, Feb. 9.—Determined to beat the 4½-day record recently made by the crew of the big French plane Arcenciel, in a Europe-South America flight, Captain James A. Mollison, noted British aviator, hopped off from here at 12.50 a.m. to-day for Natal, Brazil, in his plane, Heart's Content.

ON SECOND ATTEMPT

He got off the ground with a heavy load of gasoline on a second attempt. He started his motor and rolled down the field about midnight, but was unable to rise. He returned to the starting point and then made his successful attempt.

The crew of a postal boat stationed on his route reported it had heard the plane pass overhead at 6.55 a.m., indicating he had covered about 700 miles in six hours. His speed was expected to increase steadily as gasoline consumption lightened the plane.

The British flier, who last year made the only solo westward flight across the North Atlantic, left Lympe, England, at 8.12 a.m., Greenwich time, Monday. He made landings at Barcelona, Spain; Agadir, Morocco, and Villa Cisneros, Rio de Oro, before reaching here.

Pilot Mollison is the only aviator who has made two solo flights across the Atlantic.

Mrs. Mollison, the former Amy Johnson, was in London to-day, where she received news of her Scottish husband's flight.

The time of the flight, according to the dispatches, was 3 days 10 hours 8 minutes.

An earlier dispatch said an official reception for Pilot Mollison had been prepared at Port Natal.

The weather off the Brazil coast today was calm and hot.

AID FOR FARMERS

Washington, Feb. 9 (Associated Press).—A United States senate banking subcommittee to-day reported favorably the Hull bill designed to use $500,000,000 of federal credit to bring about a two-year moratorium on farm mortgage foreclosures.

Tidal Wave Drives People of Town To Roofs of Their Houses

Sandy Point, Newfoundland, Swept by Water but no Deaths Reported

St. Johns, Nfld., Feb. 9.—About 450 fisherfolk on the Sandy Point Peninsula took refuge in their attics and on the roofs of their cottages to-day as a tidal wave flooded their village.

The wave was swept in before a great southwest gale.

No deaths were reported, but heavy damage was caused by the water, according to a message received from the Sandy Point telegraph operator.

The operator said the tide had reached the door of his office, which is three feet above the ground, and rushed over the village waterfront after crashing through the breakwater.

HOUSEHOLDER INJURED

New Westminster, Feb. 9. (Canadian Press).—Frank Hale, fifty-four, of 2008 Seventh Avenue, was severely injured and the kitchen of his home was wrecked when a range exploded shortly before 8 a.m. to-day as the result of a frozen water pipe.

POUND GAINS ON EXCHANGE

New York, Feb. 9.—Canadian and British currencies followed a steady course this afternoon on the local foreign exchange market. After declining ¼ per cent. During the forenoon to 83⅝ cents, the Canadian dollar steadied at that figure to close. The United States premium was quoted at 19 9-16 per cent.

The pound sterling moved up ⅜ cent at $3.43 and held at that figure throughout the day.

Exchange rates at noon to-day as quoted by the Canadian Press were:

Pound sterling in Montreal, $4.10.

Prairie Member of Commons Calls for Canadian Syndicate-Russian Messages

Ottawa, Feb. 9—John Vallance, Liberal, South Battleford, Sask., has given notice he will move in the Commons for production of "a copy of all letters, telegrams and other documents exchanged between any members or officials of the federal government and G. S. Serkau or any other person or persons in connection with the proposed exchange of Canadian cattle for Russian goods.'

"We believe," he said, "there is a great deal more to be known than has been revealed already with regard to this cattle deal."

Melbourne, Australia, Feb. 9. (Canadian Press).—F. L. McDougall and John Sanderson have been chosen to represent Australia on the intra-empire consultation and co-operative committee when it meets at Canada House here February 14.

J. J. CORBETT IN WEAK CONDITION

New York, Feb. 9.—The condition of James J. Corbett, seriously ill with a disease of the heart, to-day was reported unchanged.

The former heavyweight boxing champion has been confined to his bed in his suburban home for eight days.

Winnipeg Papers Oppose Rail Merger

Free Press and Tribune Comment on Speech Made Yesterday by E. W. Beatty, President of C.P.R.

Winnipeg, Feb. 9—"The Canadian Pacific has never been reconciled to the existence of a public-owned road operated on a transcontinental scale, and it has from time to time, as opportunity occurred, registered its objection to being submitted to state-supported competition," said an editorial in The Winnipeg Free Press to-day. "They believe the circumstances are such that they can now get a sympathetic hearing for their proposed solution, which is the elimination by one sweeping stroke of Canadian National competition and of the Canadian National Railway itself."

The Free Press, which was commenting on the speech to the Winnipeg Canadian Club yesterday in which E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, widened the arguments he had previously advanced in favor of unification of Canada's two big railways for management purposes, continued:

"If the people, by the agencies at their command, can create a body able to keep a private railway monopoly in check, they are equally able to bring into being a board capable of administering the railways of this country as a publicly-owned utility. In this, as in some other respects, Mr. Beatty's arguments to the extent that they are effective, are arguments for a public railway monopoly. But no case was made by Mr. Beatty, nor can be made, for a private railway monopoly of the range and power outlined.

BOARD WOULD BE "JOKE"

"A corporation of such power would, in its discretion, control every major activity in this country; the government would be its plaything, and the public utility board that would seek to control its action would be a joke. "If, then, a monopoly is inescapable, as Mr. Beatty contends, it must be a public monopoly, subject to public control and to that 'community pressure' which is a useful thing, even if it is deprecated by the Duff commission."

TO VISIT UNITED STATES

London, Feb. 9 (Associated Press).—Premier MacDonald and Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain and Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, Chancellor of the Exchequer and President of the Board of Trade, respectively, were reported officially listed to-day as the British mission which will go to Washington next month to talk over the war debt.

Cuts Protested By U. S. Customs

Washington, Feb. 9.—The United States customs bureau notified the Senate to-day that passage of the treasury bill as it stands with its drastic economies would necessitate discharge of 1,500 men June 30, would open the Canadian and Mexican borders to wholesale liquor smuggling, and perhaps close all of the forty odd inland customs offices except Chicago.

No Early Move of Britain To Gold

Government Not Considering That Currency Basis Under Present Conditions, Says Premier

Canadian Press

London, Feb. 9.—Premier MacDonald in a statement in the Commons to-day made it clear Great Britain is not prepared to return to the gold standard in view of present world circumstances.

Answering a query about an announcement by Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, British member of the preparatory commission for the World Economic Conference, outlining conditions under which Great Britain would return to gold, Mr. MacDonald said:

"I should like to make it clear these statements do not indicate Great Britain is prepared to return to the gold standard in the present circumstances.

"On the contrary, they make it plain, in the words used by the preparatory committee of experts at Geneva, that there are a number of economic as well as financial conditions which must be fulfilled before restoration of the international gold standard can be a practical possibility."

Cold is Causing Much Suffering

The bitterly cold weather of the last few days has inflicted great suffering on a number of poor families who live in poorly-built quarters and lack the money to provide sufficient fuel and warm clothing to keep themselves warm. The Friendly Help Association has received many pleas for help, and they in turn appeal with all urgency to the more fortunate citizens of Victoria to come forward with assistance at this time. There is the most pressing need for blankets, especially for warm bedding for children's cots, for heavy underwear and socks for men, women and children, and for men's clothing generally. Floor covering and a kettle is also badly needed for a family. Any of these donations will be called for on application to the general secretary at the headquarters, Market Building.

FIRE CONSUMES COLWOOD STOCK

Cattle and Sheep Owned by Alfred Peatt, Pioneer Farmer, Destroyed in Barn at Night

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed during the night the barn and stables on the farm of Alfred P. Peatt on the Sooke Road at Colwood.

Four milking cows, twenty-two sheep and a number of lambs were trapped and destroyed with the buildings. Tools and implements used on the farm were also burned.

Leslie Peatt, one of the pioneer farmer's sons, made an inspection of the buildings at 10.30 o'clock yesterday evening and found everything all right. At 2 o'clock this morning Mr. Carnegie, a neighbor, was awakened by the blaze and raised the alarm, but it was too late to save anything.

No insurance was carried.

INVESTIGATION IS DEMANDED

Washington, Feb. 9.—Demand for a United States senatorial investigation of its banking committee, which is investigating stock market practices, was made to-day by the New York Stock Exchange reform committee and the Manhattan Board of Commerce in letters sent to each of the ninety-six senators.

ARGENTINE WHEAT IS SOLD TO CHINA

Associated Press

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Feb. 9.—Twenty-two thousand tons of Argentine wheat have been sold to Shanghai millers and will be shipped before the end of the month. This follows a recent wheat shipment to Japan, causing grain men here to hope Original consumption may help dispose of the Argentine surplus.

The shipment to Shanghai is equivalent to 726,000 bushels.

New Drive To Lower World Trade Barriers

By CHARLES STEPHENSON SMITH
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, Feb. 9.—The United States will enter the World Monetary and Economic Conference at London next summer with a firm conviction that a concerted drive by the leading nations to lower international trade barriers will bring revival of world commerce.

The conference will approach the betterment of world commodity prices through two channels, the economic and the finanical.

On the economic side, tariff quotas, licenses to import and other devices which have been used by nations in restricting trade, will be considered for the purpose of eliminating obstacles which have diverted trade from regular courses.

On the financial side stabilization of currencies, so as to eliminate exchange regulations, embargoes on the movement of gold and other devices for the manipulation of credit transfers, are to be considered. The tariff policy of the new administration probably is not well enough defined to make clear whether the United States will be willing to discuss tariff schedules at the conference.

President Hoover's appointees who assisted in preparing the conference programme held tariff schedules to be a purely domestic matter.

TARIFF BOOST IN GERMANY

New Rates Announced To-day Will Keep Out Livestock and Fresh Meats

Canadian Press

Berlin, Feb. 9.—Increases in tariff charges, drastically curtailing, if not prohibiting livestock, fresh meats and lard imports, were issued to-day by Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, Minister of Economics and Agriculture, effective February 15.

DR. ALFRED HUGENBERG

The new tariffs represent increases ranging up to 50 per cent, particularly affecting North and South American exporters. The following items are affected, the figures for the new and old rates being shown in marks:

Livestock, 50 against 24.5.
Sheep, 45 against 22.5.
Swine, 50 against 40.
Fresh meats, 100 against 45.
Ordinary cuts, 150 against 60.
Choice cuts, 280 against 120.
Lard, 50 against 10.

The government in a statement said the tariffs were designed to protect

INQUEST IS HELD AT POWELL RIVER

Canadian Press

Powell River, B.C., Feb. 9—Mystery surrounds a tragedy in which Dick Jones, seventeen, was shot to death. The body was found beneath a shack formerly used by the Stuart Cameron Construction Company. A partly-loaded revolver lay alongside the body. Dick, who was a popular lad, had been employed part time with The Powell River News, a weekly paper conducted by Thomas W. Green. He had attended a practice of the district band on Sunday evening and that was the last seen of him until the finding of the body Monday morning.

An inquest, opened Tuesday, and was to be resumed to-day.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones, reside at Westview, a suburb of Powell River. The father is an employee of the Powell River Company.

Economy Watchword At Alberta Session

Legislature Starts Its 1933 Sittings; Government Indicates Estimates Pared

Canadian Press

Edmonton, Feb. 9.—Revision of the Debt Adjustment Act and consolidation of tax arrears were among the legislation forecast in the speech from the throne Hon. W. L. Walsh, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, delivered at the opening of the Legislature this afternoon.

Referring to the estimates, the speech said these would reflect the government's policy of exercising every economy possible until more favorable economic conditions should improve the provincial revenues.

Calling of a conference of the major wheat exporting countries had been urged on the Dominion Government, which also had been offered co-operation in connection with a national scheme of unemployment insurance, it was stated.

Lieutenant-Governor Walsh arrived with a retinue from Government House and took his seat at 3 o'clock, the ordinary ceremonies of the opening following immediately thereafter.

Reading of the proclamation assembling the Legislature was the first item on the programme, and the clerk of the Assembly, R. Andison, then read the certificate of the election of C. A. Ronning, new member for Camrose.

The speech from the throne, read by the Lieutenant-Governor, introduction of a bill by Premier John Brownlee, presentation of C. A. Ronning to the Speaker, and a motion to name a committee to strike standing committees were the main events of the day.

FIVE-DAY WEEK IS CITY PLAN

Seven-hour Day for Laborers Proposed Under New Work System

Institution of a seven-hour day, five-day week, for outside civic employees will be debated by the public works committee of the City Council it was learned to-day.

This plan would replace a three-quarter time schedule which has been in force for the last few months. Experience with this method has resulted in the proposal for a change in system.

The reduction in working time is designed as an economy move which at the same time will keep as many men working as possible. This was the reason for the three-quarter time plan, but the latter system did not prove as satisfactory as hoped, owing to the fact that the men were not employed continuously, laying off one week in four.

The five-day week move, probably under a reduced wage scale, would give the men an actual greater income per month than under the three-quarter time system. In addition it would provide continuous service and would not hinder the efficiency of departments, at the same time forestalling the need of discharging any men.

VERIGIN CASE IS POSTPONED

Halifax Judge Wants to Study Deportation Order Made at Ottawa

Canadian Press

Halifax, Feb. 9—The question of whether Peter Verigin had finished his term for perjury in the jail at Prince Albert, Sask., halted a Nova Scotia Supreme Court hearing to-day when Dominion immigration authorities were required to show cause why the Doukhobor spiritual leader was held for deportation to Russia.

C. B. Smith, K.C., representing the Immigration Department, had stated Verigin's sentence had been commuted and J. J. Power, K.C., acting for the Doukhobors of British Columbia and Saskatchewan, had demanded records to support the statement.

In Mr. Power's opinion the leader could not be deported before his sentence had terminated, and he declared his client had served only nine months of an eighteen-month term.

CALLS FOR ORDER

Mr. Justice Humphrey Mellish adjourned the hearing in order to give Mr. Smith an opportunity to procure a certified copy of the Governor-General's order.

Mr. Smith said the document must remain in custody of the remissions branch of the Department of Justice except in the event of a court order calling for its production.

The judge directed it be produced in court, and Verigin was returned to the immigration detention quarters to await further argument on Friday, February 17.

The judge remarked that Verigin "had a right to stay in Canada until his term expired," and Mr. Power said there was no record to show the term had expired.

Mr. Smith introduced correspondence, including a letter which revealed the intended deportation of Verigin apparently had not been as unexpected as was generally believed. On December 13 Hon. Wesley A. Gordon, Minister of Immigration, wrote to Peter Makaroff, advising him Verigin was to be deported as soon as possible.

This was followed by a letter sent out the next day, suggesting the sect leader should arrange immediately for the closing of his affairs in Canada.

On December 30 the warden of Prince Albert prison received a letter from the Under-Secretary of State, directing him to release Verigin from pentence, but to hold him for deportation.

The prison warden was further advised on January 30 to release Verigin "for deportation" and surrender him to the officer appointed for deportation.

Mr. Smith revealed in court he had been instructed by the Department of Immigration to ask Mr. Justice Mellish to refer the case to the full bench of the Nova Scotia Supreme Court if the judge "had the slightest doubt as to any step in the proceedings."

TARIFF BOOST IN GERMANY

German livestock prices, which generally were 60 per cent of pre-war prices.

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—Increases in the German tariff rates on livestock, fresh meats and lard will not affect Canada in any material respect, it is stated here.

Canada exported only seventy-three hundredweight of beef to Germany during the entire calendar year, 1932, the total value of which was $1,157. Exports of lard amounted to 307 hundredweight during the same period, with a value of $2,982. No sheep or swine were sent from Canada to Germany during 1932.

Calgary, Feb. 9.—Germany's tariff increases on livestock and fresh meats will not affect the industry in the Dominion, according to livestock men here to-day.

John Burns, general manager of Burns and Company Ltd., large western Canadian packers, declared practically no meat was shipped from Canada to Germany. Livestock shipments also were practically unknown.

"STONE COLD"

An editorial in The Winnipeg Tribune to-day said:

"As far as The Tribune is concerned, it freely concedes Mr. Beatty's honesty of purpose, but it remains stone cold on his conclusion that the interests of Canada would be best served by unification of management.

"There is much more to be told and explained before such a revolutionary plan can be regarded as entertainable.

"It is necessary, for one thing, to know how much of the burden of some two and a half billions involved in the capital obligations of the Canadian National Railways Mr. Beatty is prepared to remove from the shoulders of the Canadian taxpayers if and when amalgamation is brought about.

"It is necessary also to know how much of the operating loss of the National Railways, now a charge on the Dominion treasury, can be absorbed by joint management of the two systems.

"How can the people of Canada determine the merit of the principle, without first knowing how the application of the principle will affect their interests?

LOSS OF COMPETITION

"The people know what they would lose with a merger of the two railway system. They know they would lose railway competition, a possession they have always regarded as vitally important. They would be taking a road on which there could be no turning back.

"The whole case for the surrender of the National Railways rests on the punishing load of charges on investment and operating deficits," continued The Tribune. "If the load could be lifted by amalgamation, the temptation to the people of Canada to part with the National Railways would be perhaps irresistible. If the load could be even largely lifted and without a wholesale butchery of human beings employed in railway services, the temptation would still be a very powerful one.

"But can either of these things be done, and if so in what measure?"

TWO CONVICTS SENT FOR TRIAL

Canadian Press

Kingston, Ont., Feb. 9—Tim Buck, former leader of the Communist Party of Canada, was a "big shot" in the riots at the Portsmouth prison, near here, last October, according to Guard W. H. Godwin, who to-day testified during the preliminary hearing of Convict George Bailey, charged with rioting and destroying prison property. Bailey and Convict John Jolliffe were committed for trial.

No more convicts will be brought into court till Monday, when Magistrate J. M. Farrell will hear two more. In all, it is expected twenty-five prisoners will appear on charges of "riotously assembling" and "causing damage," while 300 others implicated in the disturbance will be tried by a prison court.

According to the guard, it was Buck who issued all the orders to the convicts assembled in the shop dome, industrial heart of the prison. He ordered the barricading of the doors, continually addressed the convicts and shouting "one for all and all for one," urged them to prepare for a long siege.

Canada's wheat exports for the first five months of the present crop year aggregated 140,364,459 bushels as against 94,978,086 bushels for the like period of last crop year.

Southern Alberta harvested 150,000 tons of sugar beets last year, the largest on record for the province.

Farm Problems of East and Prairies Debated By M.P.'s

Division of Agriculture Committee of House Into Two Sections, Wheat and General, Suggested

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—Cow-milking, year-round farmers of eastern Canada have served notice on the goverment the wheat growers of the prairies are not the only farmers entitled to attention. Western agricultural representatives, in the opinion of a group of easterners, mostly Quebec Conservatives, have had their own way in the councils of the nation for too long.

The move launched yesterday to divide the agriculture committee into two parts, one to deal with wheat and the other to deal with general agricultural matters, arose out of a feeling the hard-working eastern farmers have been neglected while the more vociferous prairie agrarians have had more success in getting their grievances corrected. Dr. F. H. Pickel, Conservative, Brome-Missiaquoi, Que., launched the scheme and was backed by an Ontario Conservative, W. F. Tummon, South Hastings.

The debate was not concluded yesterday, the resolution being sent over for further discussion.

CRITICIZES LEADERS

In pressing the claims of the farmers, Dr. Pickel did not spare his own leaders. No government in recent years, he said, had done all it could.

Grain growers of the prairies, said Dr. Pickel, had come to Parliament and claimed they knew everything about agriculture, while 70 per cent of them did not know how to milk a cow. The eastern farmers had a year-round job while the westerners liked to go south for the winter.

For these reasons he thought the agriculture committee, now dominated by wheat growers, should be broken up to give other branches of agriculture a chance to get some consideration.

Since coming to the House in 1930 he had not heard a single constructive suggestion in the interests of mixed farming from any of the many farmers who sat in Parliament. He suspected the reason was that they did not have any to make.

FARM PRICES

Dr. Pickel caused somewhat of a sensation when he declared that with the exception of beef, Canadian farm produce was bringing a higher price at the present time than the produce of any other country in the world. Pressed for proof, he mentioned butter and eggs in the United States, where he claimed the price was much lower than in Canada. He did not develop the point.

COMMITTEE SESSIONS

In the last ten years eighty-five meetings of the committee had been devoted to wheat, said Mr. Tummon, while only seventy-one had dealt with all other branches of agriculture.

P. A. Sequin, Liberal, L'Assomption-Montcalm, suggested a special section of members of the House to consider tobacco growers, milk, butter and cheese problems.

R. B. Hanson, Conservative, York-Sudbury, N.B., supported the resolution.

MOTHERWELL'S VIEWS

It was a mistaken idea that "you can divide this country into two camps," one for wheat growers and the other mixed farmers, said Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Liberal, Melville, Sask., former Minister of Agriculture. If anyone would move that all agricultural matters should be placed under one minister, the resolution would have his support.

The prairies, he reminded the House, were now in the general farming business, and the production of butter, eggs, etc., was as great per capita as the east.

John T. Hackett, Conservative, Stanstead, Que., supported the resolution. The purpose, he said, was not to divide the east against the west, but to provide a forum where matters of interest to eastern farmers could be adequately discussed.

VALLANCE'S VIEWS

Opposition to the resolution came from John Vallance, Liberal, South Battleford, Sask. He was opposed to it because the same problems facing the eastern agriculturists must also be met, perhaps in a lesser degree, by the west. Reports of the agricultural committee would show that all phases of agriculture had been discussed in the past. If eastern agriculture was "not getting a fair break" it was the fault of eastern members who did not bring to the attention of the House matters which would be sent to the committee.

"Don't divide the east against the west," said Mr. Vallance.

He agreed with Mr. Motherwell that all branches of agriculture should be under one minister.

DIVISION OF TIME

Col. H. A. Mullins, Conservative, Marquette, Man., could see no purpose in separating the committee, but he would suggest a division of the committee's time so that all sections could be dealt with. He warned that "unless we can get more families back on the land and make them successful—then God help this country."

One reason the problems of eastern farmers were not in the forefront of agriculture committee discussions, said Miss Agnes MacPhail, Southeast Grey, Ont., was that most of the western farmers were organized and well represented in the House, while most of the eastern representatives were professional men. She believed in organization and co-operation as a means of getting satisfaction in the House.

HEENAN SPEAKS

Hon. Peter Heenan, Liberal, Kenora-Rainy River, was called to order by the speaker when he referred to a number of investigations under the Combines Act during the period when he was Minister of Labor. The speaker ruled these references were apart from the subject of discussion. Mr. Heenan replied that the mover of the resolution had intimated there had been a milk combine during the period to which he was referring. He wished to say an alleged combine in milk had been investigated and found not to exist.

He did not see there should be any problem in respect to the agricultural committee, said Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture. He believed there was ample room for discussion of matters which interested farmers, both east and west, in the committee. He thought it would be a good thing to let the committee remain as at present, and the point raised by the mover of the resolution could be discussed in the committee.

IMMIGRATION IS REPORTED

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—A total of 20,591 immigrants entered Canada during 1932, according to a reply given a questioner in the Commons yesterday by Hon. Wesley A. Gordon, Minister of Immigration. Of these, no fewer than 16,709 came in from the United States, while 3,327 were from Great Britain and Ireland.

Distribution to provinces saw Ontario receiving 9,312 and Quebec 4,134. British Columbia received 1,950 and Alberta 1,692. Totals for the other provinces were under 1,000.

ROBOT FLYING IS SUCCESS

Walfisch Bay, South Africa, Feb. 9—Log of the Royal Air Force plane, flown by Squadron Leader O. R. Gayford and Lieut. G. E. Nicholetts to a new long-distance non-stop record revealed to-day only ten gallons of gasoline were left in the big machine's tank when they brought it down here yesterday after their 5,340-mile flight from England.

The log also indicates the value of the automatic controls installed in the plane. From the time the airmen passed Peterborough, England, Monday morning, until they struck the Mediterranean twenty miles west of Marseilles they were flying almost blind. Not until they were over the Sahara Desert were they able to confirm their course by star sight.

W. T. R. PRESTON SUIT FAILS

Toronto, Feb. 9.—A special assize court jury here yesterday evening found P. D. Ross, publisher of The Ottawa Journal, and The Oxford Press, Toronto, not liable in the $20,000 damage action for alleged libel brought against them by W. T. R. Preston, Port Hope. After two hours' deliberation the jury ended the three-day trial with a written verdict.

Included in the verdict the jury said: "We find Mr. Preston has had an honorable public career."

Mr. Ross seated beside his counsel, D. L. McCarthy, K.C., heard the clerk of the court read the verdict without emotion while the eighty-two-year-old plaintiff immediately gathered up his papers and prepared to leave.

Mr. Preston's action was based on excerpts from "Retrospects of a Newspaper Person," written by Mr. Ross and published by The Oxford University Press.

LEAGUE ASKS JAPAN'S ARMY CEASE MOVES

Geneva, Feb. 9—The committee of nineteen of the League of Nations, considering the latest proposal of Yosuke Matsuoka, Japanese spokesman, concerning the Japanese-Chinese situation, to-day decided to maintain its support of non-recognition of the new Japanese-sponsored state of Manchukuo does not constitute a solution of the problem.

The committee took the view that any settlement on a conciliatory basis would be unacceptable unless Japan were willing to acknowledge Chinese sovereignty in Manchuria and admit that maintenance of the present regime was unsatisfactory for a settlement. The committee asked the Japanese to inform it if they would be prepared to promise not to extend their military operations in Jehol, the Chinese province beside Manchuria.

IRISH RAIL STRIKE AFFECTS BRITAIN

London, Feb. 9.—Further extension of the Northern Irish railway strike into Great Britain was causing some concern to-day after dock workers at Stranraer, Scotland, had been ordered not to handle shipments and mails from the strike area.

London headquarters ordered the action and C. T. Cramp, secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, said other ports might be involved later. This followed a union decision to intensify the ten-day strike. It was said other transportation workers might be involved.

SCHOOL COSTS TO BE REDUCED

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Feb. 9.— Vancouver teachers did not reach unanimity at special meetings of the three classes of teachers yesterday when they considered whether or not to accept a salary reduction based on a sliding scale of a straight percentage throughout the system.

The proposal regarding the sliding scale was to reduce those receivinb more than $1,200 per annum, a larger percentage than those under $1,200.

The senior high and junior high teachers, who receive larger salaries than the elementary teachers, voted in favor of a straight percentage cut, and the elementary teachers in favor of the sliding scale.

To-day the Board of School Trustees was again in conference with representatives of the teachers, trying to reach some agreement on the method by which the suggested 10 per cent reduction in the estimates for teachers' salaries may be reached.

SIX FIREMEN DIE IN BLAZE

Another Missing After Destruction of Hotel in Omaha, Nebraska

Associated Press

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 9.—Six firemen were killed, three were reported missing and seventeen others were injured in a spectacular fire that destroyed the four-story Maillard Hotel, historic downtown landmark here early to-day during a fifteen-below-zero temperature. The loss was estimated at $250,000.

Captain Smith was killed in the collapse of a rear wall which buried him and at least three others.

Two more firemen were buried under debris in the basement. Senior Captain George Cogan, brother of Fire Chief Patrick Cogan, and Fire Inspector Clarence Urban were trapped when an explosion brought the roof down on them as they stood on the first floor, carrying them to the cellar. Fireman Walter Hoye, who had entered the shop with them, was rescued an hour later.

LED BY CHIEF

Rescuers talked with Cogan, but were unable to reach him or Urban, and little hope was held they would be rescued alive. Chief Cogan led rescuers in an effort to save his brother, and stimulants were passed down to Cogan in the hope it might minimize the effect of the fifteen-below-zero temperature in which the firemen were working.

The three missing, almost certainly dead, were Captain Thomas Shandy, Pipeman John G. Brandt and Fireman Franklin Kane. They were on a ladder in an alley, working with Smith, when the rear wall collapsed and presumably buried them.

Several fractures of legs were listed among the injuries. Harry Winer, proprietor of the four story brick structure, estimated the loss at $250,000. All of the forty-five guests were believed accounted for this morning.

ASTON VILLA IS DEFEATED 3 to 0

London, Feb. 9.—Aston Villa were held scoreless to-day by Leicester City. The Villans, who are in third place in the first division of the English Soccer League, were defeated 3 to 0.

In the southern section of the third division South End United defeated Newport 3 to 2, while in the northern section Walsall defeated Halifax 4 to 0.

tion, while from the Saanich Municipal Hall came word that no one was using Quick's Pond before noon.

On the other hand reports from Langford stated two or three devotees of the steel blades were enjoying fine sport on one of the best sheets of ice the lake has ever provided.

SKATING IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Feb. 9.—The temperature took a further plunge overnight, and this morning at 6 o'clock the low point was reached at 10.5 degrees above zero, declares E. B. Shearman, Dominion meteorologist here.

Vancouver's all-time record was hung up on January 15, 1907, when the mercury dropped to 2.3 above zero.

Indications are that cold, cloudy weather will continue, with light to moderate winds.

The freezing weather brought with it lots of outdoor skating. Lost Lagoon, False Creek Flats, Beaver, Deer, Burnaby and Trout Lakes were all crowded with skaters yesterday evening. No accidents were reported.

The cold snap extended all over the province. At Prince George thirty below was reported and ten below at Kamloops.

Seattle, Feb. 9.—Quicksilver fell to new seasonal lows in the thermometers of the state to-day. The severe cold which is general throughout the Pacific Coast and across the entire northern part of the United States is caused by a pronounced high pressure area, sweeping from the Arctic, across the MacKenzie Basin and into the United States, Lawrence C. Fisher, Federal Meteorologist here, said.

Okanagan reported the coldest weather in the state as well as the coldest in the town's history, with a minimum temperature of twenty-eight below and Yakima with fifteen degrees below, experienced the coldest February day since the weather bureau started there. A cold northeaster swept the Walla Walla wheat lands and farmers feared additional winter wheat killing, while the temperature registered three degrees below this morning.

Ellensburg reported a low of eighteen degrees below and Spokane eleven below. In Seattle thermometers fell to sixteen above and at Boeing Field twelve above.

The weather bureau forecast fair weather to-night and to-morrow with slowly rising temperatures to-morrow, but severe freezing to-night.

New York, Feb. 9. (Associated Press)—The International Match Corporation will regain possession of German bonds with a face value of $21,000,000 under an agreement approved yesterday at a special meeting of creditors. Federal Referee Oscar W. Ehrhorn, authorized the trustee in bankruptcy for International Match to conclude a settlement with five Swedish banks where the bonds will be returned.

Winnipeg, Feb. 9.—Canada's weather map to-day was freely sprinkled with sub-zero temperatures as the winter's severest cold spell spread into the Maritimes and threatened to put mercury signs before temperature readings along the Atlantic coast.

Ten deaths were attributed to the cold in the west, seven of them in a fire at a hotel in Tisdale, small northern Saskatchewan town. Two farmers were found frozen to death in the same province. In southern Alberta another farmer died from exposure.

Train services were disrupted as communication lines snapped in the intense cold.

SNOW IN ONTARIO

Snowstorms flailed sections of Ontario and Quebec and snowploughs were sent out to open blocked highways. Ferry service was hampered at Ice at Sault Ste. Marie and Sarnia. The Maritimes prepared for a worse slaught as icy blasts followed a path along the coast that wrecked telegraph and telephone lines and cut off communication with many coastal towns. Small craft headed for shelter, liners challenged the gale and sailed on schedule.

No moderation was seen for the country.

From Kamloops to Quebec the mercury tumbled far below the zero mark. No reports had come in from the "Ice Fields" in northern Ontario, where yesterday Armstrong recorded 52 below and other towns in the belt across the northern half of the province reported 40 and more below.

New York, Feb. 9.—Winter's icy front advanced to the United States Atlantic seaboard to-day, transforming spring-like weather into a frigid blast that brought chills to the territory east of the Appalachians.

Storm warnings were displayed along the Atlantic coast as the east prepared to resist advancing storms which brought intense suffering in the west, midwest and southwestern sections and cost twenty lives.

A blizzard was raging in the White Mountains of New Hampshire. The mercury sank 28 degrees within a few hours to below the zero mark.

Strong winds were whipping snow about the mountains in Maryland. Philadelphia reported a 34-degree drop in temperature in eight hours, with a forty-mile-an-hour wind. There was a 40-degree decline in New York City.

THOMAS RIDLEY DIES AT NANAIMO

Special to The Times

Nanaimo, Feb. 9.—Thomas Ridley, fifty-three, passed away at the family residence, 734 Haliburton Street, early this morning. He was a native of England and had resided in the province thirty-two years, and in Nanaimo twelve years.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, Herbert, Thomas and Leonard, and one daughter, Mildred, all of Nanaimo. Funeral arrangements are pending.

Delegates Of Fifty Nations To Meet

WORLD ECONOMIC CONFERENCE PLANS ROUSE NEW HOPES

Premier MacDonald Gives Assurance Date for Gathering Will be Set as Soon as Possible; Wide Range of Topics

By FRANK H. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

London, Feb. 9.—Roused to new hope for the return of prosperity, the nations of the world have been assured by Premier MacDonald that the World Economic Conference will be held at the earliest possible moment.

A survey by Associated Press correspondents stationed in the various European capitals shows the conference preparatory commission, with its work just completed, has focused attention on a six-point programme for recovery.

League of Nations officials already have arrived in London to discuss conference arrangements with the British government. That Mr. MacDonald will preside over the first assembly of its kind in history, with the sessions starting in July in old St. James Palace, is likely unless a new and unexpected move is made to shift the conference to Washington.

The World Economic Conference will bring to London from more than fifty nations a host of famous men and women, not only bearded scholars, high-brow economists and worried financiers, but also picturesque national figures.

Adolf Hitler, who sits in the chair of Bismarck, will come for the ceremonial opening, according to word from Berlin, but there is not much prospect of a general mustering of dictators. Joseph V. Stalin and Benito Mussolini will assign the Russian and Italian interests to special envoys.

TO DEBATE TARIFFS

It will be Mr. MacDonald's task to put the delegates face to face with the troubles of the world as catalogued by the preparatory experts under six formidable headings as follows:

1. Monetary and credit policy.
2. Prices.
3. Resumption of the movement of capital.
4. Restrictions on international trade.
5. Tariff and trade policy.
6. Organization of production and trades.

These cover the whole range of complex problems from the gold standard, silver questions and trade barriers to river and land transport and what is to be done for farmers the world over.

To Britain as the host, the World Economic Conference means an opportunity for building a new world economic structure on the cornerstone of the Anglo-American debt conference in Washington next month. War debts are the key to recovery, according to the British view.

France and the United States will urge Great Britain return to the gold standard, and will espouse a currency stabilization fund to enable the recovery of central European countries as outlined in the recent conference at Stresa, Italy.

France also will advocate a public works programme and mild tariff reform looking toward general world recovery.

GERMAN VIEWS

Germany hopes to "make the conference as inclusive to the realm of finance and economics should find a place on the agenda so that a solution for the world's troubles can be found by international co-operation.

Although absent in person, Premier Mussolini will be in the conference news by advocating through the Italian delegation a new "economic league of nations."

Italy is coming to the conference with one main point—stabilization of currency.

Soviet Russia is not likely to refuse to attend. It is considered not unlikely Russia will offer the original or a modification of Foreign Commissar Maximum Litvinoff's pact of economic non-aggression, proposed two years ago at Geneva, as its idea of the only solution for the world's present economic plight.

The Danubian nations are vitally interested in the conference, but are reconciled to playing a passive role in it.

BUTTER FIGURES

Ottawa, Feb. 9 (Canadian Press)—Last calendar year 50,000 pounds of New Zealand butter was brought into Canada, while 400,000 pounds came into this country in bond, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, told H. E. Spencer, U.F.A., Battle River, in the Commons yesterday. Total production of butter in Canada was over 300,000,000 pounds.

kingston, Ont., Feb. 9.—Twenty-five ...ners at the Portsmouth Penitentiary, near here, will appear in public ...t as a result of the rioting of last ...ber, according to official information given the Canadian Press. More than 300 other prisoners, however, will be punished for their share in the disturbances, most of them coming before the prison court and not having to face criminal charges.

LONDON BRIDGE PLAN APPROVED

Canadian Press

New York, Feb. 9.—A special London cable to The New York Times says the London County Council has accepted the government's plan for reconstruction of Waterloo Bridge, lately one of the major engineering problems of the metropolis.

According to the cable, the bridge is to be widened and strengthened, providing for four lanes of traffic, at a cost of £685,000. Under plans of the Ministry of Transport, he government will contribute 60 per cent of the total.

CALGARY SCRIP PLAN DRAFTED

Canadian Press

Calgary, Feb. 9.—A total of $92,835 worth of scrip will be issued by Calgary if the city council accepts the recommendation of the sub-committee of its special scrip committee, Alderman J. W. Russell, chairman of the committee, said this recommendation would be made shortly to the council.

By issuing scrip it is believed Calgary would be able to reduce its bank borrowings. The paper would be redeemable in taxes and services rendered. According to Alderman Russell, several city merchants have agreed to accept the scrip in pament for goods.

Employees of the city, public school and separate school boards, under the proposed scheme, would receive part of their salaries in scrip. It was planned to pay 80 per cent of civil employees' salaries, $36,000, with the issue. Thirty per cent of public and separate school board salaries would be met similarly—a total of $31,650 for the month of March.

The scrip also would be used to meet $22,050 in bills payable by the city and other debts incurred by the various departments.

It is expected the scheme, outgrowth of Calgary's financial distress, will come before the council at its next meeting, set for next Monday.

DEATH REMOVES D. M. DOHERTY

Well-known Vancouver Man Was Brother of Late Mrs. W. J. Bowser

Vancouver, Feb. 9.—David M. Doherty, aged sixty-one, a resident of Vancouver for more than twenty years and president of D. M. Doherty Co., Ltd., wholesale confectioners, died yesterday. He had been ill for several months.

Mr. Doherty was born in Kent County, New Brunswick, and for a number of years was employed in the wholesale grocery business in Saint John, N.B. He is survived by his wife and one son, Robert. The late Mrs. W. J. Bowser, wife of former Premier Bowser of British Columbia, was a sister.

Another sister, Mrs. W. R. Brown, Vancouver, and two nieces, Miss Gladys Irving and Mrs. Arthur Mitchell of Victoria, survive.

Mr. Doherty was a prominent figure in Vancouver business circles and was a member of the Kiwanis Club and the Terminal City Club.

LOWER STOCKYARD CHARGES URGED

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—"Unless the Minister of Agriculture takes cognizance of the conditions in the livestock industry there is no hope for Canadian agriculture," Col. Henry A. Mullins, Conservative, Marquette, Man., declared in the Commons yesterday afternoon. He was referring particularly to the regulation which calls for a $10,000 bond from buyers in the stockyards.

The result, Col. Mullins said, was that only one buyer visited the yards and he was able to fix the prices. It would be argued, he said, the regulation was for the protection of the drovers, but they didn't need such protection.

"We had none of that in the old days," Col. Mullins continued. "Then we kept our cattle in the wards until we got our money, and we could do the same now."

If the bond was reduced it would bring more buyers to the yards and result in competition that would create better prices, he said.

Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, said that the Department of Agriculture had been in consultation with heads of stockyards in Canada, and those men now had before them a memorandum from the department on stockyard charges. It was hoped to hear from them on this matter within the next two weeks.

FLEAS' AND FROGS' LEAPS MEASURED

Associated Press

Washington, Feb. 9.—Urged by a member of the cabinet, two government departments to-day issued official verdicts on the distance a flea and a frog can cover in leaping from dog to dog, and lily pad to lily pad.

An ordinary flea, said the Agricultural Department's Bureau of Entomology, can leap thirteen inches horizontally and seven and three-kuarter inches vertically.

An ordinary frog, said the Commerce Department's Bureau of Fisheries, under normal conditions can leap three feet; under deep emotion, five feet, and under deep emotion with firm footing, six feet.

The purpose of this extraordinary research was to ease the mind of a California citizen and taxpayer," not named, who wrote Secretary Wilbur that the question had troubled him for years.

TRIBUNAL FOR RAILS BACKED

Compulsory Features of Duff Report Approved by Senate Committee

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—Subjecting the bill based on the recommendations of the Duff Commission to searching analysis, the Senate railway committee continued to make progress yesterday.

Many amendments have been made to the bill as originally drafted, but none of these alters the three great principles which provide for establishment of three trustees for the Canadian National, economic co-operation between the C.N.R. and the Canadian Pacific, and submission by the two roads to an arbitral tribunal of disputes which may arise between them.

Yesterday afternoon the committee definitely went on record on what had been regarded as the most contentious issue—the arbitral tribunal. A strong case was put up by Senator James Murdock to substitute the Board of Railway Commissioners for a proposed tribunal, but the committee rejected this by a vote of eighteen to three.

A suggestion was raised by Senator G. P. Beaubien, conservative, Quebec, that, as the railways had already given evidence of economic co-operation, Parliament might wait another year in order to allow further voluntary co-operation without resorting to the compulsory features of the bill.

MEIGHEN'S VIEW

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Government party leader in the Senate, said the bill was specific that the compulsory features applied only in cases where the companies did not agree on matters designed to bring about economies and provide for remunerative operation. He drew attention to the provision which set forth the burden or the advantage accruing from any decision of the tribunal was to be equitably distributed.

Parliament must not hesitate to legislate, said Mr. Meighen. He felt if the compulsory arbitration features of the bill were eliminated, the measure would be a "pretty little mouse when the mountain had brought forth."

Senator James A. Calder, conservative, Saskatchewan, suggested a preliminary medium be established to decide whether a case was or was not one which the arbitral tribunal should properly decide. The chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners should have the right to hear these preliminary representations and to give a decision, he believed.

Mr. Meighen declared he would not be a party to any proposal which, in effect, would put any member of the judiciary not only above the law but above the makers of the law—Parliament itself.

He felt, however, some amendment might be necessary to define more exactly what the framers of the bill had in mind, and this he promised to place before the committee later.

C. N. R. BUDGET

Change of procedure which would give members of Parliament more detailed information when considering the budget of the Canadian National Railways was urged by Senator Calder. He left with the committee the outline of a system which would involve the annual appointment of a budget committee to analyze the railway estimates. This committee would be headed by the Minister of Finance.

MORE LIGHT ON BARTER SCHEME

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—Additional light on the Canadian-Russian cattle-oil barter proposal may be shed in a few days. It has been learned a member of the opposition is about to place a question in connection with it on the order paper of the Commons, and the government is believed ready to supply any information requested. The question may take the form of a request for the production of copies of all the correspondence the government has had in the matter.

It was learned on good authority the government has had no communication with Amtorg, the Russian trading corporation in New York, with a view to completing the deal.

INTEREST CUT IS PREDICTED

Canadian Press

Toronto, Feb. 9.—"Interest rates will be cut in the near future," The Toronto Telegram said yesterday. "It is bound to come," representative heads of banking and trust corporations informed The Telegram.

"They base their forecast on the firm opinion interest rates on deposits in government savings will be reduced. J. A. McLeod, general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia and president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, has intimated the banks are waiting for a lead from the government.

"The logical sequence in an interest reduction programme would be, first a reduction of one per cent on government savings and then a corresponding reduction in bank and trust savings," the newspaper said it had been informed.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—The Dominion and provincial governments should be able to refund maturing obligations on a lower basis than at present obtains, said J. A. McLeod, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, commenting on the action of the commons at Ottawa Monday evening in referring to the banking and commerce committee the problem of interest.

If that should come about, said Mr. McLeod, it would be a material factor toward balanced budgets.

The question of both interest rates, he pointed out, had engaged the attention of both bankers and government heads. He declared it one about which no one can afford to dogmatize."

"The way ahead," he said, "will have to be carefully surveyed in the hope that some immediate steps may be taken."

GRIM WARNING TO CRIMINALS

Associated Press

York, S.C., Feb. 9.—Plans for a public display of the body of a young negro murderer as a grim warning against crime were disclosed here today by Solicitor W. Grist Finley.

Finley said the body of Will Sanders, sixteen-year-old York County youth, would be exhibited on the courthouse steps here after his execution, March 3, for the murder of Miss Zula Stephenson a few weeks ago.

The youth admitted he had beaten the elderly spinster to death in her country home after she had said something that angered him.

CULT MURDER IN KENTUCKY

Seven Arrested Were Preparing to Burn Aged Woman Whom Son Strangled

Associated Press

Inez, Ky., Feb. 9.—Praying for deliverance, in a gutteral, unearthly chant, eight members of a mountain family were in jail here to-day, seven of them charged with murder following the cult "sacrifice" of an aged woman.

Police said they had crashed their way through barred doors into the desolate Mills homestead as plans were being made to place the body of Mrs. Lucinda Mills, seventy-two, on an altar.

Interrupting the haunting ritual of fasting and mystic rites, which police say had started last Friday, culminating in a mad frenzy of ardor, the officers arrested two daughters, two sons, a grandson and two sons-in-law and a daughter-in-law of the slain woman.

The prisoners, held in the Martin County jail here, are John Mills, thirty-six, and Fred, thirty-four, sons of the woman; Ballard, a twenty-five-year-old grandson; Blaine McGinnis and Tom Boyd, sons-in-law; Mrs. Mollie McGinnis and Ora Mills, daughters, and Mrs. John H. Mills, the daughter-in-law.

Tom Boyd was held as a material witness, the officers said, adding that the remaining seven were charged with murder.

INQUEST HELD

An inquest conducted by Judge T. J. Hardin brought a verdict that Mrs. Mills had died "at the hands of her son, John, andothers."

Questioned in the jail, members of the family told police that hours of praying, shouting, singing and dancing—a part of the bizarre ceremony—had called forth "divine commands" that the life of one person present be offered in "human sacrifice."

Mrs. Mills was chosen, they said, and John grasped his mother by the neck as the others looked on.

Blaine McGinnis said his mother-in-law was strangled, a chain fastened about her throat and preparations made for a "burnt-offering."

Rites had been held frequently in the little mountain settlement, the officers asserted, since a revival meeting last year, when the village was aroused to a height of religious frenzy.

POLES MAY CALL ON PADEREWSKI

If Tension With Germany Grows Pianist May be President

Associated Press

Warsaw, Poland, Feb. 9.—If Poland's relations with Germany become further strained as a result of Adolf Hitler's rise to the chancellorship of Germany, Ignaz Jan Paderewski, pianist and statesman, may be asked to become Poland's next President.

Expectations are that if added tension results with Germany, Marshal Joseph Pilsudski, Poland's constitutional dictator, will favor the return of the pianist and ex-Premier. As yet the marshal has said nothing about the presidency.

The election is to take place in June. The incumbent president, Professor Ignaz Moscicki, enjoys most cordial relations with the dictator, but in political circles he is expected to decline to run again because he desires to return to his scientific career.

One of the arguments raised against the return of Paderewski is that he is considered too strong an individual to serve merely as a tool in the hands of Marshal Pilsudski. But in view of his popularity in Anglo-Saxon countries, the marshal, it is said, may be moved to sponsor him.

ELECTRIC CURRENT KILLS DAIRY COWS

Canadian Press

Calgary, Feb. 9.—A false grounding, which sent current through stanchions, caused the deaths of five cows at the Hay's dairy farm by electrocution, it was disclosed to-day.

Discovery of the cause of the destruction of the animals cleard up the mystery surrounding the deaths of several other cows under mysterious circumstances at the dairy since rebuilding of the barns, destroyed by fire a year ago. The false ground was made possible through fractures in the cement foundations where the old wires lay.

Several other cows which received charges of electricity when the five animals were killed were not seriously affected. It was stated the charges which killed the animals were insufficient to cause injury to a man.

CHURCH UNION PLAN

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 9 (Associated Press).—The long-proposed merger of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the United Presbyterian Church of North America must wait at least until 1936. A committee of both denominations has decided that, due to observance of the eighty-fifth anniversary of the United Presbyterian Church of North America next year, the question of union should be deferred.

BANKS SELL COLLATERAL

Chase National, New York, Gets $4,068,000 For Notes Held Against Loan to Insull

Associated Press

New York, Feb. 9.—The Chase National Bank at a public auction yesterday bid in for $4,068,000 a block of notes held as collateral for its $5,485,050 loan to the National Electric Power Company, the holding company for Insull properties in the east.

The bank, as seller of the collateral, receives $1,417,050 less than it advanced, but retains its position in the National Electric picture as a creditor of the company to the amount of the deficiency, plus accrued interest. In addition, it has converted the collateral to actual ownership, which strengthens its position in the company.

The Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company recently followed a similar procedure when it bought in collateral of the New England Public Service Company, the Jersey Central Power and Light Company and other operating properties in the eastern Insull system.

Three other banks, which still hold collateral for loans made by them to the National Electric Power system, are the New York Trust Company, the Chemical Bank and Trust Company and the Manufacturers' Trust Company. These, with Chase and Central Hanover, lent an aggregate of $21,000,000 to the National Electric Power System.

ANNOUNCEMENT AWAITED

Announcement as to the plans of the three banks which have not yet reduced their collateral to ownership is expected soon. If they follow the course of Chase and Central Hanover, it was said the stock interest of the Middle West Utilities Company, in Insull's eastern utilities, which cost $40,000,000, would be completely broken down. All of the stocks formerly owned by the National Electric Power system have been pledged as security for loans to the system.

In this event, it was believed there would probably be a reshuffling of the operating properties of the National Electric Power Company, which was an Insull holding company in the eastern field. Presumably, these stock holdings would be offered for sale to utility companies now serving territories adjacent to those forming the National Electric system.

VETERANS' EVENT IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Feb. 9.—Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals of Canada, Major J. S. Roper of Halifax, Dominion president of the Canadian Legion, and Louis A. Johnson, national commander of the American Legion, were joint guests of honor at an international goodwill dinner held here yesterday evening by the Montreal post of the American Legion in Canada.

Never before had the world been in such need of international action to solve its problems, and in that need Canada and the United States, peaceful neighbors for many years, might find an opportunity for valuable leadership, said Dr. Manion.

M.P.'S HEAR OF MILK SPREAD

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—Ontario and Quebec have opened investigations into the spread between milk prices, Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, told the Commons yesterday afternoon when pressed for a general inquiry under the Combines Investigation Act.

Dr. F. H. Pickel, Brome-Missisquoi, Que., and R. B. Hanson, York-Sunbury, both Conservatives, claimed the spread in prices was excessive.

"It is absolute robbery" in Montreal said the Quebec member, claiming dairies paid $1.35 a hundred pounds to farmers and received over $5 a hundred pounds from householders. In St. John, said the New Brunswick member, milk retailed for 10 cents a quart, farmers receiving 3 cents.

Regulation of milk products belonged to the provinces, the Minister of Agriculture said. The two central provinces already had opened investigations and the Dominion authorities were watching the situation.

THAT UPSET MORNING FEELING YOU HAVE
Nine Chances in Ten It's "Acid Stomach"
How You Can Easily Correct It

According to many authorities, some 80% of the people of today have acid stomach. This because so many foods, comprising the modern diet, are acid forming foods.

It usually makes itself felt in sour stomach, indigestion, headaches, nausea, "gas," "biliousness," and most frequently in stomach pains that come about thirty minutes after eating. So you can easily tell if you have it.

Now Quickly and Easily Corrected

If you do have acid stomach, don't worry about it. You can correct it in a very simple manner. Just do this. It will alkalize your acid soaked stomach almost immediately. You will feel like another person.

TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia with a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

What This Does

That's all you do. But you do it regularly, EVERY DAY, so long as you have any symptoms of distress.

This acts to neutralize the stomach acids that foster your "upset" stomach, that invite headaches and that feeling of lassitude and lost energy.

Try it. Results will amaze you. Your head will be clear. You'll forget you have a stomach.

BUT—be careful that you get REAL milk of magnesia when you buy; genuine PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia. See that the name "Phillips" is stamped clearly on the label.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM:
Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

LANDWARD MOVEMENT INCREASING IN CANADA

According to a report issued by Dr. W. J. Black, director of colonization for the Canadian National Railways, Canada is having a landward movement from the urban centres which in volume exceeds any other change of this kind which has developed since the war. The report shows that the Department of Colonization assisted 3,402 families during the past year in finding new farm homes adjacent to Canadian National lines, and involving a total of 468,812 acres. This department has also co-operated in the settlement of 1,413 unemployed families under the relief settlement plan, financed by the federal, provincial governments and the cities.

Commenting on this movement, Dr. Black says that the demand for farm lands has not been equalled for many years, and is due to the movement of unemployed families from urban centres who, through force of economic circumstances, have found it necessary to revert to their former occupation of farming. The post war requirements caused an abnormal development in industry, and the high wages induced many families and single men to leave the farms for the cities. These people now find themselves in the ranks of the unemployed, and with what capital they have left are anxious to get re-established where they will be self-sustaining and sure of a living. Those who are going back, many of them to their old home communities, are securing land for less money and on better terms than they could have secured the same properties at any time during the last twenty years.

It is a commonplace of history, especially on this continent, that every major depression has produced a movement to the land from the cities and a consequent new trend in economic, political and social progress. The exodus of settlers to the undeveloped region in the United States west of the Mississippi in every case occurred during conditions of economic hardship in the east. Those people preferred the hazards of making a fresh start somewhere on the long western trail to enrolment in the bread-lines in the large eastern centres. The economics of the new life they intended to lead were secondary considerations; markets and profits were not in their picture. All they wanted was the opportunity to raise enough produce and stock for their own subsistence, thereby becoming independent of the philantrophy of others. Indeed, they had no alternatives, since there were no markets or transportation facilities for them in any case. They had a hard time of it, and many of them perished in struggles with Indians and in other circumstances, but they laid the foundation of a great western empire.

Canada's pioneers underwent a similar experience. They, too, migrated to the great waste places, first in the east and afterwards in the west to establish homes in circumstances which would free them from the disabilities imposed by unsatisfactory conditions in the communities from which they came. We appear to have reached a similar stage now, and it is unfortunate that there has been no properly co-ordinated programme by our governments for encouraging the landward movement on a large scale. If the federal and provincial authorities in association with the colonization departments of the big transportation systems had developed something of this kind and financed it with the money which is now being distributed in various forms of relief, we would be much better off than we are.

Canada is one of the last great pioneering countries in the world in which it is possible to accommodate a large population of settlers and provide them not only with the means of subsistence, but with conveniences and facilities of which homeseekers of earlier generations never dreamed. The absence of any big nationally-organized programme in that direction, reveals an astonishing lack of vision on the part of our leaders, and a singularly astigmatic conception of the real foundation of the country's progress. Canada's future depends upon the settlement of her vast waste spaces and the development of her primary resources rather than upon the commerce of the big centres, which, after all, is only the superstructure of the economic life of the nation.

ARTIZANS FORM CO-OPERATIVE AGENCY

There is much to be said for such organizations as the Victoria Co-operative Craftsmen's Welfare Association, the incorporation of which was noted in a news article in The Times yesterday. This organization is a non-profit-making body whose only purpose is to establish contact between its membership and citizens who want construction work of any kind done for them. Its members are skilled artizans who are now on relief and who are anxious to have some organized agency for supplying their labor.

Such orders for work as will be received will be allotted by the association to its members in accordance with the nature of the job, which also will guarantee the payment of builders' supplies, provide estimates and in other ways facilitate the satisfactory performance of any arrangement entered into between it and those of the public who require the work. No regular wage scale will be involved, the purpose of the association being merely to provide an outlet for the employment of its members on such terms as may be arranged between it and those who avail themselves of its services.

BEHIND THE HALO OF ROMANCE

A New York man whose son ran away to join the French Foreign Legion is trying to start a movement to debunk that famous outfit.

The Legion has glamour. A halo of romance hangs about its very name. Ardent young men have traveled thousands of miles to joint it. And this New York man believes that if the true facts about the Legion were known they would not be so eager.

The average Legionnaire, he says, leads a pretty tough life. His lot is filled with hardships; poor food, iron discipline, long marches, much road building, back-breaking toil of the kind that would cause a strike in any day-labor gang on this continent. The New Yorker wants these facts publicized.

All of this may be perfectly true; but in trying to debunk the Legion by calling attention to its hardships this gentleman seems to be following a course that is hardly sound psychologically.

Most of us love our ease, to be sure; but the really popular and romantic callings, oddly enough, have very often been ones loaded down to the gunwales with the most oppressive hardships, and that fact in many cases has actually been part of their appeal.

What have been the glamorous, adventure-freighted jobs of the colorful days of the past? Such jobs as those of the settler, the deep-water sailor, the prospector, the trapper of the far north. Every one of them was ninety-nine per cent plain, every-day hard work and one per cent romance.

The settler, even in the old days, did more blister-producing hard work in a week that most of us have to do in a year. The old-time sailor was ground down under a routine which, as one of the survivors of those days has testified, would have caused a revolt in any penitentiary in the land. The prospector endured hunger and thirst, tramped innumerable miles over rough country and broke open mountains of solid rock with a pick-axe; the trapper walked his legs off, froze his toes periodically and lived in a chilly cabin on an unvarying diet of beans, bacon and flapjacks.

The plain fact is that hardship is no deterrent to romance. In fact, it adds to it. If the Foreign Legion is to be debunked, some other method of approach will have to be found.

MOUNTAIN LABORED AND BROUGHT FORTH A MOUSE

Not much has been heard of the accomplishments of the recent conference between the federal and provincial governments, for the simple reason that nothing of value was accomplished. Nor was there any likelihood of the accomplishment of anything. The agenda was available to the provincial representatives only three or four days before the conference opened, and there is good ground for the suspicion that the meeting was held mainly as a demonstration that the various governments were on speaking terms with one another. The original reason of the conference was unemployment and the question of unemployment insurance. Mr. Bennett had made a speech in which he expressed himself in favor of this kind of insurance in some form, and a considerable volume of publicity was given to the proposal that a conference with provincial premiers would be called to consider this subject.

During the conference it developed that unanimity on this question was lacking, that there were certain constitutional disabilities which would have to be overcome, and these are to be reviewed later. The conference also discussed company laws in operation in the various provinces and an attempt will be made to establish uniformity in this respect. The matter of income tax collection also came up, with the impression that the Dominion authorities would like to do the collecting for the whole country. This idea was accorded a cold reception by the provincial representatives, who feared, no doubt, that they would receive less revenue from this prolific source if Ottawa did the collecting.

On the whole, the conference provided an arresting commentary on the futility of Canadian statesmanship in the face of a vast and unprecedented emergency. It simply furnished another example of the extent to which officialdom has removed itself from the conditions and temper of the general public.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM
The Winnipeg Free Press

To allow the situation to drift as it has in the past will, in view of its increasing seriousness, only lead to growing unrest and possible trouble. Not only that, but it is a confession of helplessness and defeat in a young country with opportunities for meeting the problem that do not exist in older countries. The Dominion should not only carry a greater part of the load, but should abandon the idea that the main problem is met if people are not allowed to starve, and should lead the country in a determined effort to devise more positive and more hopeful policies.

NEWFOUNDLAND AND THE DOMINION
The London Free Press

At the present time, in view of the financial troubles of the ancient colony, her annexation would add to the troubles of the Dominion. However, in the end it would be advantageous to Canada, particularly now that the Privy Council has given a large slice of Quebec to Labrador. To-day it is but a frozen waste; nevertheless, some day, like Northern Canada, it may prove to be a mine of wealth. It has great power possibilities and there is talk of gold finds.

A FORLORN HOPE
The Regina Leader-Post

Not a few observers take the view that the United States holds the main key to an unlocking of the world's difficulties. It seems reasonable to say that if the United States would materially reduce its extremely high tariffs and become an active party to a more moderate plan of liquidating war debts than now obtains, the way would be immediately opened to a dissipation of a large section of the troubles not only of that country but if the world at large.

Loose Ends

The camera reveals some unsuspected things about here—and catches the true spirit of the place—some powerful thoughts are recorded as a scientific experiment—and some valentines are prepared out this way.

By H. B. W.

PICTURES

IN MOST parts of the world the camera has been recognized as a medium of artistic expression. It has wrung admission from artists that art of a high order is required to explore its full possibilities. But in Victoria, among the pundits, I understand it is not so recognized because our standards here naturally are higher than in the backward centres of America and Europe. Still, to the layman, the work of the Victoria camera, both professional and amateur, as displayed by Mr. H. U. Knight this week, is beyond the judgment of the pundits. The photographs of a few years ago and most of those taken to-day are pretty bad but Mr. Knight shows many which, in the old sense, are hardly photographs at all—compositions rather which have been built up through a lens, but made not by the camera but by the photographer in the developing and printing; rich, charcoal effects, light and shade to make any artist envious and the true feeling for a picture which is the basis of all picture making.

BESIDES, Mr. Knight's exhibition will open your eyes to the unappreciated beauties of Victoria which, when it emerges in picture form, is seen to be an enchanted city of sunlight and shadow, with a kind of a dreamy quality which is often talked about by contemptuous aliens from Vancouver but never caught like this in black and white. The back of an ugly office building becomes a rich study in shadow and mass. The Ross Bay sea wall, taken in moonlight by a Victoria doctor (who stayed out most of the night to get it), looks like the promenade on the Mediterranean. A million people more or less have photographed the Parliament Buildings, an uninspiring spectacle, but Mr. Knight has taken it with a wharf and a long line of piling in the foreground with an amazing effect of darkness and light. Even the Johnson Street Bridge, most hideous of all created things, looms up into the sky as a rich study in triangles and a kind of hazy symbol of our machine civilization; while just beside it a familiar house in Saanich, and a few sheep which you probably pass unnoticed on your Sunday drive, have been turned into a charming pastoral scene like a water color. And the pictures of the Vancouver boat at the C.P.R. dock, where you have seen it a hundred times, will make you want to sell your house and go to sea. After such an exhibition you should be able to find new beauty all about you.

THOUGHTS

A WHILE ago I ventured the statement that the average person couldn't keep his mind on a single subject for more than three or four minutes at a time. Several of my friends doubted the statement and protested that I was underestimating the average mind. They even thought I might be underestimating my own, which they admitted, would be difficult. So I tried an important scientific experiment. I sat in front of my fire last night for five minutes by the clock and tried to keep my mind from wandering for a second from the vital question—what should I put in this column to-day? I also kept a pencil and a small piece of paper handy to record any lapses from this subject. I thought even I might lapse once or twice but before I was finished. Actually, I needed three sheets of paper and had soon covered them all over with records of my wanderings. It was very scientific, very important. I urge you to undertake a clinical test of your intellect in the same way. It will surprise and depress you.

IN THE cold, gray dawn my notes show that in precisely five minutes my thoughts included these matters of public import: "That home-cured ham of Pudbury's certainly had a fine flavor. . . . My friend Charlie, the financier, just back from the east, says the great brains of finance there really don't know what the depression is all about, just as I thought. . . . The Legislature will be in session soon, Heaven preserve us. . . . Must order another load of good barnyard stuff from Pudbury for the early potatoes. . . . Three feet of snow up on the mountain in Cariboo to-night and a roaring fire in the big ranch house and the horses' breath steaming into the clear cold, and no columns to write up there. . . . The little boy next door has learned to say 'dog' now that Tim has gone and there is no dog. . . . Mr. Roosevelt smiles too much. . . . Is Bowser in or out? . . . Can Telmie do it? . . . Yes, that ham was good. . . . One of the three characters of Isobel Paterson's best-selling novel, 'Never Ask the End' is a newspaper woman in Vancouver with a step-son here. . . . Wonder how she likes her life dredged up in public? . . . That black dog who corrupted poor Tim looks like Mr. S—— on Rockland Avenue. . . . If only life and government were as simple as dear old Harry Pooley imagines. . . . Why do the newspapers still consider it news to announce that there are to be more B.C. taxes? . . . Anyway, that ham was good. . . ." That, I assure you, is an accurate record of five minutes' hard thinking. And if these are the thoughts of an intellectual fellow like me, what processes must be going on in your head all day? I shudder to think. Thinking is such an unnatural business anyway.

VALENTINES

ANOTHER of those neighborly misunderstandings which make life so difficult out our way is on the point of developing. I can feel it in my bones. The little girl next door and her older friend, Laura, are making valentines. And such valentines! They are making one for everybody in the whole district and at the suggestion of Laura, who has a penetrating mind, they are going to send them in most neighborly fashion. That is to say, when Mrs. Shipley wakes up on St. Valentine's morning she is going to receive a touching card with six little hearts around the edges and a large one in the middle from her old enemy Mr. Beak, whom she hasn't spoken to in three years. Mrs. Glumby, I feel sure, will be pleased to learn, amid a bower of hearts, that Mr. Pudbury wants her to be his valentine. Mr. Beak's card from Mrs. Glumby will have a real heart on it, cut out of a newspaper advertisement and bearing the inscription, "Jones's heart and liver pills will cure you," which is a rather touching valentine sentiment, particularly as Mr. Beak is always complaining of his liver. And to Miss Snipe, the spinster lady on the hill, they are sending a card fairly crawling with pictures of stark naked babies and bearing the words, "These are all for you from Saint Valentine."

DEATH PENALTY IN RUSSIA

To the Editor:—Your correspondent "Unprejudiced," states in to-night's (Wednesday's) Times that there is no death penalty in Russia, "as we know it." But it is officially announced by the Soviet Government that Russians have been shot in batches for stealing government property. This is a pretty fair substitute for the death penalty, "as we know it."

PREJUDICED.

ORDINATION OF WOMEN

To the Editor:—The question of the ordination of women to any office in the Christian church is at the present time a very live issue in most Protestant denominations, and especially in the United Church of Canada where, by a decision of the General Council a vote on the ordination of women as elders by Presbyteries, pastoral charges and congregations was supposed to be taken recently. The General Council appointed a committee to receive and report the results of the vote. This report has just been received from the moderator of the United Church of Canada, Right Rev. T. Albert Moore, D.D., and will no doubt be of interest to many of your readers, especially to the women of the United Church.

Following is the report of the vote:

"(a) By Presbyteries, 83 for; 3 against.

"(b) By pastoral charges and membership, 2,965 charges, of which 614 voted for, 169 voted against; 652,872 members of whom 35,369 voted for, 18,698 voted against.

"The General Council should know that 29 Presbyteries, 2,215 pastoral charges and 598,905 members did not record their vote."

The sessional committee's report to the General Council was as follows: "Re women as members of the session, that a clear majority of the Presbyteries having voted in the affirmative on the remit by the General Council of 1930 respecting the substitution of the words, 'members in full membership' for the word 'men.' It is now competent for this General Council to enact such legislation, notwithstanding that a majority of the pastoral charges made no returns. The approval of the pastoral charges being not mandatory but only 'if advisable' one General Council cannot bind any succeeding General Council in a matter of discretion."

TRUE RICHES

To the Editor:—Your editorial, "True Riches," in Saturday's paper is one of those little gems that we do not meet with too often, and you do well to remind your readers of such truisms; they bear repeating. The riches of the world have often more of appearance than reality about them, and they are not always to be so greatly desired as so many think they are.

As in the example you bring to our notice, it is the part of wisdom to invest in what may be termed a rich consciousness. Too many of us go about with a poverty-consciousness and a negative view of things. Lack of love and goodwill towards our associates in life as well as towards all things living is spiritual poverty, which is far more serious and far-reaching in its consequences than material poverty, and the selfishly rich have a heavy Karma, suffering not only retardation of soul—progress in the postmortem state by being earthbound—for where our treasure is there will our heart be also, but also with regard to future lives to come.

Knowledge of the way that leads to the distant goal, understanding of the true values of life and wisdom to pursue these, a staunch faith in the inherent good in our fellowmen, however much their conduct may belie it, and

WAGE BOARD IS DISRUPTED

New Civic Body Fails to Function Owing to Question of Constitution

Disagreement over the constitution of the board resulted in failure of the city's Fair Wage Board to make any headway at its first meeting yesterday to discuss the scale paid to outside employees of the city.

The board consists of Mayor Leeming, James Parfitt and Harry Owen. Mr. Parfitt represents the Builders' Exchange and Mr. Owen the Trades and Labor Council.

Mr. Parfitt, it is understood, declined to sit on the board as long as it consisted of only three members. He suggested that another member, representative of property owners who are paying the taxes, should be appointed. Mr. Owen was agreeable as long as the employees' side of the question would be allowed another representative. No decision was reached on this point.

Before Mr. Parfitt left the meeting a general discussion of the wage situation was held. A five-day week for the outside staff has been proposed to replace the three-quarter time now in effect for certain branches of the service.

D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller, Alex. Macdonald, general superintendent; G. M. Irwin, city engineer, and Matt Hutchison, city electrician, attended the meeting as heads of the various departments interested.

The five-day week plan under discussion would embrace the whole of the outside staff if adopted, whereas the three-quarter time schedule does not include all employees. Providing the five day week can be worked out to effect as large a saving financially as the other plan, the council would be agreeable, it is understood.

URGES PUBLICITY BE MAINTAINED

Nothing Should Jeopardise Groundwork Done by Bureau Members Told

Nothing should be allowed to jeopardize the fine groundwork done by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau to increase tourist travel on the island, Herbert Anscomb, retiring president of the bureau, told members at their annual meeting in the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon.

There was nothing to be alarmed about in the reduction of travel here last year. Drops had been recorded in all countries, he noted.

Turning to various features of the work done by the bureau, he expressed the conviction the contact trips made by Victoria bureau officials to various parts of the continent were of the utmost value in bringing the city before the notice of prospective tourists.

It was an established fact Victoria was competing with other cities in attracting tourists. The city should not relax in its efforts to bring visitors here, but should keep up its publicity work, he declared.

THANKS BUTCHARTS

Mr. Anscomb was warm in his expressions of appreciation towards Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart for their courtesy in allowing the traveling public to inspect the attractive gardens at Benvenuto.

He voiced his opinion of the value of the work done by the Puget Sounders and British Columbians Associated, Pacific Northwest publicity organization with which Victoria is connected.

To his way of thinking the opening of the new Pacific Coast highway in the United States, with its terminus at Port Angeles, was one of the most valuable highway developments of last year, as far as Victoria was concerned, since it furnishes another avenue of approach to British Columbia's capital.

Closing, Mr. Anscomb paid tribute to the work of the staff of the local bureau for its conscientious service who has just been appointed sales representative for the Harte-Andrews Paints Ltd., well-known firm of paint manufacturers of this city. Harte-Andrews Paints Ltd. have established a new retail outlet for their complete line of paints, varnishes, stains and roofing compositions at 711 View Street, immediately east of Douglas Street. Commodious premises there have been completely redecorated and modernized. The new branch is under the management of Mr. E. W. Andrews. The factory will continue to be located at 1302 Wharf Street. The firm, which had its inception in the Nag Paint Company, and later known as the Williams and Harte Paint Company, has been manufacturing paint products here for more than a quarter of a century. The firm has handled some of the biggest painting contracts in the city. Growth of the Harte-Andrews company is to be attributed to unfailing adherence to the highest standards of quality and to a policy of moderate prices. Mr. Harvey commends optimistically on the prospects for 1933.

D. M. ("DON") HARVEY

APPOINTMENT IS MUCH DISCUSSED

Liberals Say Naming of Campbell to Canadian Tariff Board Partisan Move

Ottawa, Feb. 9. — Appointment of Milton Neil Campbell, Progressive member for Mackenzie, Sask., and a farmer by occupation, to the new tariff board has been the subject of much discussion in the corridors of Parliament. The argument revolves around whether it should be considered a partisan or a non-partisan appointment.

Liberals say there could scarcely be a more partisan selection. They say Mr. Campbell has supported the government right along. Conservatives on the other hand hail it as proof the government has risen above party considerations in naming a man outside the Conservative ranks.

The group made up of the United Farmers, Labor and Progressives, among whom Mr. Campbell has sat since he was first elected to the Commons in 1921, is divided. Some contend vigorously that his acceptance of a position at the hands of the government is a blow to the prestige of the group. Others are just as emphatic that it enhances the prestige of the Progressives and it gets man on the board who has low tariff tendencies and represetns the farmers.

The Parliamentary Guide, a volume published annually, says Mr. Campbell is a "Progressive, previously a Liberal." His record shows that while he generally voted with the rest of the group, either for or against the government, there were times when he supported the ministry while the majority of his confreres voted otherwise.

KING'S OPINION

The conflict over the appointment came to the surface in the Commons Tuesday afternoon when Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Liberal, Vancouver Centre, asked if it was to be considered as a non-partisan one or a recommendation of the C.C.F.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, who was leading the House at the time, said it was regarded throughout Canada as an "excellent appointment." This brought the retort from Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, that the Liberal Party felt "no more partisan appointment could possibly have been made."

Mr. King's remark is significant in that on previous occasions he had made it clear he would not consider himself bound, should he return to power, by the acts of a tariff board if partisans were named as members.

Saskatoon, Sask., Feb. 9.—The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation will undoubtedly nominate a candidate in the coming by-election in the Mackenzie constituency caused by the appointment of Milton N. Campbell to the tariff board, according to Frank Eliason, secretary of the United Farmers of Canada, which is affiliated with that organization. The provincial constituencies making up Mackenzie have been organized for the Farmer-Labor Party.

Officials of the Farmers' Party League would not state whether that organization would name a candidate. The constituency has been regarded as one of the strongholds of the more radical farmers' organization. W. E. Wiggins, secretary of the F.U.L., was nominated some time ago as a candidat in the provincial constituency of Pelly, which lies chiefly within the boundaries of the federal constituency of Mackenzie.

PUBLIC WORKS PLANS URGED

Canadian Press

Toronto, Feb. 9.—Immediate inauguration of extensive public works construction throughout Canada and formation of an advisory board under the Federal Government to assist such projects with banking service or direct financing, were recommended as a national necessity by a conference of representatives of the construction industries of Canada at the close of a three-day session here yesterday.

The body which brought down the recommendations was composed of representatives of eighteen national organizations interested in the construction industry.

FUTURE BENEFIT FROM PUBLICITY

When Times Grow Brighter, Present Work Will Yield Returns, Bureau Told

When countries were practicing "extravagant economy" as some were to-day, one thing was certain in the publicity business, the country which maintained its advertising would reap the benefit when times became brighter, J. C. Campbell, director of publicity for the National Parks Department at Ottawa, told members of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau at their luncheon in the ber of Commerce yesterday.

Mr. Campbell made the remark in the course of a brief address which preceded his showing of three fine new films taken by his department.

Although the organization he represented had felt the pruning knife, the government had not crippled it, since it was realized the national parks publicity branch had been responsible to a large extent in keeping Canadians at home to see the wonders of their own country and also in inducing outsiders to visit Canadian national parks.

He realized it was impossible to get everyone to visit national parks, but, he said, when he contacted prospective tourists who did not wish to go to parks, he did his utmost to have them come to such points as Victoria and other Canadian cities.

Following his remarks, he described three reels of film, "Hunting Without a Gun," "Here and There With the Birds of Canada" and "Strange Doings in Beaverland."

All showed exceptionally beautiful action pictures of the wild life of the Dominion, various types of animals and birds being filmed to advantage in the former two.

The latter, one of the Gray Owl series, showed the beaver in its natural habitat, engaged in making a winter home. The films were exceptionally well received.

A COLD Goes Thru 3 Stages!

And Relief Is Far Easier in the First Than in the Second or Third Stages!

A cold ordinarily progresses through three stages: the Dry Stage, the first twenty-four hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from one to three days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. The first stage is when treatment is most effective.

To stop a cold in the first stage, take Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It does the four things necessary. Opens the bowels, kills the germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and tones the entire system. Anything less than that is trifling with a cold. All drug stores sell Grove's Laxative BROM QUININE. Be sure you get that and nothing else. Now two sizes—30c and 50c. (Advt.)

PREMIER PUTS LOG IN PLACE

Replicas of Title Deeds to Saanich Presented by Premier Tolmie

Amid vigorous cheering by seventy members of the Saanich Pioneers' Society, Premier Tolmie yesterday afternoon rolled into place the first base log of the log cabin being erected at Saanichton as a memorial to pioneers. It is being built on a site donated by the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society and will form a fine addition to the exhibition group of buildings.

The log house will be 40 feet by 30 feet and will house a museum of relics of pioneer days of Saanich. The foundation and floor have been completed and speedy erection of the walls is expected.

After Premier Tolmie had placed the first base log into its mortised bed he presented the society with copies of two original deeds, now in the Provincial Archives, setting out the terms upon which the Indians of North and South Saanich sold the greater part of the district to the Hudson's Bay Company. The negotiations had been carried out in 1852 by James Douglas, who was later knighted and made governor of the colony. The title to South Saanich was transferred for a consideration of £41 13s 4d. In the title to North Saanich no consideration is stated. In both instances the Indians reserved selected locations for themselves and also were accorded perpetual hunting and fishing rights over the whole area granted the company.

Gifts promised the museum include spinning wheels, old Hudson's Bay axes, maple wood oxen yokes, old powder horns, fowling pieces that came round Cape Horn, iron ploughs and copies of public prints dating back to 1870.

PREMIER'S ADDRESS

"One of the greatest glories of a new country is its pioneers, and great credit is due your society in perpetuating the memory of the grand old pioneers of Saanich. In doing this you are doing honor to yourselves, and could perform no worthier task," Premier Tolmie said, in a brief address to the pioneers.

"It may be interesting to know that it is just a hundred years since my father landed on the Pacific Coast. There were no whites on Vancouver Island at that time, and only a few trading posts on the Mainland. It is almost unbelievable when we realize what tremendous progress has been made in the hundred years past, built on the sound foundation laid by the hardy pioneers. But this will be nothing in comparison with the great development which will take place in the next century.

"As a son of a pioneer, I am very much in sympathy with the aims of your society, and am delighted and honored to be with you. Comparing the work of the pioneer with that of the people of to-day, we are struck by the ability of the pioneer to take care of himself under all conditions. Consider what that courageous spirit and determination has done for this country, and where we would have been without the determination of the pioneer to succeed. Saanich has rightly been called 'The Garden of British Columbia,' and in my opinion will support a vast population in the future."

LIVING TOO FAST

The Premier told many reminiscences of earlier days, of the simple and kindly life of the pioneer settlers and the hardships they had to endure. The world, he said, had been living at too fast a pace, and would have to get back to the thrifty ways and neighborliness of the past, for a return of conditions under which all could thrive. He closed with a tribute to the work of the Saanich Pioneer Society in keeping alive the records of the past as an ever-present inspiration for the future, and handed over to President McDonald facsimiles of the original Douglas deeds.

Premier Tolmie was accompanied by Mrs. Leonard Andrews, Mrs. Fraser Tolmie, Wende Tolmie, John Hosie, provincial archivist, and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Wallace, Captain M. F. Macintosh, member for The Islands in the provincial Legislature, joined in wishing hearty good luck to the society in its undertaking to keep green the record and memory of Saanich pioneers. Harry Tanner, president of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Association, the oldest similar body in the province, extended sincere felicitations on behalf of that group.

EARLY SAANICH SETTLERS

As early as 1870 there was a pioneer society in Saanich. William Thomson, James Anderson, Thomas Michell, Solomon Dean, William Turgoose, John Haldon, Donald McDonald, Henry Simpson, Edwin John, James Hagan, William Reid, Henry Wain, Daniel Moses, J. J. Dawney, George Thomas, Samuel Roberts, Samuel Brethour, Richard John, Alphonse Verdier, Etienne Verdier, Xavier Marcotte, Geo. Mills, Duncan Lidgate, Archibald McTavish, J. T. McIlmoyl, and associates formed part of the original association, reorganized in 1922, and more actively carried on in the last few years.

The officers of the present Saanich Pioneers' Society include: Alex Thomson, past president; Alexander McDonald, president; Major A. D. Macdonald, vice-president; R. E. Nimmo, secretary; L. C. Hagan, treasurer; G. T. Michell, auditor, and building committee composed of John Malcolm, G. T. Michell and Frank Verdier. The officers and members of the present society, in many cases, are the sons and daughters of the original settlers who came to north and south Saanich areas to carve out a home for themselves sixty years ago.

Unable to be present at the logging bee, several pioneers of the district sent their best wishes for the enterprise, including Mrs. Mary A. Landover, Henry Brethour, J. T. McIlmoyl, said to be the oldest living pioneer in the district. Reeve William Crouch sent cordial good wishes on behalf of himself and the corporation of Saanich, being held by municipal duties from attending. Hon. William Atkinson was also invited, but could not attend.

TAKES LIFE SERIOUSLY

This little maid is looking serious because to-day she reaches her first milestone along life's highway. Flora Marjorie May is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Dunlop, 881 Ellery Street, Esquimalt, and granddaughter of Mrs. Florence Reeve, Ellery Street. She was born on February 9, 1933.

Local Council of Women Elect Mrs. C. Spofford

Charter Member Succeeds Miss Crease in Presidency of Organization at Annual Session Opened To-day; Presentation to Retiring Head Follows Review of Year's Activities

Mrs. C. Spofford was elected by acclamation to the presidency of the Local Council of Women at the annual meeting this morning, in succession to Miss Crease, who has retired from that office owing to ill health. Mrs. Spofford's election to the presidency crowns an active association with the council of thirty-nine years, she having been one of the charter members when Lady Aberdeen organized the Local Council at a meeting which filled the old Royal Victoria Theatre to capacity in 1894, and for a number of years has been convener of its committee on law for women and children.

Other officers chosen were: First vice-president, Mrs. W. J. H. Holmes, recording secretary, Mrs. Llewllyn Thomas; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. D. Todd; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Gibson.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Miss Crease in her annual address reviewed the difficult conditions through which the world was passing, and commented on the sympathy and humanitarian spirit which it had looked towards the unfortunate. Reference was made to the difficult problem facing the youth of the country, and the splendid initiative they were displaying in overcoming economic handicaps.

The visit to Victoria last year of Mme. Dreyfus-Barney and of the national president, Miss Winnifred Kydd, was touched upon. Miss Crease noted that her term of office was at the close, and she urged the council to do all in its power to co-operate with other organizations and councils in all matters pertaining to the common good.

"Thirty-seven years' experience in all phases of council work, both local and provincial, has taught me many things, for instance, the value of thoughtful discussion, and the absolute necessity of being sure of one's facts before making any statements," said Miss Crease before concluding with an expression of thanks to the executive for its loyalty, and of good wishes to her successor in the presidency.

MRS. C. SPOFFORD

PRESENTATION MADE

On behalf of the council, Mrs. Wm. Grant, a charter member, presented Miss Crease with a handsome handbag and an umbrella, accompanied by a charming corsage bouquet, in appreciation of her long and devoted services to the council.

REVIEWS ACTIVITIES

Mrs. W. D. Todd read the annual report, giving a comprehensive resume of the council's activities. She enumerated the change in the executive personnel during the year and spoke of Miss Kydd's visit. The various undertakings to raise funds, including the quilt and rug exhibit, and Dean Quainton's lecture were noted. The report also reviewed the various resolutions sponsored or endorsed by the council on questions of community, national or international interest.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

Mrs. J. W. Gibson presented the audited financial statement showing the total receipts to be $282.90 and disbursements $243.42.

Reporting for the mental hygiene committee, Mrs. C. V. Schofield raised the question as to what effect the present depression would have upon the mental stability of the coming generation. The baneful effects of fear and the reaction to anti-social attitudes were touched upon, the speaker noting that the prevalence of unemployment and the feeling of insecurity engendered by the present crisis had its reflection in an increase in the incidence of mental disturbances.

PSYCHOPATHIC WARD NEEDED

Victoria still awaits an adequate psychopathic ward, Mrs. Schofield claimed, and in this connection she paid tribute to the W.C.T.U. Home for the patient way it had cared for a number of mental cases among women.

Gratification was expressed of the improvements effected in the women's building and veteran's building at Essondale, many modern features having been incorporated for the benefit of the patients. Occupational training had also been instituted with excellent effect.

Mrs. Schofield touched upon the care of mental deficients, and the preventive work accomplished through the medium of psychiatric clinics, including that conducted here by Dr. W. A. Dobson of Vancouver. Several special classes for the benefit of retarded children here were also doing excellent work, she noted.

DELEGATES CHOSEN

The provincial annual meeting will be held in Victoria on Thursday, March 2, and delegates nominated included Mrs. Hugh Mackenzie, Mrs. W. J. H. Holmes, and Mrs. J. W. Gibson, in addition to Mrs. Spofford and Mrs. W. D. Todd.

At the commencement of business the Council passed a silent tribute to the memory of Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, Mrs. Dennis Harris and Mrs. J. A. J. McKenna, a former member of the Council.

Correspondence included a letter from Mrs. C. V. Schofield, resigning from the convenership of the mental hygiene committee; an invitation to the meeting of the Victoria Women's Institute at which Hon. W. A. Mackenzie will speak on the Tudor Rose League, also the agenda of the Provincial Council meeting.

Samaritan Inn Concert Shower

On Saturday evening an entertainment and provision shower in aid of the Samaritan Inn will be given at the Parish Hall, St. Paul's Garrisan Church, Esquimalt. The programme includes songs, instrumental music, recitations, display dances, conjuring tricks and a novelty shadowgraph entertainment. The artistes assisting Major and Mrs. J. A. P. Crompton, conveners, are Geo. Guy, C. von Storch, Mrs. R. P. Matheson, Misses Eileen MacPherson, K. Allan, Patricia Comerford and others.

The recent cold weather has made extra demands upon the hospitality of the inn, which is supplying nutritious hot meals free to the needy of the neighborhood. Saturday's concert, it is hoped, will replenish the larder, as admission will be by donations of provisions, groceries or cash.

P.E.O. Silver Tea—P.E.O. Chapter "I" will hold a silver tea on Saturday afternoon, February 11, at the Y.W.C.A. from 3.30 to 6 o'clock.

Luney and Miss Isobel Crawford, who rendered vocal solos, and Miss Gwen Harper and Miss Geraldine Paterson, piano solos.

Mrs. Alan Morkill, Pemberton Road, was hostess to Mme. Sanderson-Mongin's Cercle yesterday afternoon, when Count Jean de Suzannet gave a most interesting symposium on the tragic history of Napoleon's son, the Duc de Rome, basing his sketch on papers recently discovered in Austria, these revealing the efforts made to bring up the Duc de Rome in the confident belief that he was an Austrian. Even when it was fairly well known that he had discovered the secret of his father's identity, the pretence was still kept up, and the policy of rigid exclusion maintained up to the time of the Duc's death.

Miss J. H. Westwood of Port Alberni is spending a few days in Victoria. She is registered at the Dominion Hotel.

In honor of Miss Catherine Macdonald, who is visiting in Seattle, as the guest of Miss Jeannette Edris, Miss Edris will entertain at a dinner party on Saturday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Edris. The guests will later attend a dance that will be given by Miss Florence Brydon.

An enjoyable party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Calder, 82 San Juan Avenue, recently. The evening was spent in dancing and at midnight a buffet supper was served. The guests included: May Lewis, Lorna Doyle, Dora Lewis, Barrie Taylor, Julia O'Rourke, Margurite Nelson, Rebecca Black, Evelyn Bosence, Flo Logan, Bessie Foster, Ace Barkely, Ruby Dennett, Esther Corness; Messrs. Jack Rawlinson, Samuel Robertson, Leslie Entwhistle, Fred McCague, Fred Webb, Jack Stevenson, George Gay, Jack Williams, Richard Williams, Gavin Jack, Kenneth Rendell; Earle Sarsiat, Robert Johnson, Robert Riddler, George Rice, Fred Bourne and Gordon Bergston.

On Tuesday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Cave, 1572 Ryan Street, was invaded by a number of young friends who called to pay a surprise visit to their youngest daughter, Thelma, the occasion being her seventeenth birthday. Games and dancing were heartily enjoyed by all during the evening. A delightful sit down supper was served, during which Ken. MacDonald caused much amusement. The self-invited guests were: Thelma Cave, Vina Erskine, Eleanor Vye, Doris Clarke and Gladys Smith; Messrs. Ken. MacDonald, Melville Vout, Tom Wilson, Elfion Jones, Harold Williams, John Bray, Bill Clarke and Bill Cave.

Miss Marguerite Van Vooght entertained a number of friends yesterday afternoon at her home on Transit Road. The reception rooms were prettily arranged with bowls and baskets of daffodils and pussy-willows, while the tea table, presided over by Miss Margaret Fletcher and Miss Peace Cornwall, was lovely with its spring motif of daffodils and Oregon grape in a pale yellow glass bowl, illuminated by tall yellow tapers. Assisting the hostess in the serving were Misses Margaret Merrick, Norah Cornwall, Eleanor Muirhead and Peggy Pidcock. Miss Van Vooght's guests included Mrs. Hansen, Mrs. Keith Dorman and Misses Betty Sledge, Margaret Watson, Margaret Merrick, Peace Cornwall, Betty O'Brien, Eileen Cullum, Jean Findlay, Barbara Lloyd-Young, Norah Cornwall, Josephine Delves, Peggy Pidcock, Peggy Horn, Helen Hafris, Josephine Lloyd-Young, Margaret Fletcher, Evelyn Bonayia, Mable Brown, Vera Sharland, June Tyron (Parksville), Rhoda Goward, Virginia Goddard, Doreen Wilson, Kate Parker, Grace Genn, Dorothy Hornibrook, Betty Chadwick, Patricia Parter, Dorothy Stokes, Ruth Carey, Grace Burnett, Mollie Humphries, Lilian Ryan and Viva Brown.

Chapter Reviews Year Of Work; Blind Assisted

The Robert Burns McMicking Chapter I.O.D.E. re-elected Mrs. H. G. Bolt as its regent at the annual meeting held in the headquarters. Other officers chosen were: First vice-regent, Miss K. Gosse; second vice-regent, Miss Elsie Jenkins; secretary, Miss Claire Allen; educational secretary, Miss Doris Davey; Echoes secretary, Miss K. Tadman; treasurer, Miss Grace Mackintosh; standard bearer, Miss E. Cudlip; councillors, Misses Connie Chrow, Laura Todd, Gladys Sheret, Winnifred Hicks, Winnie Knapton, Pearl Barbour, Allison Chrow and Winnie Warburton.

The annual report was presented, which showed donations made to the following: Tillicum Brownies, child welfare work, bursaries for secondary education, Poppy Day, Boy Scouts, municipal hamper fund, seven Christmas hampers, and a destitute family in the Peace River district. The chapter has kept in touch with the two families which last year were assisted by a monthly donation of $5. They were also remembered at Christmas.

Among the affairs held during the year were displaying of articles made by the blind, a bazaar and bridge, and a social afternoon held at the Y.W.C.A.

Miss Doris Davey and Miss Pearl Barbour acted as secretaries pro tem during the secretary's absence due to illness. At the close of the meeting, members were entertained at tea by the retiring executive, under the convenership of Miss Allison Chrow.

Many Women Still Employed By Workroom

The need for sustained effort to ensure the continuance of the undertaking without any narrowing of the employment personnel was emphasized at the meeting of the Women's Workroom committee held Tuesday evening. Reports showed that wages amounting to over $1,200 were paid to the women employed there last month, and gratitude was expressed to the numerous friends and clients of the workroom products who had made this possible.

The store at 1232 Government Street has been reopened, the reports showed. It was announced the society had been successful in placing several women at work. The finance committee reported that $60 worth of human interest bonds had been disposed of since the last report.

Mrs. Alan Morkill, the president, was named delegate to the annual meeting of the Local Council of Women. Lettres of appreciation from the various organizations were read, the majority of these acknowledging gifts of clothes from the workroom for distribution as relief.

The entertainment committee reported that the Beaux-Arts would stage a play early in March, the proceeds from which would go to the workroom, and the committee recommended that everyone should do everything possible to assist with the sale of tickets.

NATIONAL ART EXHIBIT OPENS

Emily Carr of Victoria Among Western Artists; "Most Individual"

By MARIUS BARBEAU
For the Canadian Press

Ottawa, Feb. 8.—Canadian art feeds upon spiritual resources that are foolproof, for it keeps going forward in spite of depression and hard times. Not the least sign of reduced vitality can be observed at the eighth annual exhibition just opened at the National Gallery.

This is indeed the best and largest show of Canadian painting ever staged at the gallery, if we except the retrospective exhibition of last summer, during the Imperial Conference. Some observers recently had declared that the Canadian art movement had spent itself, after going round a closed circle of themes and personalities. But that was a mistake, and we have the proof here.

VICTORIA ARTIST

After acquainting ourselves with the unusually large number of younger artists or newcomers at the annual exhibition, we turn to those whom we have known and loved for years. Lismer, Toronto, whose "Nova Scotia Fishing Village" is outstanding and one of the best pictures he ever painted; Jackson, Toronto, whose three paintings are vital, and his Arctic picture, "Farm Haven," is in a new vein; Casson, Toronto, whose "House on Parry Sound" is perhaps his most attractive and mature composition; Lawren Harris, whose three pictures reach a bit farther in directions definitely his own; Elizabeth Wyn Wood, Toronto, with her statuesque "Linda" and again in a smaller treatment of the same subject in silver—this artist has to her credit perhaps the greatest individual success of the year; Emily Carr, Victoria, the most individual of all in self-expression, with two powerful silhouettes of totem poles and most Pacific landscapes; F. H. Varley, Vancouver, a great craftsman and aesthete, whose introspective mood prevails in "Dharana"; Charles Scott, Vancouver, with a brilliant "Al Fresco"; W. P. Weston, Vancouver, with his "Jotunheim"—a mountain top decoratively treated; James Henderson, Saskatchewan; Walker Phillips, Winnipeg, in his watercolors and engravings; and Albert Robinson, Montreal, in two colorful landscapes. This list might be prolonged.

Others are still represented here, rather retrospectively, who formerly stood at the forefront in every exhibition; Suzor Cote, Maurice Cullen, Jeffryes, and Homer Watson.

Before leaving these arcana of beauty and culture we read with delight the motto inscribed on an exquisite illumination on vellum, here exhibited by Grace Melvin, of the Vancouver Art School—it refers to life, but it means Canadian art: "For life is a pageant through which we move; each day has its own picture. There is the play of children; the knowledge of men and women and its fulfilment; the wisdom of later ages . . . all press on majestically, trailing with them the gifts of the journey."

SOLARIUM LINEN SHOWER SHORTLY

The Women's Auxiliary to the Queen Alexandra Solarium re-elected their officers by acclamation at the recent meeting, Mrs. Austin Gale remaining president; Mrs. R. M. Bird, secretary; Mrs. Wm. Peden, treasurer; Mrs. James Beveridge, convener of the knitting committee, and Mrs. Bird, sewing convener. Mrs. Peden is in charge of the annual linen shower which is to be held on February 16, 17 and 18, when hampers will be placed in the leading stores for the receipt of gifts. There is a very urgent need for sheets, crib sheets, draw sheets, bath towels and pillow cases, and any donations will be most gratefully welcomed.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

SICK CHILD SHOULD HAVE DOCTOR'S ATTENTION

The advice which is offered through a newspaper department of this type should be understood and classified. It is a common mistake for a mother to write me, rehearsing a long list of her baby's symptoms and demanding to know what is wrong with the child. One mother recently wrote that her child had "suffered aches and pains for eight months and she "just wondered" what was wrong.

NO MEDICAL ADVICE

Only recently a mother wrote, twitting me with the fact that, having had her child's cross-eyes fitted with corrective glasses, as I had suggested, after five years of constant wearing the eyes were still crossed. This upsets me greatly because it indicates so plainly what mothers expect of me. Yet this department periodically and emphatically states its limitations. It makes no pretense whatever of advising or diagnosing medical conditions.

The ailing child needs a doctor. I try to suggest this to mothers, when possible, where help can be found. If the mother is dissatisfied with the results of corrective glasses, she must so tell the oculist who fitted them or go to another eye specialist in whose advice she has more confidence. This department cannot hold itself responsible for such matters.

SEE THE DOCTOR

I feel it is a real mistake for mothers to try to ferret out the cause of their children's illnesses. A sick child, one with mysterious aches and pains, who looks and acts sick, needs medical attention. It merely wastes precious time to write to a newspaper department with the hope of receiving that sort of service.

But there are many things which I am eager to do for mothers. I enjoy giving advice on the general physical care designed to keep the baby and child well. I am glad to help with the feeding of the well child, suggesting formulas and setting the mother straight about modern diet requirements. I have leaflets with detailed instructions pertaining to the feeding of the well child at any age. Any leaflet is available to readers for only a self-addressed, stamped envelope. If the mother does not know the name of the leaflet, she may state her problem and take it for granted that I'll choose one of the hundred leaflets which will furnish her with the information she needs. If the leaflet fails to answer her specific question, I am always glad to write a personal letter, or answer her letter in the paper. It is to be expected that any question not suitable for publication or one demanding speedy help will of necessity be accompanied by a stamped, addressed envelope for my convenience in answering it.

ENLIGHTENING PARENTS

The questions of behavior, just normal behavior, are often confusing to parents. They need to know what children do which are natural to certain phases of growth, and what problems are definitely abnormal and demand intelligent treatment. Parents can't know too much and dare not be too smugly satisfied with what they know. One of the paramount obligations of any parent is to build up her information about the physical care of babies and children, and a knowledge of what constitutes good mental health and the attitudes which foster it. This department aims to furnish that information—no more, no less.

SEX IS KNOWN BEFORE BIRTH

California Doctors Find New Method of Determining Sex

Associated Press

San Francisco, Feb. 9.—Announcement of a new method of determining the sex of infants several months before birth was made here yesterday by Dr. John H. Dorn, assistant in obstetrics at the University of California school, and Edward I. Sugarman, chemist.

Dr. Dorn and Sugarman stated they had made eighty-five trials of their method and had been able to predict successfully the sex of the unborn child in eighty cases.

The method is based on the discovery of what may be two new hormones, which are believed to develop in the blood of expectant mothers. One hormone is present if the coming baby is a boy and the other is active if the unborn is a girl.

HALF MILLION FREE TREATMENTS

Vancouver, Feb. 9—Free treatment to the extent of half a million dollars was given to patients by the Vancouver General Hospital during the last year, it was reported at the annual meeting of the board of governors of that institution yesterday evening. Fifty-two per cent of the patients treated were indigents, it was stated.

Three retiring directors were re-elected, these being E. D. Carder, W. Fleck and J. H. McVety. T. S. Dixon was appointed a director by the board of governors.

W.C.T.U. Home Meeting—The board of directors of the W.C.T.U. Home held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon. Mrs. William Grant presided and led the devotional period. Those present were: Mesdames Grant, Wilson, Spofford, Hood, Sabiston, Russell and Brown. The resignation of Mrs. Saunby as a member of the board was received with regret. The visiting committee reported that the necessary repairs to the basement had been completed. A donation of clothing had been received from the Ready-to-help Circle of the King's Daughters. In order to relieve the secretary of some of her duties, Mrs. Russell was appointed assistant secretary. Mrs. Spofford and Mrs. Sabiston were appointed visitors for the month.

Soroptimist Club Discusses Projects

The Soroptimist Club of Greater Victoria held its usual supper and business meeting in the Y.W.C.A. Miss Lottie Bowron, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Miss Russell. During the repast each of the fifteen members present discussed some phase of the country she was chosen to represent, recalling an amusing anecdote or some piece of general knowledge which added much to the interest of the gathering.

At the business meeting which followed, the club made a further study of the digest of the federation convention held in Sacramento, Cal., last year, creating much interesting discussion. The major projects proposed for the local club were also discussed.

Plastic Surgeon Tells How Any Woman Can be Beautiful by Diet

Associated Press

Philadelphia, Feb. 9.—Any woman can be beautiful, according to Dr. J. Howard Crum, plastic surgeon of New York—But she must be willing to eat spinach.

"What you eat is the answer to how fast you age," Dr. Crum told delegates to the trade display and fashion show which continued here to-day. He then promised a beautiful complexion to any woman who would each day eat a generous portion of a thin-leafed vegetable, follow it with a goodly dose of spinach or carrots and top them off with a quart of milk.

"Worry and fear are to be avoided at all times," the surgeon advised. "Nothing detracts so much from your looks."

Most stage and screen beauties, he said, have "acquired their attractiveness."

Valentine Bridge—The Association of St. Ann's Former Pupils will hold the annual Valentine bridge and five hundred party on Monday evening next in St. Ann's Academy. There will be prizes for contract and auction bridge as well as for five hundred and players are asked to bring their own cards and scores. There will also be tombola prizes. A buffet supper will be served.

NOTHING is so sweet as Lyle's Golden Syrup—and yet so wholesome, so pure, so delicious.

Is it any wonder that everybody likes it, and that children literally love it? WOMAN TRADER NONAGENARIAN

Canadian Press

Kentville, N.S., Feb. 9. — Nova Scotia's oldest woman merchant, Miss Margaret A. Woodworth, is dead at the age of ninety. A daughter of King's County pioneers, she conducted a dry-goods business in Kentville for sixty years. Recently she was handicapped by ill-health and poor sight, and she closed her store temporarily to rest with friends at Canard. She was planning to re-open the store when a stroke caused her death.

Born at Centreville, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John B. Woodworth, she was a sister of the late Dr. W. S. Woodworth, for more than half a century one of the Annapolis Valley's leading physicians. She was a cousin of Sir Robert L. Borden and the late Sir Frederick Borden.

WRITINGS OF CONFUCIUS

"Do not do unto others what you would not like to have them do unto you."

Confucius (based on ancient portrait)

It is Confucius speaking, and if your fancy is large enough you may imagine him broadcasting the words 2,450 years ago.

Of course there were no radios at that time in China, or anywhere else, but Confucius knew the art of writing, and his words have been saved during the centuries. At this time there are more than 250,000,000 Chinese who follow, or try to follow, the way of life which was mapped out for them by this great thinker.

"Honor thy ancestors" was another rule set down by Confucius, and surely there is no civilized nation to-day which gives more honor than China to parents, grandparents and great-grandparents.

"To see the right, and not to do it, is to be a coward," says Confucius. Most Chinese try to do the right as they see it.

Confucius was born in the year we call 551 B.C. He was married at the age of twenty, and three years later started upon a career as teacher. When he was twenty-nine years old, he became governor of the city of Chung-tu, and later he held another public office.

Before he died at the ripe age of seventy-three, Confucius gathered together words of Chinese thinkers who had lived before him, and placed these writings with his own in the "Five Classics." After his death men who admired him composed the "Four Books." These nine volumes make up what has been called the "Bible of Confucius."

Confucius gave his thoughts to life on earth, rather than to life after death. He wanted people to be kind to one another, and to live in friendship. Such teachings have done much to help the Chinese.

On the other hand, the teaching about ancestors has been harmful in some ways. The Chinese have given too much honor, even worship, to those who have gone before them. This has caused "backward thinking," and it has done much to prevent progress in China.

SNOW CLEARS ON DUNCAN COURSE

Special to The Times

Duncan, Feb. 9.—The course of the Cowichan Golf Club, which has been covered with snow for about ten days, is now nearly clear, and playing will be resumed.

Improvements are being made. The ninth tee has been set back twenty-five yards, making this quite a long hole. The Cowichan River has behaved very badly back of the seventh green, and quite a lot of posts and cribbing have been put in where the river washed the bank away.

The Valentine dance and bridge at the Buena Vista, February 10, inst., promises to be a most successful affair. The proceeds will go towards the ladies' pavilion alterations.

A reconditioned motor has been placed in the car which draws the tractor, and the committee has authorized the purchase of an oversize radiator in place of the present small one.

The Man Hunters

By MABEL McELLIOTT

CHAPTER VIII

Drearily the girl regarded the stranger. "Jack Waring!"—where had she heard that name before? It meant nothing to Susan.

She tried to regain her composure. Waring seemed oddly at home. Having deposited his rakish panama hat on the empty desk he straightened his lilac-tinted tie and demanded again, still more jovially, "What's up? Can I help? Come, tell papa all about it!"

If the ruination of the freshly typed sheet of bond paper in the letter press had not already engrossed the girl's mind she might have smiled at this sally. As it was she could only stare at him with dewy eyes which threatened at every instant to brim over again. "By jingo, the girl's a beauty," said Jack Waring, half to himself. Susan, confused, caught the ghost of a grin hovering on the thin lips of the observer, Pierson, who had emerged from the office vault.

Waring bowed royally. "Delighted, I'm sure. Quite an addition to our happy little family. And now can I help the little lady?"

Although Susan hated being called "little lady" above all things she could not deny that the purring softness of Mr. Waring's voice had a soothing quality. Besides she was utterly overcome by the fiasco of the copied letter. So she extended it to this man, saying quietly, "It's spoiled. Ruined. And I did try—"

Her self-control threatened to desert her. Sheer tragedy it seemed to Susan, that the beautifully neat and corrected sheets, already signed by the exquisite flourish of the absent Mr. Heath, should be destroyed by her error. In youthful despair she was ready to resign, feeling herself disgraced.

"Oh, is that all?" Waring's laugh somehow reassured her.

"Let me look at it." He took the limp sheets from her hand and gazed at them intently.

"Here!" Susan's eyes followed him fascinated as he led the way to her desk.

"Only the first sheet is spoiled," he said rapidly. "Copy it over. Let me see the book."

She gave it to him and he smiled. "This darn thing's all right," he observed. "All you have to do is type the first sheet over. Quick—before the boss gets back! We'll pop 'em into an envelope and nobody the wiser."

Susan gasped. Waring's eyes twinkled at her. "It's as easy as that," he cried. "Hop to it. He's lunching at the club with old Sayres. I passed them ten minutes ago and they hadn't got to desert. Hurry, and I'll check it with you as soon as you've finished."

Feverish with eagerness, Susan obeyed. Her fingers flew over the familiar keys. With the obliging newcomer she checked the figures and found them correct. Then she folded the letter and prayerfully stamped it, and with a thankful heart cast it into the slot beside the elevator. Just in time, too, because the punctilious Mr. Ernest Heath emerged from the car as she turned to walk away.

"Finished that shall copying?" he asked, adjusting his eye-glasses.

Susan nodded. "It's gone," she murmured.

Mr. Heath looked pleased. "Good, he approved firmly. "Good."

"I can't be fired," she told herself. "I mustn't."

As the days passed Susan slipped into a fixed and demanding routine. From the moment Ernest Heath arrived in the morning, crisply and immaculately dressed, her time, her thoughts, were his. The little world of the office with its soft carpets, its cool breezes straying in from the lake, its ink-wells and blotters and neat, ordered way, completely absorbed her. Aunt Jessie and her nagging complaints were far away. So was the tiny cottage on the shabby street.

Susan learned many things. She learned how an unimportant caller may be courteously turned away and how an important one may be wooed to linger if early for an appointment. She learned how to keep the difficult Pierson in good humor and how to please her just but demanding employer.

One thing she could not seem to master. That was the problem of keeping Mr. Jack Waring in what Aunt Jessie would have called "his place."

Jack Waring, thirty-eight, divorced, agreeable, fond of dancing, sport cars and feminine companionship, refused to believe Susan would not flirt with him.

Waring was not used to being snubbed. In fact, he didn't know what snubs were. He turned an invincible armor to them. He laughed at slings. Susan seemed to him a delectable piece of femininity, incredibly innocent, a toy to be played with. She provided a piquant sauce for his sophisticated palate.

Her very difference from the women he knew interested an attracted him. Some days he would scarcely have called her pretty. Her skin was ordinarily too pearl-pale to win his admiration. But those eyes of hers, so melliluously eloquent, black and grey by turns! That dark, soft curling mass of hair and those childishly pink lips, untouched by lip salve. That deliciously merry laugh! All these enchanted and exasperated him.

Jack Waring had been married young—at twenty-two—to a girl he had extravagantly adored. At thirty-five he had gone through the painful and disillusioning business of the divorce courts. He had been fiercely and angrily wounded both in his pride and his love. He had for the space of six months thought that life was a futile and grievous burden. Then abruptly, to the surprise and delight of his friends, he had taken a new lease on living. He had decided to laugh at the slings and arrows, had shaken off seriousness and had begun ardently to pursue pleasure. Light amours were his, snatched kisses. He had become a dancing man after thirteen years of sturdy and rather monotonous domesticity. He had come to enjoy the novel sensation of being free.

Susan seemed to Waring a pretty and welcome diversion. He could not be made to understand that to her the snatched kiss and murmured compliment in office hours were things to be despised.

His continued cheerful pursuit in the face of rebuffs never failed to astonish her. When he should have been hurt and angry he merely smiled. Susan became adept in the art of avoiding him. When he sought tete-a-tetes with her in her little cubicle she always made an excuse to leave. And Waring continued to smile at her—a sly, wise, rather cynical smile which seemed to say, "All women are alike."

He thought her scruples merely silly and childish. A kiss was a kiss, nothing more. All the sweeter if stolen. Susan thought flirtation on the sly both undignified and stupid. She said so.

Jack Waring merely laughed. "You're still in the baby stages, sweetie. Some day you'll wake up, and then—"

"Yes. And then?" Susan was prim, but Eve's curiosity danced in her eyes.

The man shrugged. He reached for the slim, long-fingered hand that lay on the desk before him. Susan gasped. "Do stop teasing me. You promised!"

"All right. But you must come out with me one day. How about the races on Saturday? Driving out with some people. Like to show you to them, you pretty thing, you."

A flag flared in the girl's cheeks. Dangerous talk, this, for a man to pour into the ears of young-and-twenty. Susan didn't know how to answer. It wasn't what she had dreamed of, love from the lips of a man jaded and disillusioned, but it was more tempting than she dared to admit. And what, after all, had she to do on Saturday? Oh, she would have a sandwich and a glass of milk on the way home. She would sway wearily from a strap in the packed and crowded street car and spend the rest of the afternoon ironing and darning the stockings Aunt Jessie had saved for her.

All around her in the expectant bustle of downtown's half holiday girls would be clinging to their escorts. Girls in white, their bathing suits bundled in brief cases. Girls in floppy hats. Girls with carmined lips going to the beaches, the parks, the amusement places. She, Susan Carey, would be alone.

She wondered even as she answered this man slowly and deliberately why she hesitated. There was something in her blood warning her against him though her pulses leaped to the temptation. She was young. She was alive and eager. It was little fun to spend her free time alone as she usually did or, worse still, listening to Aunt Jessie's complaints.

"Why don't you answer me, miss? Getting above herself she is, since she's got a job. Forgets that I raised her!" Aunt Jessie's voice raised to a whine, would drone on and on. Yes, Jack Waring's company would be a change from this.

Still she refused. "Not this time," she said. She fibbed, "I'm busy Saturday."

Unacknowledged and in the back of her brain lay the admission that she would not dare go for fear of what Mr. Ernest Heath might say. His lean, aristocratic face rose before her. She thought of the distaste his fine eyes would express if he heard she was "gadding 'round" with Jack Waring. It would seem to cheapen her, Susan felt. Other girls did it—yes. Somehow she could not.

But Waring was not finished with her yet. Impudently he put his shaven, mocking face so close to Susan's that she could smell the scent of the lilac lotion he used. "Watch out," he whispered. "We Warings usually get what we want."

A voice broke in on the tableau. Ernest Heath's voice. Sarcastic and cold as ice it fell on Susan's horrified ears.

"Very charming, indeed! And now I should like to know what's going on here if you're not too busy to tell me!"

Scarlet, aghast, Susan leaped to her feet.

She was speechless. No words came to her defence. She twisted her hands, looking in her angry innocence the very picture of guilt.

Ernest Heath's thin lips drew together in a straight, forbidding line. He strode into the private office without another glance at the girl. Over his shoulder he threw these words: "I'd like to see you at once, Waring. Alone."

Horoscope

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1933

Good and evil planetary influences conflict to-day, according to astrology. It is a day in which to watch all the loose ends and to take special precautions.

In the morning hours the stars may incline toward a too sanguine point of view where important enterprises are to be launched.

The mind is supposed to be intensely awake and the imagination is likely to be too vivid. Promoters and salesmen should benefit, but all who buy should be careful.

This is not an auspicious away for those who have depended on promises of positions or appointments. Persons who control the destinies of their less fortunate brothers may be difficult to approach.

It is not a lucky day for those who look for work of any sort, although beginnings in the way of taking first steps toward coveted employment are well directed.

Banks and bankers continue under a direction of the stars that is most promising, and it is likely that borrowers may be lucky.

Inasmuch as hit-or-miss business methods are to be eliminated along with speculation among average merchants and manufacturers, the future seems to be most encouraging.

This is not a favorable sway under which to sign leases or contracts, partnership agreements or other legal papers.

Newspapers should have heavy sales while this configuration prevails, for sensational news of widest interest is pressed.

As the day closes there are signs most fortunate for those who assume high offices or heavy responsibilities. Young men are to gain quick fame within the decade, astrologers prophesy.

Education is to be a topic of discussion and it is to be more and more encouraged, for knowledge is to rule as never before, it is foretold.

Fashions are to reveal many changes that symbolize the thought of practical designers and beauty is to be more and more valued, it is announced.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of good fortune. The year should be a happy one.

Children born on this day probably will be fond of adventure as well as devoted to whatever calling they choose.

HOLD INQUEST AT LADYSMITH

Ladysmith, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Jane White Smillie, twenty-nine, met death here with tragic suddenness yesterday morning while in the act of hanging out clothes. She was assisting a neighbor with the washing and in reaching for the clothesline stretched from a veranda at the top of a flight of steps, lost her footing and plunged to the bottom, sustaining a fractured neck.

She was the wife of Mr. A. K. Smillie and leaves two small sons.

An inquest will be held Friday morning.

Uncle Wiggily And The Skating Swan

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

"Well, I guess that spoils our skating," said Hisser, the swan, as he, with Uncle Wiggily and the three duck children, hurried to the shore of the duck pond, leaving the bear floundering in the water where the Bad Chap had broken through a hole in the ice. "I shall never learn to skate now."

"Oh, yes, you will," said Uncle Wiggily.

"How?" asked the Swan. "Isn't the ice all broken by that bad Bear who came sliding along trying to catch you?"

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Instead of catching me he is going to catch a cold, I think."

"He surely will get the sniffle snuffles if he stays much longer in that freezing cold water," quacked Alice Wibblewobble.

"Id bakes be shiver to look ad 'im!" quacked Lulu, speaking in this funny way as if she had a cold in her head. What she meant to say was "It makes me shiver to look at him."

"Then don't look!" quacked Jimmie, the duck. "I guess that old Bear will be glad enough to run home and get warm and not bother us any more when we are skating."

"But how can you skate, Jimmie, when there is such a big hole in the ice?" asked the Swan. "Goodness knows I am anxious enough to learn how to skate and I don't mind falling in the water though it is cold at this time of year. But you can't skate over a hole in the ice."

"We can go on the other side of the pond where there is no hole," quacked Lulu. "Often the ice breaks on one side of the pond and we go to the other side where it's safe. We can do that now."

"Can we, Uncle Wiggily?" asked the Swan.

"Oh, yes," answered the rabbit gentleman. "We'll all go over to the other side where the ice is hard and safe. There goes the old Bear!" he added. For by this time the Bad Chap had managed to scramble out on top of the ice by sticking his claws in the edges of the broken hole.

Then, slishing and sloshing, with water dropping off his fur, the Bear shuffled back to his den, grilling and growling to himself and casting mean looks at Uncle Wiggily.

"Hurray!" quacked Jimmie, the duck. "Now everything's going to be fine and dandy."

"But Uncle Wiggily looks sad," spoke Alice.

"Why?" quacked Lulu.

"It's about my gold ring which my wife gave me for Christmas," said the rabbit gentleman. "It must have dropped down through the hole in the ice when I was fastening on Hisser's skates."

"Oh, I'm sorry! It was all my fault!" spoke the big Swan bird. "But I'll get your gold ring back for you, Uncle Wiggily."

"How?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"I'll stand on the edge of the hole where the Bear broke through the ice," said the Swan. "I am not as heavy as he is so I will not crack the ice any more. And when I stand there I can reach down under the water and pick your ring up off the bottom."

"You'll get cold and wet," said Alice.

"Water cannot get through the thick, oily feathers about my neck," said the Swan. "And my neck is so long that I can easily reach the bottom of the pond as I do my own pond in summer when I get grass and roots off the bottom to eat."

"But can you see under water to pick up my gold ring?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"Oh, yes," answered the Swan. "I can open my eyes under water and see nearly as well as I can on land. Else it would do me no good to go grubbing in the mud on the bottom of the pond for roots to eat. I shall soon get back your gold ring for you, Uncle Wiggily."

"Oh, if you only can!" murmured Mr. Longears.

Spreading his wide, black webbed feet, Hisser, the swan, stood on the edge of the ice hole. He reached his long neck deep into the water, delved about with his beak in the mud on the bottom and when he saw Uncle Wiggily's gold ring glittering there, he picked it up in his bill and gave it back to the rabbit gentleman.

"Oh, thank you!" exclaimed Mr. Longears. "Now we can all go skating. Come along, Hisser."

"Do you think I can learn?" asked the Swan.

"We'll all help you learn!" quacked the duck children. At first the Swan slipped and fell down many times. But at last he found out how to balance himself on the skates and by afternoon he was skating as well as the duck or the rabbit. Hisser was very happy and said he was going to skate all winter. And I think he did.

Now if the chopping knife will mix up some olive oil and vinegar to give the head of cabbage a salad shampoo, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's snow shovel.

Salt Spring Island

Ganges, Feb. 9.—The annual meeting of the Ganges Chapter I.O.D.E. was held at the home of Mrs. V. Best. The regent, Mrs. W. E. Scott was in the chair and the following members present: Mesdames E. Walter F. L. Crofton, J. Taylor, D. K. Crofton H. Johnson, T. P. Speed, A. J. Eaton W. Stacey, J. Mouat, C. H. Popham C. E. Beddis, V. C. Best, C. S. Mackintosh, E. Moorhouse and Misses E. Walter and D. Beddis.

Reports and balance sheet for the year's work were presented by the secretary and treasurer, Mrs. E. Walter and Mrs. F. L. Crofton.

Officers were re-elected as follows: Honorary regent, Mrs. Curtis Samson, Victoria; regent, Mrs. W. E. Scott; first vice-regent, Mrs. V. C. Best; second vice-regent, Mrs. T. P. Speed; honorary secretary, Mrs. E. Walter; treasurer, Mrs. F. L. Crofton; standard-bearer, Mrs. Elliott; educational secretary, Mrs. E. Moorhouse; echoe's secretary, Mrs. C. E. Baker.

Here's the secret of A sunny disposition

LOOK around at your friends. Isn't it a fact that those who are happy and cheerful are folks who enjoy good health? The two go together.

Poor health reflects itself in your manner to other people. Too often, lack of personality can be traced to constipation. It may cause loss of appetite and energy. Yet it can be overcome by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. ALL-BRAN also contains twice as much blood-building iron as an equal weight of beef liver.

Special cooking, flavoring and krumbling processes make Kellogg's ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. You will find it far more pleasant to enjoy a cereal in place of taking patent medicines. So much wiser too.

Two tablespoonfuls daily of ALL-BRAN will overcome most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. At all grocers, in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

"When you're healthy, you're happy"

"How you feel — and how well you look — depends largely upon the food you eat. Be sure your diet is balanced — with sufficient 'bulk' to promote regularity."

all Boy Who Doubts His Love for Fiancee Get Married Anyway?—Woman Whose Husband Denies Her All Household Conveniences

EAR MISS DIX—I am twenty-one years of age, engaged to be married to a girl of twenty. We are to be married very soon and I find that I am as madly in love with her as I thought I was. She is a nice girl and I very fond of her and I hate to rt her, but I get to wondering if won't hurt her more by marrying without loving her. I hate to think her giving me her all when I can e her so little. Besides, I am in t and have a big doctor's bill to for an operation I have recently e through. I have told her all , but still she wants to go on and married. Whatever way I do, I feel like a cad, but which is the t way so to hurt her the least?

WORRIED.

Answer—The most mistaken ge- ure of gallantry that a man ever akes is when he marries a girl f whom he has got tired and hom he has ceased to love.

t is the cruelest thing a man can because it dooms a woman to life- g misery, because no man can keep a pretense year after year of loving oman to whom he is indifferent, who has, oftener than not, become re- nant to him because she is the symbol of a sacrifice that he has come to ret.

Yet many men commit this supreme folly because they lack the courage o hurt a girl whom they have once loved, and hate to humiliate her by itting her. They forget that the wound that they would inflict on a girl y breaking off with her before marriage is as nothing to the daily heart- reak it would be to her to know herself an unwanted wife, and that it ould be far more mortifying to her to be dragged through the divorce ourts than it would be to have her wedding called off.

It takes a lot of love to make marriage endurable. It takes a lot of love make a man and woman willing to sacrifice for each other, to make them ling to toil for each other, to enable them to overlook each other's little lits and peculiarities and to like them just because they are John's or Mary's ys. Without love a man is bound to resent the burdens matrimony lays on him. He resents the shackles that tie him to his own hearthstone when would like to step out of an evening. He resents seeing his money go for usehold expenses instead of being able to spend it on himself. And every- ng his wife does gets upon his nerves.

And a woman's reactions to her unloved husband are just the same. She whines and complains over having to cook and wash and scrub to make her husband comfortable. She is peevish and fretful because she has to stay at home and take care of the children. She can pick a quarrel and start something over everything her husband does and says, and life to her is just cinders, ashes and dust.

Love is the only thing that will make a marriage go. And so I think that either a man or a woman find out, even at the very altar, that he or she s ceased to love the party of the other part, the only honest and honorable d kind thing to do is to turn back and break off the marriage.

It is no use to delude yourself with the idea that you can camouflage love and that by sacrificing yourself you can deceive either a husband or wife into thinking that you love him or her. It can't be done. Not even sentimental Tommy could do it, or fool his wife, even when he would think "this is the time a man who loved his wife would kiss her or call her darling or put his arm around her."

Love is intuitive. It knows things by the grace of God without being told. needs no thermostat to measure the warmth of a kiss. It needs no lie- tector to tell when a man's vows of devotion come from his heart or his s. There is never a woman in the world so dull but who does not know actly how much her husband really cares for her.

And then there always comes the inevitable tragedy when the man or woman, who merely endure their wife or husband, meet some one with whom they fall madly, passionately in love, and then there are three heart- breaks instead of one heart with merely a dent in it.

Don't let a maudlin sympathy make you marry a girl you are tired of. It cruel kindness.

DOROTHY DIX.

* * * * * *

EAR MISS DIX—What do you think of a husband who in this modern age denies his wife all household conveniences, although he is amply able provide them? I have been married thirty years, have reared a large family, d have done all my housework, such as cooking, washing, ironing, sewing, aking, scrubbing, even attending to the furnace. I have never had a gas range. ve had to cook over a coal fire during the most sultry days of summer. hat do you advise me to do to better conditions for myself?

A FAITHFUL WIFE.

Answer—My remedy for your trouble is very simple, but I guarantee that it will work. Go on a shopping orgy. Put on your hat and go downtown and buy all the latest mechanical contrivances that take the slavery out of housework and that save a woman's back and her temper and her nerves.

Perhaps your husband will raise Cain about it at the beginning, but you n make a neat comeback by asking him if he hasn't got all of the latest oor-saving devices in his business. He doesn't go down to his store or office iving behind old Dobbin. He doesn't have all of his letters written out oriously in long hand. He has typewriters and dictaphones and multigraphs d elaborate card-index systems and he has the latest machinery, or else he s fallen hopelessly behind his competitors and is headed for bankruptcy.

Well, just tell him that your work is just as important as his, and that you can't run a house efficiently without a proper equipment any more than he can run a business, and after he has grumbled awhile he will be as proud as punch of all the new electrical servants you have installed.

But I haven't many tears to shed over any woman who permits herself to the victim of her husband's unreasoning selfishness. It is always her own ult when she lets a man impose upon her. If she had the spunk of a worm. e would turn and put up a fight for her rights, and she would get them.

And just remember, dear lady, that no man has any respect for a door- mat wife. Look about you and you will see that the cherished wives are those who force their husbands to go fifty-fifty with them.

DOROTHY DIX.

* * * * * *

EAR MISS DIX—My problem is this: I have kept company with a man for seven years and although he calls once a week, he never proposes even mentions marriage. I am very much in love with him and would very grateful if you would tell me how to make him pop the question.

HOPEFUL.

Answer—You certainly must be one of the world's greatest optimists if you can still remain hopeful about a man who had not reached the proposing point in seven years. Believe me, daughter, a woman has got in her work sooner than that, or she never gets it in.

Nobody can tell you how to make that kind of man pop the question cause he is not in love with you and has no intention whatever of marrying u, and his coming to see you every week is no indication that his attentions ve any intention. He probably likes your mother's cooking, and he finds u an interesting and agreeable companion, and your house is a pleasant ace in which to spend an evening. But that is all. Nothing doing any rther.

Better wafe such a man out into the air and centre your interest on some man who is better husband material.

Ganges, Feb. 9—A delightful afternoon was spent February 2 when Mrs. A. J. Eaton placed her spacious rooms at the disposal of members of the Ganges Chapter I.O.D.E. for a musical and social reception. Mrs. Eaton and Mrs. V. C. Best arranged a vocal and instrumental programme. Piano selections were given by Mrs Kittan, Mrs. W. M. Palmer and Mrs. Raymond Rush, vocal solos by Mrs. A. Scoones and Kenneth Eaton, vocal duets by Mrs. J. D. Halley and Mrs. A. H. Robinson.

Little Miss June Mitchell danced. Tea was served under the convenership of Mrs. C. S. Mackintosh, Mrs. H. Johnson, Mrs. A. J. Eaton and Miss D. Beddis, assisted by Edna Morris, Kay Dane and Sheila Taylor. A silver collection was taken for the benefit of the National Stewart Endowment Fund, which amounted to over $20. Among those present were: Mesdames H. Ruckle, A. Davis, A. Ruckle, A. Meuhinnick, C. H. Cullington, T. M. Jackson, E. H. Lawson, G. Aitken, J. Mitchell, F. L. Crofton, W. E. Scott, D. K. Crofton, P. BRIDGE ACTION IS DEFERRED

Port Alberni Council Refers Third Avenue Plans to Works Committee

Special to The Times

Port Alberni, Feb. 9.—Third Avenue bridge again occupied the attention of the council on Monday. The government bridge expert who had been asked to survey the bridge and make a report, informed the council by letter that his inspection was necessarily incomplete because of old timbers and other debris still lying at the bottom of the ravine since a portion of the bridge crashed to the ground two months ago. The engineer was of the opinion, however, that the portion still standing is not in very good shape as it is too light, the bracing is not stiff enough and several of the timbers are rotted at their bases. For that reason he would not recommend that the old portion be used. If an entirely new bridge is anticipated, he recommended that a pile structure be given consideration and suggested a traffic way 12 feet wide and sidewalk 4 feet wide. Later, if necessary, the sidewalk could be put outside the railing and a regulation 16-foot traffic way made.

After considerable discussion the whole question was referred to the works committee, which will remove the old timbers to permit the engineer to make a further inspection.

Taking exception to the manner in which the minutes of last week's council had been taken, Alderman Stone and Alderman Jones were successful in passing a motion that the minutes be not adopted until amended to properly cover the proceedings of the meeting in question.

Last week the finance committee brought in a report embodying eleven recommendations, each of which was dealt with singly and passed or rejected on individual merit.

Alderman Stone moved that the minutes as read be not adopted, but that an amended set of minutes be drawn up to properly cover the proceedings of the last meeting. The motion passed.

This phase of the proceedings was interesting because of the fact that most of the clauses referred to call for reductions of from 10 to 20 per cent in civic salaries, the total elimination of aldermanic indemnities and other economy moves.

By-law No. 327, allowing a discount of 6 per cent on prepaid taxes, was adopted and passed. By-law No. 328, authorizing the borrowing of a sum of $10,000 to carry on current expenditures for destitute relief, was introduced and passed its preliminary readings, as also did By-law No. 329, which authorizes the borrowing of $20,000 for the current lawful expenditures of the municipality.

Nanaimo

Nanaimo, Feb. 9.—Mrs. K. E. Spencer was elected secretary of the I.O.D.E. for the eighteenth consecutive season at the annual meeting, when other officers elected were: Regent, Mrs. C. H. Barker (re-elected); first vice-regent, Mrs. H. Wetton; second vice-regent, Mrs. N. Roy; treasurer, Mrs. J. Hart; secretary, Mrs. K. E. Spencer; education secretary, Miss E. Dobeson; Echoes secretary, Mrs. Munroe; standard bearer, Mrs. V. Fawcett; executive committee, Miss Hogarth, Mrs. A. Johnston, Mrs. A. E. Plants, Mrs. W. W. Lewis, Mrs. J. Neen, Mrs. J. H. Hawthornthwaite, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. L. M. Voitkevic, Mrs. T. P. Morton, Mrs. J. Edge-Partington. New members admitted to the order were Mesdames Forester, Pritchard and C. Baker. Reports of the year's activities were read by the regent and secretary.

Funeral rites for the late Mrs. James Lister were held from Jenkins Limited Parlors Monday afternoon. The services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Welch. The following acted as pallbearers: Mayor J. Barsby, P. Rowbottom, E. Devlin, H. Wallbank, J. McFarlane and J. Kneen. Interment took place in the family plot, Nanaimo cemetery.

NEW CASE ROOM FOR HOSPITAL

Directors of Cowichan Hospital Association Decide to Call for Tenders

Duncan, Feb. 9.—The annual meeting of the Cowichan Hospital Association was held in the I.O.O.F. Hall Tuesday evening with E. W. Neel, chairman of the board of directors, presiding. The chairman gave a comprehensive report of the work since the association took the hospital over from the King's Daughters in January last year.

K. F. Duncan, chairman of the finance committee, presented the financial statement and balance sheet. The mortgage of $10,000 on the nurses home has been reduced by $1,000, and a frigidaire has been purchased and added to the equipment of the hospital. The board is contemplating the building of a new case room out of the money obtained at the recent community hospital bazaar. The plans are ready and tenders will be called at once.

H. Graham, chairman of the house committee, gave his report and mentioned many changes which are under consideration.

The board of directors numbers fifteen, and fourteen nominations were received prior to the meeting in accordance with the constitution. The chairman announced that he would like this vacancy to be left so they could fill it during the year. Seven were elected for a two-year term, as follows: Miss Baron, Mrs. Gibb, K. F. Duncan, E. W. Neel, L. F. Solly, H. L. Whittaker and W. Prest. The other seven, elected for one year, were G. A. Cheeke, W. Cook (Chemainus), H. Hardinge (Lake Cowichan), S. R. Kirkham, E. H. Paterson, R. A. Thorpe and John Fox.

The tanning industry in Canada is centred chiefly in Ontario, about eighty-six per cent of the total output being from that province.

Canada Shines More Than Ever

Men Use More Shoe Polish and Wives Put Gloss on Floors.

"There is a report on production which appears to demonstrate the spirit of the Canadian. When he had experienced two years of depression he buttoned up his coat and slicked himself up a little more to face the world outside as best he could," says a report from the Dominion Bureau statistics. "He polished his shoes more than he ever did. The good lady at home got busy too and made her floors shine like a mirror. Between them they made things look pretty nice.

"Actually in 1931 the production of shoe polishes had a value of $306,531 as compared with $290,943 in 1930, while floor waxes and polishes increased from $528,995 to $723,148. Metal polishes rose from $96,192 to $97,243.

"Of course some things had to be let go a little bit. The kitchen stove had to have more elbow grease than the artificial variety and the parlor mantel titivated with the same application. Furniture polish production dropped from $258,100 to $188,178, stove polishes from $158,490 to $137,961, and auto polishes from $48,752 to $40,224. These are all factory values."

Harold Husband Head Of Bureau

Directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, following their election at yesterday's annual meeting, named Harold Husband their president for the 1933 term.

He succeeds Herbert Anscomb, who was elected an honorary director when he refused to allow his name to stand in the regular list of nominees for the directorate.

Minimum charge, $2.50.

Births, $1.00 per insertion.
Marriages, $1.50 per insertion.
Deaths, $1.50 first insertion and $1.00 succeeding insertions.
Funeral notices, In Memoriam notices and Card of Thanks, $1.50 per insertion.

In computing the number of words in an advertisement, estimate groups of three or less figures as one word. Dollar marks and all abbreviations count as one word.

In estimating the number of lines in an advertisement, count five words for the first two lines and seven words for each line thereafter. This is not an absolute guide to the number of lines much depending on the length of the individual words.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one issue. Any claim for rebate on account of errors or omissions must be made within thirty days from the date of the same, otherwise the claim will not be allowed.

Advertisers who desire it may have replies addressed to a box at The Times Office and forwarded to their private address. A charge of 10c is made for this service.

Subscribers wishing their addresses changed should notify this office as well as the carrier. If your Times is missing, phone E7522 before 8 p.m., and a copy will be sent by special messenger.

Leaves Legacy For Care of Cat

Associated Press

Wichita, Kas., Feb. 9.—Davie, a fifteen-year-old cat, and Bimbo, a dog found guarding the body of Mrs. Mary Virginia McGuire after her death, were not forgotten in the will of their mistress.

Mrs. McGuire, an elderly recluse, willed Mrs. Elizabeth B. Hutchinson, Eureka Springs, Ark., $300 to be used in supporting the cat throughout the remainder of its life.

Thomas R. French, Colorado Springs, will receive the dog.

BUY-IN-CANADA FAIR IN MONTREAL

Canadian Press

Montreal, Feb. 9.—Reminding buyers they could not invest their money in anything better or safer than the commodities of this country, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, yesterday evening officially opened the sixth national Produced-in-Canada Exhibition here.

There was no likelihood prices would go any lower now, but there was a distinct probability they would go higher, Mr. Stevens declared.

WIFE BEATER ESCAPES LASH

Sentence of Cleric Who Pioneered Northern B.C. Ranch Cut by Appeal Court

"My Authority Belittled," He Gives as Excuse; Uses Wire Whip, Strap and Axe

Albert Boyd, former cleric, who left his profession in the church to pioneer in northern British Columbia and carve a 1,000-acre ranch out of the wilderness not far from Prince George, will not have to undergo the five lashes at the New Westminster Penitentiary to which he was sentenced in addition to a two-year term for wife-beating.

Boyd was taken back to Oakalla jail to-day after the Court of Appeal had cut the two-year sentence imposed by the county judge to one year and relieved him of the lashes penalty.

SOUGHT SUSPENDED SENTENCE

He asked the court for suspended sentence, promising he would stay away from his wife and the five children he has raised on the northern ranch since he brought his bride out west to take up the land nineteen years ago. Before he became an ordained cleric, he had for years been a Salvation Army officer in the slum districts of Toronto. He said he wanted the judges to let him off so he could go back to work the farm, operate the produce business he has established to enable the ranchers of the area to market their produce and to support his wife and five children, although he would stay away from them.

Records before the court showed Boyd had been found guilty in the lower court of beating his wife and children with a strap with a buckle on it, with a wire whip which he kept on the ranch to protect the family from a ferocious Holstein bull, and by throwing an axe at them. He had been convicted on eight such counts altogether.

Boyd told the justices that he had taken to wife-beating because "my authority was belittled" and he became enraged when defied by his daughter, as he objected to having his family strain mixed with Indian blood. He said he was badly upset and his nerves had been shattered through two truck accidents he had been in, and his anger was aroused because his wife failed to support him in breaking up a friendship between his fifteen-year-old daughter and a young male Indian.

OVER PERIOD OF YEARS

"Your wife is a small and undersized woman and the evidence shows a terrible state of cruelty to your wife and children over a period of years," said the Chief Justice.

"I wanted to protect my fifteen-year-old girl from this twenty-six-year-old breed," Boyd replied. "How would you fathers feel if you saw your own daughter being led away into the woods by a young breed. I asked my wife to co-operate with me to prevent it, but she refused."

Boyd went on to give details of the punishment he administered with a razor strop to his wife and children after his efforts to safeguard the morals of his daughter.

"You have no right to inflict corporal punishment upon your wife, although some may hold an opposite view," said Mr. Justice McPhillips. "It says here you used a wire whip on your wife and son and threw an axe at them. No matter what they were, that did not entitle you to attack your wife and children and do them grievous bodily harm. No man can do that under the law. You have done that gross thing."

"My wife was hitting me with a broom and my oldest boy was beating up the second boy until he was black and blue," Boyd replied.

"You have no right to beat up your wife with a strap with a buckle on it," said Mr. Justice McPhillips.

"I am entitled to punish my children with a razor strop," Boyd said.

"We should not correct children in the manner in which you were correcting them," Mr. Justice McPhillips went on.

WIRE WHIP

"When I had the boy in the barn that time of the wire whip incident, my wife comes and starts to chop down the door. She rushes in and gives me one with a wire whip. Can you gentlemen imagine what it means to hit a person with a wire whip. My wife admits having thrown a fork across the room at me on another occasion. She defied my authority and being in the nervous state I was, I grabbed the razor strop and in the heat of the moment, feeling in an unjust position, I did strike her twice with the razor strop. But did she have the right to hit me with that broom? Does not every home have its ups and downs? My wife hit me with a poker on the head. Then she fell on the floor and I grabbed her and dragged her by the foot to the door. I went out and started splitting wood in order to relieve my feelings. But then she comes and stands at the door and begins nagging at me. I then up and threw the ax in her direction. It was just my way of relieving myself."

"This mistreatment extends back for many years," said Prosecutor A. M. Johnson, K.C. "The five children range from two to sixteen years of age. This is a case in which a man thought he had the right to chastise his wife and family as he saw fit. His wife suggested that lashes be not given but said she feared for her life."

COMMUNITY WORKER

It was recalled in Boyd's favor that he had worked for years to have a public school established in the district and had seen his efforts crowned with success in the last year, when the provincial Department of Education opened a school there.

The court decided it would not interfere with the conviction, but could change the sentence. The Chief Justice thought the sentence should be cut down to one year with no lashes. This was supported by a majority of the court, consisting of Mr. Justice McPhillips and Mr. Justice M. R. Macdonald.

Mr. Justice Martin alone favored retaining the lashes for Boyd, although he would agree to making it a one-year sentence.

"If ever there was a case for which lashes should be given, it is this," Mr. Justice Martin went on. "Should wife-beaters escape a beating themselves, then the judgments of this court will have been of little avail. There is no justification for such cruelty. If I had been the trial judge, I would have made it twelve lashes instead of five, owing to the continued wife-beating."

"It was contemptible for you to beat your wife and children as you did," said Mr. Justice McPhillips. "In this case it was criminal. Even had there been every provocation, you should not have acted in the way you did. I think the sentence should be reduced to one year with lashes remitted, but don't do it again."

Mount View High School Activities

Mount View High School Debating Club held its second debate of the season Tuesday afternoon. The subject was: "Resolved that more option should be offered in the school curriculum." The affirmative speakers, Charles Caldwell and Paul Ayriss lost to Miss Betty Thomson and Robert Gilchrist. Miss Helen Coton, Phyllis Edwards and Victor Moore acted as judges.

A suggestion regarding an interclass debate was drawn up. It was decided to submit the plan to the executive of the Junior Arts Club for ratification.

HISTORY CLUB

The second meeting of the History Club was held on Tuesday, with the president, Miss Lola Hull, in the chair. Miss Norah Cullen, acting as secretary, called the roll, and each member responded with one fact about the founding of Fort Victoria. Two very interesting readings were given by the Misses Virginia Walker and Elaine Humphries.

It was decided that instead of the regular meeting next week the club should visit the archives at the Parliament Buildings, with the object of obtaining information on the proposed project work which is "The Founding of Fort Victoria."

JUNIOR ARTS

On Friday afternoon another interesting programme was presented by members of the Mount View Junior Arts. Miss Lola Hull, the vice-president, presided. The opening number was a very pleasing song by Miss Jean Atchison, accompanied by Miss Margaret McKinnon. This was followed by two comical recitations by Miss Muriel Rodman.

The third number was a dramatization of a section of the play, "King John," by members of Division I. A short prologue was read by Miss Norah Cullen. The characters were: Hubert of Athens, played by James Lindsay; Prince Arthur, James Robertson; two attendants, Gordon Greenwood and Gordon Ewan.

Over eight million tomatoes from the Bahama Islands entered Canada through the port of Halifax between the close of navigation on the St. Lawrence and January 18 this year.

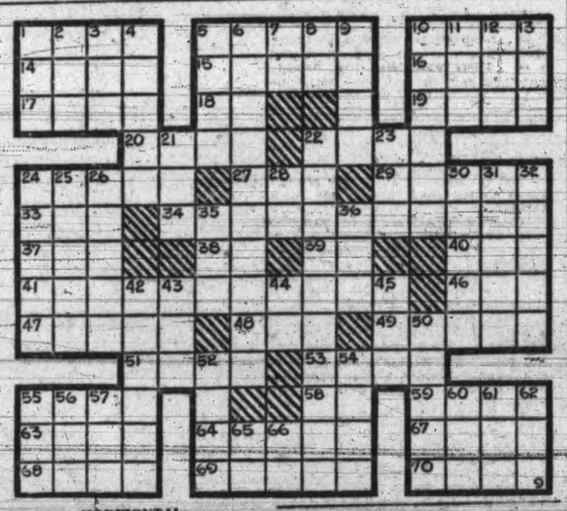

Acids In Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain—How to Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from—any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder form—never liquid or milk) is harmless, inexpensive, and is a fine remedy for acid stomach. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no fear of indigestion. (Advt.)

WELLS' STORY AT CAPITOL

"Island of Lost Souls," Starring Richard Arlen and Leila Hyams Opening To-day

The "Panther Woman"—Kathleen Burke, of Chicago, who won that title and a movie contract over 60,000 competitors in a nation-wide contest—makes her screen debut with Charles Laughton, Bela Lugosi, Richard Arlen, and Leila Hyams in "Island of Lost Souls," movie version of H. G. Wells's eerie novel of experiment and adventure, which is being shown at the Capitol Theatre to-day.

The "Panther Woman" is one of the most important characters in the story of the skilled scientist driven half-mad by his frantic desire to turn animals into men. She is the most perfect, the most successful of his creations.

Also on the same programmes is "They Call It Fate," with Loretta Young and George Brent in the starring roles.

FAIRBANKS JR. AT PLAYHOUSE

Sardi's, famous restaurant of the theatrical and newspaper folk of New York City, has been reproduced almost exactly for Douglas Fairbanks Jr.'s newest First National vehicle, "Love Is a Racket," playing this week at the Playhouse Theatre.

The hardest part of the reproduction came when it was necessary to duplicate the caricatures of famous visitors to the restaurant done by Sardi's caricaturist, Gard, from life as the patrons sit about the tables. Almost every well-known personage who has visited New York and Sardi's in the past ten years is represented among these drawings.

TWO PICTURES AT COLUMBIA

"Sundown Rider," Buck Jones's latest Columbia western thriller at the Columbia Theatre, finds the star in a role that is everything the name implies. After getting into all sorts of scrapes with the sheriff and his men at the outset of the production, as a result of falling victim of a trick by a gang of cattle thieves, the smashing climax of the picture finds Buck pushing his magnificent white mount, "Silver," to the limit in an effort to reach town before the sun goes down and deposit an amount of money in the bank that will save the ranch of Barbara Weeks, featured in the principal feminine role.

DOMINION THEATRE

The recording of sound for the screen gained a new significance in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's production of "Strange Interlude," in which Norma Shearer stars with Clark Gable at the Dominion Theatre.

The problem confronting the sound technicians was not only to record the spoken dialogue, but the secret thoughts of the players as well. In the Eugene O'Neill stage play from which the screen production was adapted, this was achieved by what is known as "asides."

But in the screen version the thoughts are audibly expressed without the corresponding lip movements of the players, and yet these thoughts had to be synchronized with the spoken words.

EMPIRE THEATRE

The story of "The Blue Danube," by Doris Zinkeisen, which is being shown to-day at the Empire Theatre, is vivid and colorful, and concerns the fate of gipsy sweethearts who, when visiting Budapest with their Romany band at the request of a lovely Hungarian aristocrat, find life so very different in the town, and while one longs for the freedom of their green forests the other becomes enamoured of the gay existence. The lady of the town is fascinated with the boy, and elated at attracting her, he momentarily forgets his gipsy love. Realisation of his folly comes too late, for the girl runs away and he will have none of the townswoman who has wrecked his life, even though she offers him sympathy and help. The plot contains several unexpected twists, keeping the interest alive from the start.

COMING TO EMPIRE

"The Blond Captive," a record of Dr. Paul Withington's expedition into the wilds of Australia is coming to the Empire Theatre to-morrow. It combines entertainment and educational value and, besides being endorsed by various government and educational groups, is one of the most fascinating, thrilling pictures of its type ever to reach civilization. The story relates the amazing romance of a white woman lost among a tribe of primitive peop claimed by anthropologists to be t oldest race in existence. It is a C lumbia picture produced by Northe Australia Expedition Syndicate und the auspices of The National Resear Council of Australia. Lowell Thom is author of the narrative which tells in synchronization with the fil

B.C. Agricultural Association

TAKE NOTICE that a Special Meeting of the B.C. Agricultural Association will be held at the Council Chamber, City Hall, Victoria, B.C., at the hour of 8 o'clock p.m. on Thursday, the 23rd day of February, 1933, for the purpose of considering the following matters:

1. The Balance Sheet for the year ending December 31, 1932.
2. For the appointment of an Advisory Board.
3. Such other matters as may be in the interests of the Association.

DATED at Victoria, B.C., this 3rd day of February, 1933.

T. W. HAWKINS, President.
W. H. MEARNS, Secretary.

REPORTS READ AT SHELTER

Approximately 250 unemployed men use the Citizens' Recreation Rooms daily and 400 are making general use of them, said A. H. Hundleby, superintending secretary, in his report at the annual meeting of the shelter committee yesterday. To-morrow will mark the first anniversary of the opening of the rooms and in that time they have proved a great boon to a great many of Victoria's jobless.

Mayor Leeming was again elected chairman of the committee and H. J. O'Leary vice-chairman. R. F. Taylor will serve again as honorary treasurer, and Mr. Hundleby as secretary and organizer.

In his report the secretary paid tribute to the general public and to the organizations which had helped maintain the institution. Toc H members had throughout the year undertaken the supervision of the rooms on Sundays and the Y.M.C.A. made their gymnasium and bathrooms available. The public had contributed 400 packs of cards and magazines sufficient to send to the relief camps and a radio had been secured for the Long Beach group. There were 527 books in the library at the rooms and 403 had been loaned last month to the men. David Spencer Ltd. were thanked for their loan of chairs during open nights, and The Colonist and The Times for publicity.

In the interests of the rooms, the secretary and others had addressed radio audiences, service clubs and church organizations and the result had been a stirring up of interest. Concerts during the year had been much enjoyed by the men, ever increasing attendances testifying to their popularity.

FINANCIAL REPORT

In the finance committee's report, delivered by Captain Brown, the chairman, mention was made of the $900 raised on the tag days last August 30, the $270 odd raised at benefit concerts staged by the Hudson's Bay Beaver Club, the Capitol Theatre children's entertainment, the Empire Service League, the Girls' Friendly Help Society, the civic service January 8, and the Arion Club. Around $80 was deposited in the collection boxes that were placed in various stores.

Mrs. W. D. Todd submitted the report of the entertainment committee, described the many concerts held during the year and stated concerts had been arranged up to the end of March.

A warm tribute to the services being rendered by Mr. Hundleby was offered by S. M. Lamb, acting chairman of the executive committee, in rendering a report on the supervision of the rooms.

The treasurer's report submitted by Mr. Taylor showed total money received from all sources was $3,125.05 and expenditure as noted in the ledger $2,449.98, leaving a bank balance January 31 of $675.07. Accounts have been audited by Reginald Genn. A vote of thanks was accorded the treasurer with the passing of the report.

AID SOCIETY TO MEET TO-NIGHT

Annual Reports Will be Read at Gathering in Children's Home at 8 o'Clock

Reports from H. L. Butteris, the president, and Mrs. G. H. Bissell, the secretary, will be read at the annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society in the home on Pandora Avenue at 8 o'clock to-night. Mrs. Bissell will also read the report of H. T. Ravenhill, the treasurer.

All those interested in the work of the society and representatives of welfare organizations in the city are invited to attend and to ask questions concerning the work being done. The maximum number of children at the home during the last year was thirty-eight and the minimum twenty-six. In addition there are a number in foster homes and awaiting adoption. Two were adopted since the last annual meeting. Some of the children are working part time and going to school. Expert medical and dental treatment has been secured for those in need of it.

Miss Laura Holland, Vancouver, Deputy Superintendent of Neglected Children, will attend the meeting and is expected to give a short outline of her work. Aldermen R. T. Williams, Alex Peden and James Adam, who represent the society on the City Council, will be in attendance.

DRIVE YOURSELF CASE IS HEARD

The possible speed of a "drive yourself" car checked by a governor was a point at issue before Magistrate George Jay in the City Police Court this morning when John Corbett was fined $20 for driving to the common danger.

Constable David Donaldson testified the defendant had driven from forty to forty-five miles an hour up Yates Street. Mr. Corbett claimed he was in a car controlled by a governor, with a maximum speed of thirty-five miles an hour.

The officer said he had tested the machine later and found it capable of forty-five miles an hour.

ODD FELLOWS AT FUNERAL

Members of the Odd Fellows attended in a body the funeral service for J. H. Burridge, which was held yesterday afternoon, Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick conducted the service and at the close of this ceremony the Odd Fellows' service was conducted by Bro. F. C. Hurry, president of the Odd Fellows' Service Board, assisted by Bro. C. Hastings, secretary and acting chaplain. Members of the Odd Fellows' Lodge acted as honorary pallbearers, as follows: Brothers P. A. Maclean, J. R. Michael, S. C. MacPherson, E. Lees, J. F. French and C. D. Dunn. Following the services the remains were sent to Neepawa, Manitoba, for interment.

FUNERAL YESTERDAY

Attended by members of his family, and family friends, the funeral service was held on Wednesday morning for Captain Jacob Cornelius Swartman of Waubausheere, Ontario. The service was conducted by Rev. Alan Gardiner. Following the service the remains were laid at rest at Royal Oak Burial Park. The following acted as pallbearers: Captain F. H. Cole, E. Wilkinson, C. Rose, W. White, W. Broadhurst and F. Appleby.

NATIVE SON DIES

At the family residence, 1055 Foul Bay Road, yesterday, the death occurred of Colin Archibald Campbell, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. D. Campbell. The boy was born in Victoria. Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

PRIVATE SERVICE

A private funeral service was held yesterday afternoon at 3.45 o'clock by Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, for Mrs. Christian Reid. Following the service, the remains were sent to Vancouver for cremation.

BURIED YESTERDAY

Sorrowing relatives and friends were present yesterday afternoon at the funeral service conducted by Rev. R. Yerborough for Miss Rosa M. Gough. Following the service the remains were laid to rest at Royal Oak Burial Park. The following acted as pallbearers: John Naismith, George Brown, Reginald Brown and R. O. John.

The Young People's Society of Esquimalt United Church will present "Bill & Co.," a three-act comedy by Homer King Gordon to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. Those taking part are as follows: Miss Marjorie Roode, Harvey McGee, Alfred Goodwin, Mrs. Kay Hughes, Cordon Corless, Miss Donella Willing, William Nicholas, Miss Florence Chantrey and Miss Kate Simpson. The play will be directed by Rev. W. R. Brown. Artists who will assist are as follows: Fred Wright, Miss F. Smethurst, Miss M. Morgan and Miss R. Wallace.

The Veterans' Junk Company, 553 Johnson Street, was entered yesterday evening and some tools stolen, according to a police report.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A meeting of the board of directors of the Y.W.C.A. will be held at the Y.W.C.A. to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Election of officers for the coming year will take place.

The regular meeting of the Young People's Society of Esquimalt United Church was held yesterday evening. The meeting opened with a hymn. The roll call and minutes were read. A short business meeting was held.

A special concert will be presented to members and friends of the Britannia branch by the Kesson Concert Party at the clubrooms on Saturday evening. The function is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

The Ward Three Liberal Association will meet to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock at the Liberal headquarters, Government and Broughton Streets, for discussion of important business. The Ward One Liberal Association will meet on Monday evening at the same time and place.

Production in the stationery and envelope industry in Canada in 1931 was valued at $6,360,772 and envelopes accounted for 37 per cent of it, or 1,064,230,000 at $2,385,540. Scribblers, exercise and notebooks had a factory value of $735,605.

After hearing over thirty appeals from assessments in Esquimalt, the Court of Revision on the assessment roll adjourned its meeting in the municipal hall until next Tuesday. No decisions were made during yesterday's evening's meeting.

The business of making greeting cards is worth at the factory about a quarter of million dollars. Retail prices would be much more, of course. With envelopes and postage the public must spend in kindly messages, not including the imported article, about half a million dollars in the year, according to reports of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Three Victoria organizations, the Victoria Little Theatre Association, the Victoria Beaux Arts Club and the Porch House Players, have already filed entries for the drama festival to be held in Vancouver during the week of March 20. The Porch House will present two of A. M. D. Fairbairn's plays, "The Tide" and "A Pacific Coast Tragedy." Preliminary elimination contests will be held in Victoria preceding the festival in Vancouver.

The newly-formed "Lonesome Get-Acquainted Club" held the first of a series of dances yesterday evening in the Maccabees Hall, 724 Fort Street, when about 150 guests were present. One of the features of the evening was the tap dancing of Miss Katherine Gregson and Miss Thelma Stratford. Miss Violet Bertucci provided the latest dance music for the affair. J. Torrence Taylor was master of ceremonies. Novelty prizes were awarded during the evening.

Friends of isolated and lonely folks on Vancouver Island gathered at noon to-day as usual in the Y.W.C.A. in connection with the work of the Shantymen's Christian Association. After a light luncheon served by the women a Bible reading and short prayers were held. Reports from the Island missionary, Percy E. Wills, were read by the local superintendent, J. S. Whiting. The president of the local branch is G. E. Davidson.

The Victoria and Islands Branch, Canadian Authors' Association will meet this evening at Unity Centre, Fort Street. The programme will include a craft talk by Mrs. J. R. Angus, secretary, on "The Future of the Free Lance Writer." Mrs. Corinne Blandy will give an appreciation of Don Byrne with extracts from his writings, and pupils of Croft Studio will present Miss M. Eugenie Perry's play, "The Little, Little Tree."

Under the auspices of the "Onwego" Young Men's Bible Class of First United Church, a musical entertainment of exceptional merit will be given in the Recreation Rooms of the unemployed this evening. The programme will commence at 8 o'clock sharp. George Gordon of the Onwego's will preside, the following artists taking part: The Warn trio, cello, violin and piano; Miss Stella Burton, J. J. Matheson, Miss Mae Mason, Arthur Jackman, Miss Edith Howell, Frank Spooner, Sidney Chiverall, Alf. Adams, comedian; Miss Celia Lewis, elocutionist; Miss Jean Marsh, diminutive dancer. Men are invited to bring their lady friends as guests of the shelter committee.

Rev. W. H. Warren, assistant China director of the China Inland Mission, who will address a public meeting in the Y.W.C.A. at 8 o'clock to-morrow evening, has been a missionary in China for over forty-one years. Most of his service has been rendered in Chekiang Province but for some years he has been at the China Inland Mission headquarters in Shanghai, where as assistant director he has had an intimate and extensive knowledge of China and its dependencies. He will return after a short furlough for another period of service. The China Inland Mission is operating in sixteen provinces of China and at the end of 1932 had 1,327 missionaries on the active list, with over 3,000 Chinese workers. During the year 5,201 converts were baptized on profession of faith. Mr. Warren's address will therefore cover a wide field.

EXPORT FIRMS WATCH TREND

Because of the growing importance of the Pacific Coast as an outlet for Canadian grain, an increasing number of large export houses are establishing offices at Vancouver, according to Richard S. Law, president and general manager of the United Grain Growers Limited, Winnipeg.

Mr. Law has just left for the east after spending some days here. He was accompanied to the coast by Sidney T. Smith, president of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

In discussing the western grain movement Mr. Law said he expected to see 100,000,000 bushels of prairie wheat shipped to the Pacific Coast for export this year. He remarked that the western farmer was standing up well considering the pressure he had been under.

One of the best known grain men of the country to-day, Mr. Law is a native of Plymouth, Devon, England. He came to Canada in 1911 and farmed extensively in Alberta up to 1921 when he joined the United Grain Growers. He became president in 1930.

KAPOOR AWARD AGAIN APPEALED

C.N.R. Gets Leave to Carry $117,830 Case to Privy Council

Railway Won New Trial in Appeal Court; Now Seeks Complete Victory

Leave to carry to the Privy Council the suit of the Kapoor Lumber Company against the Canadian National Railway for damages arising out of the fire which destroyed millions of feet of lumber and standing timber and swept out the mills and whole town of Kapoor, thirty miles from Victoria on the C.N.R. line, was granted by the justices of the Court of Appeal here to-day upon the application of E. C. Mayers, K.C., counsel for the C.N.R.

The Kapoor company with R. L. Maitland, K.C., as counsel, sue for $223,000 which they set out as the amount of their loss. Mr. Mayers, at the trial here before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald and a jury last June, succeeded in getting this sum cut down in the judgment to $117,830. The railway brought the case before the Court of Appeal in Vancouver last autumn and two weeks ago in Victoria the court gave a majority judgment in favor of the railway, setting aside the Supreme Court trial award and ordering a new trial. Against this judgment, in turn, the appeal is now being taken in an effort to have the Privy Council go a step further in favor of the railway by not only setting the judgment aside but by giving a complete victory to the railway.

Mr. Mayers also applied to the court to-day for the costs of the case as far as it has gone now to be paid by the Kapoor interests. With Mr. Maitland on the other side, an argument on the legal points involved, was carried on all morning. At the luncheon adjournment, the justices intimated they would give a decision on this application this afternoon.

STORE THEFT IS ADMITTED

Merriman and Clear Plead Guilty; Counsel Asks for Leniency

In a crowded city police courtroom this morning, Glendon Merriman and Frank Clear, two youths captured by taxi-men after a robbery at the store of Joseph Rose Ltd., early Sunday morning, pleaded guilty, through counsel, to charges of breaking and entering and committing theft.

After a plea by counsel for leniency, Magistrate George Jay reserved sentence until to-morrow.

W. C. Moresby, K.C., represented Merriman, and T. M. Miller appeared for Clear.

R. H. McInnes and H. Vogel were called as character witnesses for Merriman, and James Maynard for Clear.

Constable George Varney briefly described the episode which resulted in the capture of the pair on Douglas Street at 2 o'clock last Sunday morning. Wrist watches, razors, rings and other articles to the value of about $110 had been taken from the Rose store, he said. Some were recovered along the route of the fleeing pair and other articles were found in their possession. Both had cuts on their hands.

ASKS LENIENCY

In his plea for leniency, Mr. Moresby pointed out it was a first offence for both youths, and referred to the fact that Merriman was married and had two children. It was apparent the crime was not premeditated, he said, adding that from his information, the two youths had been to a "bootlegging establishment" during the evening and had drunk a quantity of home brew. At the time of the robbery they were in a somewhat maudlin condition and apparently formulated the plan to acquire the goods while passing the lighted store front.

"While I realize there must be some penalty in this case, I would ask for leniency on behalf of the accused," he said.

Mr. Miller concurred in these remarks.

GARDENERS WANT LAND AND WATER

Victoria Horticultural Society to Urge City to Aid Cultivators

The Victoria Horticultural Society will appeal to the land committee of the City Council to-morrow afternoon to accord citizens free use next summer of reverted lots for cultivation of vegetables. The society will ask the council to reconsider its decision not to give men on relief free water for gardening purposes and will also urge the city to provide cheap or free water to men growing crops on reverted lots.

The delegates will be P. R. Leighton and D. D. McTavish, and their representations are expected to be supported by representatives from the Real Estate Board and from the Trades and Labor Council.

The matter was discussed at length at the regular meeting held at the City Hall on Tuesday, with H. Whiteoak in the chair. It was considered that unless water was supplied free of charge, permission to use vacant lots would be of little value to men on relief, as they would be unable to raise satisfactory crops in any normal year.

Addresses were given by C. Bennett of soil preparation, by G. Attwood on sowing vegetables, by George Little on cultivation and fertilizing potatoes, and J. Unwin on growing chrysanthemums. E. M. Whyte moved the vote of thanks to the speakers.

Winners of the monthly competition were: Potted bulbs, J. G. Ilott; 2, Mrs. E. W. Darcus; leeks, 1, A. D. Miles; 2, G. Attwood; special potato prize, 1, A. D. Miles; 2, George Little.

The weekly meeting of the Workers' Ex-Servicemen's League will be held to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock in the W.E.L. Hall, 564 Yates Street.

Birthday Greetings Are Extended To-day To—

MOST REV. A. U. DE PENCIER
WILFRED JONES
HERBERT RALPH
WILFRED JOHN FORCE

MOST REV. A. U. DE PENCIER

The Archbishop of New Westminster and Metropolitan of British Columbia is sixty-seven years old to-day. He was born at Burritt's Rapids, Ontario, and after holding charges in Ontario and Manitoba came to Vancouver in 1908, and received his present appointment in 1910. He went overseas during the Great War and was twice mentioned in dispatches.

Wilfred Jones, known as "Con" in Victoria sport circles, recalled he was twenty-three years of age to-day as he sprang out of bed and hopped under a cold shower. "Con" plays most sports but stars at basketball. He played on cup winning teams at Royal Oak for a couple of years, and has lately played for the Green Mill and Cameron teams. He is coach of the K. of P. team. Mr. Jones lives with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bird, 402 Hillside Avenue.

Wilfred John Force, 598 Speed Avenue, Victoria, who came to this country from Cullompton, Devonshire, England, in 1911, celebrated another birthday to-day. For the last fifteen years he has been a popular member of the staff of Swift Canadian Company, in Victoria, and is known to all his friends as "Red." He is a real sportsman, and a keen golfer.

Herbert (Bert) Ralph received many birthday congratulations to-day. He was born in England and went to Saanich as a boy. Fifteen years ago he entered Saanich municipal service as office boy. An engaging smile, an obliging manner and golden hair combined to earn him the title of "Sunshine." He has risen to the position of waterworks accountant. He is married, has a six months old son and lives on Savannah Avenue.

BOWSER PARTY ENTERS FIGHT

Old-time Conservatives to Hold Inaugural Demonstration as House Opens

Officers of the Bowser old-line, anti-union Conservative party announced to-day, they would stage in Victoria co-incident with the opening of the Legislature, the initial meeting of their 1933 election campaign.

Fred C. Elliott of Victoria, James Cleaney of Vancouver and other old-line Conservative leaders are arranging this, which besides heralding the entrance of the group into the general election campaign as an organization at war with the Tolmie Government organization, will mark the beginning of the drive to bring back to public life at the head of the B.C. Government ex-Premier W. J. Bowser, K.C., who was unhorsed from the party leadership at the "Battle of Kamloops." His supporters declare their belief that Mr. Bowser is the only hope of B.C. Conservatism to restore order and confidence out of the present chaotic state of governmental affairs under the present regime.

Mr. Bowser has been in Vancouver this week for conferences on the invitation of leaders of the movement there.

MENTION CANDIDATES

Work of the new organization to-day was reported to have advanced to the stage where candidates to represent it in the general election here next summer are being discussed. Among those listed as likely choices of what it is planned to call the Bowser Business Party are E. C. Hayward, H. B. Thomson and ex-Mayor Anscomb. It is anticipated that Mr. Bowser himself will contest Vancouver and that Mr. Elliott will give battle in Esquimalt to Attorney-General Pooley.

It was reported that Joseph Merryfield, former provincial organizer for the Conservative party, will take over similar direction duties for the new party.

H. Despard Twigg, M.P.P., will continue as provincial organizer of the Tolmie government organization.

The Bowser party, it is well-known, has had for some time complete control of the ward organizations in Vancouver, with wards from time to time passing resolutions against the Tolmie organization.

The inaugural meeting in Victoria during the first week of the Legislature will be held in the Royal Victoria Theatre, it was announced.

In Victoria College on Saturday evening, February 18, at 8.15 o'clock, Madame Vivenot, a resident of Japan, will speak on Japan under the title "Le Sphinx de L'extreme Orient." The address will be illustrated with lantern slides.

AUSTRALIA TO PROSPER SOON

Review of Island Continent Given Rotarians by Rene Hague

Rich Resources Described by Journalist; Many Problems Now Passing

Australians will be among the most prosperous people in the world within a few years, according to Rene Hague, former newspaperman of Adelaide, South Australia, who now resides at Alberni. He made this prediction in the course of an address before the Rotary Club in the Empress Hotel to-day.

Mr. Hague told of the inception of the sheep industry by the first settlers at Botany Bay, in 1788, who brought twenty-nine animals with them. There were now 106,000,000 sheep in Australia and skilful breeding had raised average fleeces from three and one-half pounds to a weight of seven and one-half pounds, the climate being responsible for the fine quality of the wool.

Vermin-proof fences had controlled the rabbit menace and the extraordinary increase had been turned into a valuable asset, 100,000,000 frozen rabbits being exported to England while most of the world's felt hats were made from the fine fur of Australian rabbits.

While Australia suffered much from drought, the problem was not as serious as was believed by other nations. This was proven by the huge crops and livestock annually available for export. In many areas the problem had been overcome by driving artesian wells, some of these being more than 2,000 feet deep.

SETTLEMENTS EXTEND

Settlement was steadily extending into districts formerly classed as desert land, and Mr. Hague told of driving through miles of waving wheatfields between South Australia and the State of Victoria, where twenty years ago the famous "Ninety-mile Desert" had existed.

The lack of waterways was a great trouble, the Murray being the only river of size sufficient for irrigation works. This stream offered an example of the manner in which importations of new plants could become a menace, water hyacinths having choked the river within a few years after they were planted along the upper tributaries.

Along the coastline there was ample rainfall, cities like Sydney having double the annual rain of London, England, although it enjoyed sunshine on 340 days each year. The water scarcity had at times caused even the coast cities to prohibit use of water for gardens, but in recent years enormous storage equipment had met that problem.

One of the major difficulties of Australia was caused by the concentration of the population in large cities, half the people being located in Sydney, Adelaide, Brisbane and Perth. Most of the people were dependent in some manner upon the wool industry, but few were willing to go into the back country to earn a living.

RECALLS GOLD RUSHES

Mr. Hague told of the gold rushes to Ballarat and Bendigo in 1858 and 1860, recalling that they had been major factors in populating the continent. A later rush to Kalgoorlie had antedated the Klondike trek to Alaska, he pointed out. There had been a substantial increase in gold output in the last two years, by reason of the government's policy of equipping workless men and sending them to the placer districts, where they earned from fifty cents to $3 daily, the aggregate being of much importance.

Australia now had a mineral output of $100,000,000 annually, much being from the silver-lead deposits of Broken Hill, while coal was of great importance. There were large iron deposits, but their development was handicapped by the great distance from coal.

There were now 28,000,000 acres of land under cultivation and Australia had more railway mileage per capita than was possessed by Canada. This had been a severe burden to the people as all was government owner and the heavy deficits had to be made up by taxation.

Wheat growing occupied 22,000,000 acres and sugar plantations occupied large parts of the state of Queensland. Disposal of surpluses had been difficult problems, and the home price of such bonussed products as sugar was three times the world price.

"You can buy Australian sugar in Victoria at one-half or one-third the price charged for the same sugar in Australia," Mr. Hague explained.

A similar bounty system aided the disposal of butter and wine at world prices.

Mr. Hague told of the 1929 financial crisis and the efforts since made to balance the federal budget. He reviewed the difficulty of operating factories and other industries in the face of government restruction and the demands of highly unionized workers, but believed better things were impending.

Labor leaders were now co-operating with businessmen to attain a sound basis of operation on a lower wage scale, having realized that setting up a workingman's Utopia in Australia was impossible in the face of world conditions.

INQUEST IN CAR TRAGEDY

J. A. Gray, Burnside Road, Succumbs to Injuries Sustained in Accident

An inquest will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at McCall Brothers' Funeral Home over the body of J. A. Gray, Burnside Road, who died in the Jubilee Hospital yesterday evening from injuries received in an automobile accident on February 2.

Mr. Gray suffered severe head injuries in the accident which occurred about 7 o'clock in the evening when J. M. Paterson, Wilkinson Road, was proceeding in his car toward the city. In pulling to one side of the road to avoid an approaching car, his vehicle struck Mr. Gray, who was walking, according to the police report.

Stallholders at the Victoria Public Market to-day renewed their petition to the City Council for a reduction in rental fees for stalls.

FARMERS GAIN TAX VICTORY

Substantial taxation relief for owners of farmland in Saanich was assured yesterday afternoon, the one-third reduction in assessments on buildings, Lowered assessments on land and on land improvements, made to accord with a judgment by Judge Lampman, were confirmed.

Immediate action to restore the 1932 assessment valuations of building improvements was opposed only by Councillor H. D. Coton, who desired time to make an analysis of the effect upon typical farm properties in Ward Five. essor to revise the roll was moved by Councillor W. F. Somers of Ward Three and seconded by Councillor Fred Borden of Ward One. The motion was as follows: "That all assessments on land and on improvements on land remain as they are, but assessments on improvements on buildings revert back to the same figure that they were in 1932."

The chance will necessitate issuing new assessment notices to all owners of properties on which builders are located.

The court considered more than thirty appeals, and adjourned until next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

FAIRFIELD HAS FINE BANQUET

The annual father and son banquet of Fairfield United Church was held in the schoolroom yesterday evening with a full attendance. The boys and dads greatly enjoyed the excellent dinner provided by the Women's Association.

Community singing opened a splendid programme.

Bobbie Fields offered the toast to the city, which was responded to by Mayor Leeming, who stressed the need of high and noble citizens, and match the beauty of the city. He also commended the work of such bodies as Trail Rangers and Canadian Girls in Training in helping to develop such citizenship.

Bruce Jones proposed a toast to Canada, to which H. O. Litchfield replied. Both speeches lauded the history of Canada and her great possibilities. The toast to "Our Dads" was offered by Griffith Cameron in a very clever and humorous address, which was responded to by Col. R. H. Campbell.

The Sunday school was toasted by Albert Bevan, leader of the Trail Rangers. E. B. Jones, superintendent, replied. "The Church" was presented by Gordon Thomson and responded to by A. C. Charlton. The "C.G.I.T." was toasted by Colin Finlayson, and the reply was given by Miss Grace Keefe, leader of the organization.

Musical numbers were rendered by Messrs. Townsend, Jackson and Glendenning. A humorous imitation of a radio broadcast was given by Mr. Pickering, and boys presented three short skits.

Ty Cobb Says Curb the Power of Umpires and Improve Game

Paul Thompson Has Welcomed His Trade to Chicago Hawks

Clear the Decks for Canadian Badminton Championships

WITH much comment being made both on the prairies and in the east over referees in professional hockey games not putting enough iron into their administration, the following comment of the great Ty Cobb on the power of baseball umpires throws a slightly different light on the plea for sterner hockey regulations.

"Curb the umpires and put the sparkle and fight back in baseball, not to mention the interest of the fans and the clicking of the turnstiles. Of course, there are some umpires who get out of line themselves, but most of them are gentlemen who deal out justice in accordance with their instructions. It's the men who give these instructions, the league heads, who should be curbed. They tell their arbiters, who generally have fine judicial positions, to be dictatorial and rule with an iron hand." Thus does Cobb, for twenty years the big thrill of baseball, agree with Bill McKechnie of the Pittsburgh Pirates that his majesty the "ump," lets his crown rest heavily on his head and his power too fearfully in his sceptre.

Paul Thompson, fleet wing player of the Chicago Black Hawks, considers it was a lucky day when he was traded by the New York Rangers to the Windy City club. While he may not have benefited financially, it helped him from a competitive standpoint. Thompson declares Lester Patrick gives the Cook-Boucher trio so much work that it is little wonder they score so many goals. In a recent interview Thompson said: "Any similar group of forwards could do likewise if given the same opportunity."

He might have added if they had the same ability.

"Every time the opposition is shorthanded or send four men up the ice on go the Cook brothers and Boucher," says Paul, who declares that is the reason why he has doubled his goal-scoring average since joining the Hawks.

Patrick doesn't hesitate to use his famous trio to the utmost, and his singular success must be a testimonial to his judgment. There is frequent complaint by many hockey stars that they do not get enough work. It is based on logic in many instances.

How fast does a ball zip across the net in international standard tennis?

That is a query that many in the gallery often ask themselves, but seldom come even close in the guessing.

Pace of the ball naturally varies as to the type of player, and also to the stroke produced.

Last summer's Davis Cup matches between Great Britain and Germany provided a partial answer as to the velocity of the ball on certain strokes, when timing devices were utilized to catch the speed of the ball. "Bunny" Austin, England, and Dr. Daniel Prenn, Germany's accomplished net star, were the principals in the match in which the observations were made.

Ninety-three miles an hour was the top speed caught by the clockers, as the ball flashed over the net at lightning rebound from a volley.

In contrast, the average service speed was sixty-eight miles an hour, while strokes from the backline traveled as slow as thirty-one miles per hour.

In all it was figured that the balls traveled a distance of twenty-eight and a half miles within the bounds of that single court, and during that time two thousand shots were exchanged between Austin and Prenn.

With city and district tournaments pretty generally wiped off the slate, and February bringing about the start of most of the provincial tournaments, this month can be regarded as the zero hour for many leading badminton players, with Canadian championships being "just around the corner" in March in Montreal.

If Jack Underhill decides to make the long journey from Vancouver in defense of his titles, the veteran Pacific Coast star will no doubt encounter many threats for his singles crown. It is a difficult problem at this time to point a finger at any one player as an outstanding prospect for the Canadian championship, so rapid are the developments, and from so many centres.

George Goodwin reached the ultimate round against the Vancouver player last year, yet that young Ottawa star has encountered oppostition in the east which at times has been too strong for him. Ontario alone apparently has half a dozen players developing who are apt to cut loose at the Montreal Badminton and Squash Club when the tournament commences on March 2, while other provinces can boast of material that is not to be underestimated.

Peden Wires Home He Is Feeling In First Class Shape

Local Star and Henry LePage One Lap Behind Leaders; Lead in Points

Rush and Barrott Are Riding Well

Peden's First Start Since His Bad Smash-up in Recent Cleveland Race

"Am feeling fine and my injured leg only bothers me in the quick starts. LePage and myself are well up and everything looks for a great race. Rush and Parrott are riding better than I have ever seen them perform before," read a telegram received this morning by Torchy Peden's parents. The local star started in another six-day race at St. Louis yesterday evening.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 9—Torchy Peden, Victoria, B.C., and his French-Canadian partner from Montreal, Henry LePage, were pressing the leaders closely to-day in the six-day international bike race which commenced yesterday evening.

Peden and LePage were one lap behind the German team of Charles Winter and Tony Schaller and the Bohemian team of Franteska Bartal and Tom Gaetta. The Canadians, however, led in points with sixty-six against the fifty-one snared by the Germans and thirty-one for the Bohemians.

Tied with Peden and LePage in mileage were three other teams, including the Canadian combination of Lew Rush and Polly Parrott, both from Victoria; the other Canadian, Lew Elder, teamed with Harry Horan, Newark, N.J., was three laps behind the leaders.

This is Peden's first race since his disastrous accident in Cleveland which forced him out of the race. Following his crash Peden proceeded to his home where he rested up for a week. He then traveled from Seattle to St. Louis by airplane to start in the local event.

Following the race here Peden will leave for six-dayers at New York, Chicago, Montreal and Toronto. On conclusion of the last-mentioned race Peden hopes to return home to take a well-earned rest during the summer months.

Joyce Wethered Becomes "Adviser"

London, Feb. 9.—Joyce Wethered, England's greatest all-time woman golfer, has become a business woman golfer, with the question of her amateur status a poser for the women's union. She has become an "adviser" at a big store in Piccadilly.

If she should ever decide to enter competitive play again, bringing up the question of her amateur status, the final ruling probably would be left to the Royal and Ancient, as the L.G.U. operates under the same rules of amateurism as the men.

VANCE TRADED TO CARDINALS

Secure Owen Carroll and Jake Flowers; Trade Surprises Baseball World

New York, Feb. 9—Brooklyn Dodgers announced yesterday evening they had traded Dazzy Vance, their famous speedball pitcher, and Infielder Gorden Slade to St. Louis Cardinals for Pitcher Owen Carroll and Infielder D'Arcy Jake Flowers. It was a straight player trade, the announcement said, and no cash was involved.

The announcement came as something of a surprise, although it had been known that Vance was "on the market" for some time. Flowers formerly played in the Brooklyn infield but was sold to St. Louis during the 1931 season.

INCONSISTENT HURLER

For many years one of the greatest right-handers in the National League, Vance has been a source of considerable annoyance to the Dodgers during the past couple of seasons. At times he would show all the "stuff" that carried him to one strike-out record after another and won him the league's most valuable player prize in 1924. But he frequently followed with a poor performance or required a long rest before taking the mound again. In 1932 he appeared in twenty-seven games for the Dodgers, winning twelve and losing eleven, but he was credited with only nine complete games.

Carroll, also a right-hander and former Holy Cross College star, never was considered in the same class with "The Dazzler." He played with Detroit and last year with Cincinnati, where he won the doubtful distinction of losing more games than any other National League hurler. He went to St. Louis in the deal which sent Jim Bottomley to the Reds.

FRENCH SWIMMER SETS NEW RECORD

Paris, Feb. 9.—The world record for the 200-yard breaststroke swim, held by Walter Spence, Montreal, was broken here yesterday by Jacques Cartonnet, whose time was 2 minutes 30 1-8 seconds. Spence's mark was 2.31 4-5.

Gus Kallio Wins Bout With Miller

Portland, Ore., Feb. 9.—Gus Kallio, Cincinnati, defeated Bob Miller, Chicago, two falls out of three in the main event of yesterday evening's wrestling card here. Kallio weighed 157, a pound less than Miller.

Kallio took the first fall in twenty-five minutes on a series of whip wristlocks, followed by a self-strangle. Miller evened it up in seven minutes with a flying body scissors. The final and deciding fall went to Kallio, fourteen minutes later with a body slam and another self-strangle.

KID CHOCOLATE TO GAIN ENTRY

Cuban Boxing Champion is Given Permission to Enter U.S. for Title Defence

New York, Feb. 9.—Kid Chocolate, recognized here as featherweight champion, will be allowed to re-enter the United States as soon as he files the necessary application with the Department of Labor in Washington, Madison Square Garden announced it had been informed yesterday.

Chocolate was deported from Key West, Fla., for lack of a working permit when he tried to enter the country from Havana, Cuba, on January 19, to defend his title in the Garden against Seaman Tom Watson, British featherweight champion.

In the meantime Watson, who defeated Fidel la Barbg here after a fistic "trial by jury" had turned thumbs down on his fighting ability, has returned to England. A cablegram has been sent to Watson urging his return, Jimmy Johnston, matchmaker of the Garden, said.

HENRY JONES WINS

Ruth Expected To Sign For $62,500

Famous Slugger of New York Yanks Left To-day for Florida Training Camp

Will Not Play in an Exhibition Until Signed; Sewell Signs With Yankees

New York, Feb. 9.—It may be another month before Babe Ruth gets down to the serious business of reaching a compromise on his 1933 salary with the New York Yanks, but while finishing preparations for going south to-day with his family the big slugger said he will not play any exhibition games before signing a new contract.

The Babe made up his mind on this important point two years ago, when he did not put his name on the dotted line until the day before the spring exhibitions began. He has not changed it, because he believes the risk would be too great.

"Suppose I should bust an ankle in an exhibition game and had not yet signed my contract?" he added. "How much do you think they would offer me then?"

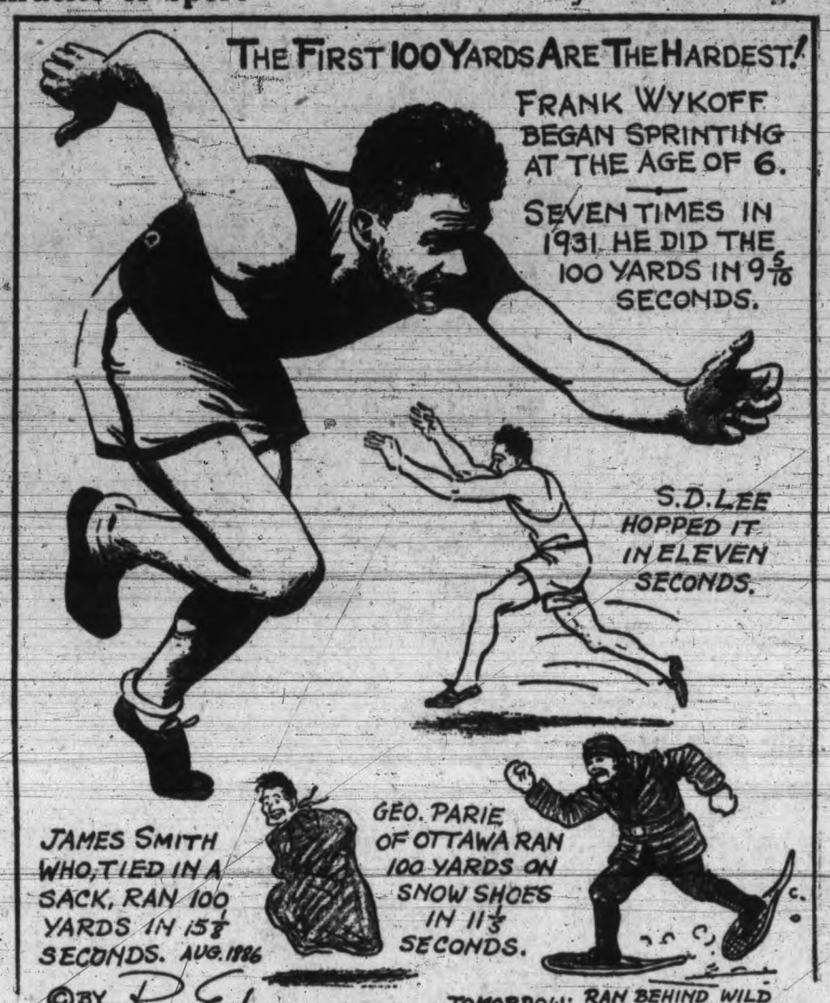

This year the Yanks start their competition against the Boston Braves at St. Petersburg, March 14, so there remains plenty of time for the boys to speculate on just how much of that $25,000 "cut" the Babe will be able to duck. The consensus is he will convince Col. Jacob Ruppert he is worth $62,500 for the coming campaign, his twentieth in the big leagues.

The Ruths left to-day by train for Jacksonville, where they will motor to St. Petersburg to-morrow.

Judge Emil E. Fuchs, president of the Boston Braves, paid a visit to the New York Giants yesterday without disclosing whether he had any more player deals "on the fire," but he did reveal the Boston club had the option of taking its choice of the two sensational coast infielders, Dick Gyselman and Albert Wright, if only one meets expectations in the training camp. These kid stars were obtained for a fancy price from the Missions.

The first "Varsity" regular to sign a Yankee contract, outside the battery department, is Joe Sewell, veteran Alabama third baseman, whose comeback played a big part in the success of the world champions last year.

Miracles of Sport — By Robert Edgren

Rosthern Curlers In Surprise Win

Regina, Feb. 9—A better bunch of curlers than they were cracked up to be, Cliff McLachlan and his henchmen from Rosthern are to-day awaiting the "all aboard" call for Toronto and the Dominion Macdonald Brier playdown.

Victim of a traditional comeback on the part of the northerners, Dr. H. E. McKellar, Carlyle, southern champion, passed out of the picture for Saskatchewan honors at the Regina club when he dropped the third and deciding came of the series by 9-6.

Just like the runners-up for the past two years, McKellar won the first game 10-7, was trimmed by a decisive 13-3 margin in ten ends in the second and then went on to drop the third.

PRAIRIE ICE FINALS OPEN

Calgary Bronks and Drumheller to Battle for Alberta Amateur Championship

Calgary, Feb. 9.—The end of a weary hockey trail came yesterday evening for Calgary Maroons, cellar occupants of the southern Alberta Senior Amateur Hockey League since the first 1932-33 season whistle blew.

Defeated 3 to 1 here by Drumheller Miners in the last league game on Calgary ice this season, the Maroons packed away their sticks and uniforms without having chalked a victory in the sixteen games they played. Fifteen were losses and one was a tie with the Calgary Bronks, second-half league leaders.

Victory for the Miners assured the Drumheller clan two games on home ice when the two-out-of-three-game series with the Bronks starts next week. The Miners won the first half of the league and one game remains to be played in the second half. Bronks are in the lead with eleven points and Miners are a singleton behind them with ten points. The final league game is billed for Drumheller Friday night.

Large Entry in Manitoba Spiel

Winnipeg, Feb. 9—Interest in the forty-fifth annual bonspiel of the Manitoba Curling Association to-day centred on competition for the right to represent Manitoba in the Macdonald Brier Tankard at Toronto. Fifty-six rinks appeared in the draw to-day and play is expected to begin to-night.

Extremely low temperatures prevailing throughout Wednesday made play difficult on pebbly ice but all games were closely and keenly contested. Gordon Hudson and Bob Gourley, former holders of the Canadian championship, maintained their unblemished records by registering victories.

FIGHT WINNER

San Francisco, Feb. 9—Babe Marino, 148 pounds, San Francisco, spurted in the final round to take a ten-round decision over Battling Dozier, 148, Wichita, Kansas, negro, here yesterday evening.

Filipino Fighters Show Plenty Class

ENGLAND WILL PLAY IRELAND

International Rugby Teams Meet in Important Match at Twickenham Saturday

Twickenham, England, Feb. 9—Interest has mounted in the international rugby game to be played between England and Ireland here, Saturday, as England must win to make up for the defeat they suffered at the hands of the Welsh fifteen on January 21.

Added sparkle has been given the match by the unexpected victory of Scotland over Wales at Swansea a week ago. England will not play again until March 18, when they battle Scotland in the north.

Ireland—Pratt, Lightfoot, De Vere Hunt, Crowe, Waide, Davy, Murray, Beamish, Dunne, O'Neill, Russell, Siggins, Murphy, Pike and Ross.

London Tecumsehs Secure Proudlock

YOUNG CORBETT OPENS TRAINING

Fresno Battler Prepares for Title Bout With Jackie Fields on Feb. 22

San Francisco, Feb. 9.—Young Corbett III, Fresno, contender for the welterweight throne of champion Jackie Fields, arrived here yesterday to start training for his title bout with Fields in the Seals' Stadium here February 22.

"I've never felt better," said Corbett, as he announced plans for the opening of his training camp at south San Francisco. Four rounds of boxing today started the two weeks' conditioning grind.

The California battler has been doing light work at Yosemite in anticipation of the bout and weighed 151½ pounds before leaving for San Francisco, his trainers said.

Tommy Santos and Pastor Calope Impressive in Workout Yesterday Evening

Meet Albie and Jumbo Davies in Ten-round Bouts at Pacific Stadium To-night

Tommy Santos and Pastor Calope, the two Filipino fighters who will meet Albie and Jumbo Davies, respectively, in the two ten-round bouts on to-night's fight card at the Pacific Stadium, showed plenty of class in their light workouts yesterday evening. The pair went through three rounds of shadow boxing with each other and their speed and punching ability impressed those present. The first bout this evening will start at 8.30 o'clock.

Calope who will swap punches with the blonde Jumbo is a rugged boring-in type of fighter, who appears to concentrate chiefly on body fighting. In his one-round set-to with Santos, Calope weaved into close range and let go with a series of left uppercuts to the solar plexus region and straight right wallops to the ribs. These punches if landed frequently will wear down any type of fighter. The two principals in this bout are of similar build but the Victoria boy will have a slight edge in height and reach.

SANTOS FAST

Santos is a rangy, fast moving type of boxer who flights along the approved straight-up English lines. He made a big hit with the fans and looked very flashy in his workout. He is well built and should give the local crack a tough argument. Santos and Albie are about the same height. The local boy may pack the heaviest punch but Santos appears to have an edge in speed and uses a larger variety of punches than the local boy.

The balance of the card also looks to be of good quality. Dave Barr and Mawrie Graham will box four rounds at 118 pounds in the opener; Scotty Maitland and Jack Foyer will meet in another four-rounder at 135 pounds, and Danny Pastroe will swap punches with Jack McEvoy, a highly touted boxer from Duncan, in the semi-final four-round bout.

Jim Londos Takes Match With Steele

Los Angeles, Feb. 9.—Jim Londos, New York, claimant to the world heavyweight wrestling title, took two out of three falls from Ray Steele, Glendale, Cal., and Lincoln, Neb., in a wrestling show at the Olympic auditorium before a packed house of 11,000 persons yesterday evening.

Londos won the first and last falls with body slams, the initial one in forty-nine minutes fifty-seven seconds, and the third in twenty-one minutes twenty-two seconds. Steele won the second fall with a body slam in fourteen minutes fifty-five seconds.

Blue Ribbons Whip Fifth Regiment To Retain Fine Record

Skillings Stars In C.P.S. Victory

Lumbermen Scrape Through to Lone Point Win Over Beavers; Slingers Win

Ernie Cook's Blue Ribbons hoopsters retained their undefeated record for the season by downing the Fifth Regiment 37 to 15 in the feature game of yesterday evening's card of basketball games at the High School staged by the City League in conjunction with the Kiwanis Sports Week programme. In the other two games, Slingers defeated First United 31 to 16 and the C. P. S. turned in a one-point victory over the Beavers, 27 to 26.

A large crowd of local enthusiasts turned out for the exhibitions which terminated the programme for Bob Whyte Day of the Sports Week.

The Gunners got away to an early lead in the game with the Ribbons, and held a small margin until within one minute of the rest interval. At this stage Art Chapman and Tommy Little came through with two pretty baskets to put the Ribbons out in front, 12 to 11, when the half time whistles sounded.

The second half was all Blue Ribbons, Muzz Patrick, Art C. Chapman and C. Chapman combined well on the offensive, with points coming thick and fast, while the Fifth were unable to penetrate with any success the defence of the champions.

SKILLINGS STARS

Stewart Skillings, stalwart centre player of the C.P.S., put on an individual scoring exhibition against the Beavers, and collected fourteen of his teams' total of twenty-seven. The lumbermen took a ten-point lead in the first half, and by playing a steady defensive game in the final twenty minutes, managed to stave off the rally of the youngsters.

First United did not show half the class that had carried them undefeated through the second half of the schedule, while Slingers were right on top of their game in taking the churchmen into camp. The suburbanites all played steady basketball with Mike Lannon turning in the best individual performance.

Tommy Macedo refereed.

Blue Ribbons—Craig 2, M. Patrick 6, Slugett 2, L. Patrick 5, A. Chapman 10, McKeown, C. Chapman 8, Little 2, and Ross.

Fifth Regiment—Jones, Shepheard, Martin 6, Simpson 7, Brown and Peden 2.

Beavers—MacDonald 2, Fraser 6, Robertson, Moore 2, Tubman 5, Goldsmith 2, Ritchie 1, Preston 2, and Levy 6.

C.P.S.—Butler 2, Riddle 2, Caddell 4, Skillings 14, Harding, Wright, McKenzie, Bissell 1, and Davies 4.

First United—Gibson 2, Thompson, Holdridge 2, Taylor 4, Wallace 4, McKenzie and McInnes 2.

Slingers—C. Sluggett 3, Michell 6, Clarence Sluggett 2, G. Lannon 2, Butler 4, Andrews 3, and M. Lannon 11.

MARLBOROS OUT

Toronto, Feb. 9—Another champion faded from the hockey scene yesterday evening when Toronto Marlboros, Junior Hockey Association titleholders, dropped the third and deciding game of the "Big Six" group playoffs to National Sea Fleas, 1 to 0.

Wednesday Soccer Games Called Off

Yesterday's three scheduled Wednesday League football matches were called off owing to the frozen condition of the playing fields. The clubs will continue play next week in the Pendray Cup series for the league championship.

UNKNOWN WINS GOLF EVENT

Bob Stupple, Glencoe, Ill., Takes First Money in St. Petersburgh Open

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 9.—Bob Stupple, young professional from the Skokie Country Club, at Glencoe, Ill., played the dark horse role in the third annual St. Petersburg open championship golf tournament yesterday, putting together cards of 73 and 71, for a total of 144, to take first money.

Stupple finished just before a heavy rainstorm broke over the Pasadena Golf Club, where the afternoon rounds of the thirty-six-hole tournament was played. His 71 trimmed one stroke from par.

Al Watrous, veteran campaigner from Detroit, and Denny Shute, Cleveland, finished in a tie for second place one stroke behind the winner. John Golden, Koroton, Conn., and Joe Kirkwood, trick shot artist, from Philadelphia, were bracketed at 146, one stroke ahead of Craig Wood, Deal, N.J., leading money winner of the Pacific Coast this season; Horton Smith, Chicago, and Willie MacFarlane, Tuckahoe, N.Y., former national open champion and winner of the St. Petersburg event last year.

Stupple received $275 of the $1,000 purse. Watrous and Shute divided $350 second and third place money. Other prizes ranged from $125 to $25.

Low amateur honors went to Bob Hamilton, St. Petersburg, with 150.

MOUNT VIEW DROPS GAME

A fine, clean, hard-fought, Inter High School Basketball League game was played between Mount Newton and Mount View High Schools on Tuesday. The Mount Newton team won by a score of 24 to 20.

Carl Young of Mount Newton and Ken Reid of Mount View played smart games. Ed. Brown and E. Stancil also played well for Mount View, while E. Butler and Ed. Oakes played brilliantly for Mount Newton.

The teams and individual scorers follow:

Mount Newton: E. Hetherington (1), K. Reid (2), B. Munkley, E. Brown (6), F. Crouch (4), E. Stancil (7) and G. Greenwood.

Mount Newton: K. Thomson (1), E. Oakes (4), C. Young (10), E. Butler (9), E. May and A. Brooks.

MOUNT VIEW WINS SOCCER

A fast soccer game between Oak Bay and Mount View High School played at Oak Bay grounds last week was won by Mount View, 2 to 1. The first goal for Mount View was scored by E. Brown, and soon after A. Politano added their second counter.

Fourth Test Cricket Match Will Commence To-morrow

Victory For M.C.C. Players Will Give Englishmen Ashes

England Has Won Pair of Matches

Much Speculation Whether Larwood Will Change Bowling Method

Brisbane, Australia, Feb. 9.—Australia and England resume their cricket test series here to-morrow when play will commence in the fourth test match.

England has won two matches and Australia one. Should the M.C.C. capture this match they will win the series, but the Aussie players have different ideas on that point and are all set to repeat their win of the second game, and thus remain in the running for the cricket laurels of the world which they won in England in 1931.

The dispute between the Australian Cricket Board of Control and the M.C.C. which arose out of the "leg theory" bowling of Harold Larwood in the last game has been pretty well cleared away. The Australia officials have declared there was no question of the English players being "unsportsmanlike," but stand by their belief the "bodyline bowling" practice is not in the best interests of the game. They are considering a regulation which will make the practice illegal in all Australian cricket.

Meanwhile time alone will tell whether or not Larwood will continue with his method which proved so successful in previous games. The fact that he hit several Aussie batsmen is not held strongly against him since it is generally conceded it was unintentional, but should he re-commence his bowling he will in all probability be greeted with a barracking from the spectators.

JIM CORBETT IS UNCHANGED

Former Heavyweight Boxing Champion is Gradually Getting Weaker

New York, Feb. 9.—Attended by his wife of thirty-seven years and two old friends of his fine days when he was heavyweight boxing champion of the world, James J. Corbett to-day calmly awaited the inevitable moment when his weak heart will stop beating.

He is in no pain as he lies on his bed in his roomy Long Island home, looking from his window across Little Neck Bay towards the Sound; unless it be the pain of regret at leaving a life that he had found more exciting than most men.

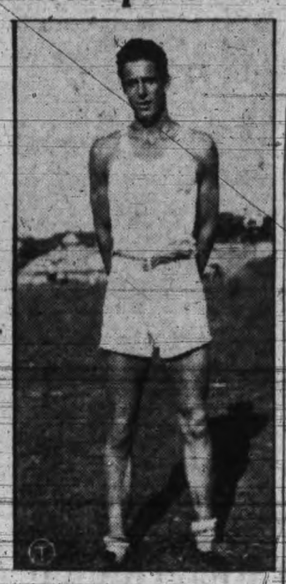

Just how soon the end will come no one can say, but his friends assert he will meet it with the same fine courage with which he faced John L. Sullivan, Tom Sharkey, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jim Jeffries, and other stalwarts of his fighting days. His condition has been little changed the last few days, except that he appears to be gradually getting weaker.

Only Mrs. Corbett, his two friends, John and Denny Kelleher, Boston, are with him, and other friends are discouraged calling because undue excitement might hasten the end.

Waiting For The Gun In First Victoria Indoor Sports Meet

Above are five of the boys who will be out after laurels in the Sports Week charity track and field meet at the Willows Horse Show Building on Saturday evening. Over sixty entries have been filed for the different features.

Joe Addison, "Y" flier, in the upper left-hand corner, will seek the sixty yards dash and quarter mile crowns. He is rated one of the best sprinters in British Columbia.

Ed Harmston, ambitious junior, shown on the upper right, has entered for the junior sixty-yard dash, and broad jump and the open hop-step and jump as well as the shot put and the open broad jump.

OUR MAIL BAG

OFFER THANKS

To the Editor:—May we through the means of your columns extend our thanks to Mr. Joe North, who so willingly responded upon our approach to collect a few cigarettes for the men of the Otter Point Relief Camp. We were strongly asked by the men of the camp to convey a vote of thanks to Mr. North and the six local firms that so willingly donated these cigarettes.

We also wish to thank the artists that rendered their services to this concert which went a long way towards making this a successful and enjoyable evening to the men, also for the donation of magazines and money towards the transportation fund.

These entertainments have been arranged through the endeavors of Mr. Geo. Lovatt, wrestling coach at the Y.M.C.A., and Mr. Wishart, who try hard to keep the spirit of these men high in these trying times. It has been requested that we visit the camp again and try to arrange for a group of professional artists to perform for the men. If we can obtain the services of these artists without putting them under any obligation then we can make the trip possible. Any artist that is willing to give his services towards such a worthy cause may do so by telephoning E 8383 and make arrangements with Mr. Joe Pye.

On behalf of the members of the Y.M.C.A. Wrestling Club and the Douglas Street Baptist Athletic Club, we thank Mr. Wishart and the men of the camp for the courtesy they showed to us. May we compliment the camp for the cleanliness and sanitary condition of the place.

Y.M.C.A. Wrestling Club and Douglas Street Baptist Athletic Club.

Carpet Bowling

The results were as follows:

Lake Hill Cougars 18, Esquimalt B 13.

The semi-finals in the men's section will be played at the Crystal Garden Firady evening.

The semi-finals in the women's section will be played at the Foresters Hall this evening instead of at the Crystal Gardens as previously announced.

The matches will be between Crystal Garden Rowmans vs. Willows Rose. Crystal Garden Shamrocks vs. Willams Maples.

SKI JUMPING IS POSTPONED

Cold and Windy Weather Spoils Tournament at Mt. Revelstoke Park

Revelstoke, B.C., Feb. 9.—Cold and windy weather proved a setback to the holding of a successful ski tournament in Mount Revelstoke National Park yesterday afternoon. Although exhibition jumps weer made by class A jumpers in which Lymburne made 213 feet, and Hans Gunnarson 198, the wind made jumping virtually impossible and the big competition was postponed by the judges.

It will be held when the weather moderates. Jumping earlier in the afternoon, class B jumpers went through with their competition with the following results:

JUMPING
1—A. Johnson, 151.9.
2—L. Bennison, 141.
3—Joe Farmiloe, 138.4.

LONGEST STANDING JUMP
Johnson, 147 feet.

COMBINED RACING AND JUMPING
1—A. Johnson, 287.9.
2—L. Bennison, 267.
3—A. Prestno, 243.
4—J. Farmiloe, 235.4.

RICE AND BEACH IN SEMI-FINALS

Rice defeated Frank Crowningshield 5 and 4. Beach trimmed Francis Wurzburg, 1 up.

Rice and Beach met to-day in the semi-final in a match that is expected to decide the championship for another year.

In the other bracket yesterday, Merle Thorpe won over Ray McCarthy, 1 up and Arthur Somers Roche defeated Jeff Machamer, 2 up.

U.S. Tennis Stars Invade New Zealand

Wellington, N.Z., Feb. 9.—The United States touring tennis team yesterday opened its New Zealand invasion by winning four singles and one double match against a New Zealand squad.

Elsworth Vines Jr. defeated E. D. Andrews, 6-4, 7-5; Wilmer Allision won from C. E. Malfroy, 10-8, 6-4; Keith Gledhill defeated C. Angus, 5-7, 7-5, 8-6, and John Van Ryn won from D. G. France, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1. Vines and Gledhill, American doubles titleholders, then joined to defeat Malfroy and France at that style of play, 6-4, 8-4.

The lone New Zealand victory went to Andrews and Angas, who defeated Allison and Van Ryn, veteran Davis Cup pair, 6-4, 6-8, 6-3.

Kiwanis Bowlers Beat Councillors

Kiwanis bowlers defeated the city fathers in one of the most novel tenpin fixtures played at the Olympic alleys this season, yesterday evening. Many of Mayor Leeming's cohorts had never rolled a ball before, but nevertheless they put up a good showing.

Results follow:

KING GEORGE GOES SKATING

Canadian Press

Sandringham, Eng., Feb. 9.—King George declines to surrender to age and has thrown down the gauntlet to years by skating on several occasions on a larke on the grounds of Sandringham House, where he is remaining because of the prevalence of influenza in London.

His subjects are amazed for the double reason that most of them did not know he could skate and they never thought he would undertake such a sport at the age of nearly sixty-eight, especially in view of the fact that he has guarded his health since his critical illness several years ago.

CHARITY NET PLAY BILLED

Brennan Hincks to Play Harry Webb in One of Feature Badminton Exhibitions

Shuttles will fly from the raquets of Victoria's leading badminton players this evening as various clubs of the city combine in staging a charity exhibition in aid of the Kiwanis Sports Week fund at the Armories.

In one of the features, Brennan Hincks, former city titleholder, will get Harry Webb, Willows ace, in a singles match.

Miss Mona Miller and Miss M. Pitts will oppose Misses I. and M. Benson in the outstanding women's doubles feature and Peter Phillips will play Ted Simmons in another good men's singles encounter.

Some of the matches will start at 7.30 o'clock but the majority will get under way half an hour later.

An American tourney will be held for third and fourth division players in the Lower Island Badminton League. Several strong doubles teams have entered and some keen competition is expected before the winners are declared.

FIRST OF MATCHES

Draw follows:
7.00—D. Hincks vs. H. Webb.
7.15—Women's doubles, Misses Miller and Pitts vs. Misses I. and M. Benson.
7.30—P. Phillips vs. T. Simmons.
8.00—Miss Miller and Hincks vs. Misses Benson and Webb; Miss Benson and Simmons vs. Miss Pitts and Phillips.
9.45—Hincks and Phillips sv. Webb and Simmons.
Pairings for doubles competition follow:
7.30—E. Weeks and B. Evans, Mrs. Smith and Hobson, Miss Marconini and Nash, Miss McAdams and Hanson, Mrs. Peters and Haywood, Mrs. Brown and Hawgood, Miss Warnock and Aird, Miss Wynne and Daynes, Miss Goddard and Graham, Miss Hughes and Bagley, Myrtle and partner, Miss Styan and Watson, Mrs. Goodman and Knott, Miss Saunders and Dillabough, Miss Cheer and Temple, Mr. and Mrs. E. Le Quesne.
Teams are asked to communicate with Harry Peers, league secretary, before starting.

Scattered Selling Blamed For Losses In To-day's Wheat

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, Feb. 9—Scattered selling that appeared to be in the nature of profit-taking on an earlier half-cent advance, was responsible for losses in wheat values of ½-⅞ registered at the close of trading on the Grain Exchange here to-day. Export was estimated at 300,000 bushels, most of it out of Vancouver.

May closed at 47½, July at 48½, and October at 49½.

Strength at Chicago caused by continued cold weather in the United States winter wheat belt accounted chiefly for early gains here but selling from many quarters started a decline that was only halted by buying for Vancouver in the final hour of trading.

Liverpool wheat prices advanced in sympathy with the strength in North American markets yesterday and due to better inquiry from millers.

Clearances of wheat from Argentina for the week are estimated at 4,400,000 bushels or about 1,000,000 bushels more than last week. Wheat shipments from Black Sea ports for the pas tweek amounted to only 328,000 bushels, all of it of Russian origin. Clearances of wheat from Black Sea ports since August 1 total slightly more than 18,000,000 bushels, of which only 1,250,000 bushels came from non-Russian countries.

Traders failed to report any improvement in demand for cash wheat and coarse grains.

STOCKS JUMP AT MONTREAL

Canadian Press

Montreal, Feb. 9.—Stocks eased off slightly in late trading on Montreal Stock Exchange to-day and one or two leading issues lost early gains. Advances, however, were still in the majority by a wide margin.

International Nickel, active leader, was subject to profit-taking during the last hour, losing all of its ⅜-point advance at 9⅛. Canadian Pacific closed a point higher at 13. Consolidated Smelters was up 1½ at 64½, while Brazilian was ⅛ higher at 8¾.

Bell Telephone finished two higher at 90, B.C. Power "B" up ⅞ at 4, and B.C. Power "A" up ¼ at 15½. Montreal Power remained stationary throughout the session at 30.

Dominion Bridge advanced 1¼ to 15½, and Royal Bank a point to 138½. Gains of half a point or less were scored by Steel of Canada, Canadian Industrial Alcohol, McColl-Frontenac, Charles Gurd and Massey-Harris.

Hollinger dropped 20 cents to 7.75. Lake of the Woods preferred yielded a point to 84, while small recessions were dotted throughout the list.

SHAKE-OUT IN MINING STOCKS

Canadian Press

Toronto, Feb. 9.—Profit-taking gave the base metal shares a mild shake-out to-day on the Standard Mining Market but in the last half hour the price level firmed and closed near yesterday's final quotations.

The nickel and copper stocks had the play in the early part of the session. Nickel closed down 20 at 9.90. Noranda was scarcely changed at the close and Sherritt, Sudbury Basin and Falconbridge finished down a few cents.

The gold share market moved along quietly within a narrow range, Lake Shore dropping about 75 to 37.50, Dome 40 to $17, Teck 5 to 4.65 and Hollinger 20 to 7.70. Cheaper gold stocks were all off from one to five.

NICKEL DRAWS MUCH TRADING

Canadian Press

Toronto, Feb. 9.—The Toronto Stock Exchange had another big day due to the trading in International Nickel, the distillery issues and the oil shares. Much of the buying was reported as coming from outside Toronto.

Nickel advanced to 10⅜ while the buying was proceeding but profit-taking sent it back to 10, below below its close yesterday. Smelters, moving with Nickel, did better, closing with a point gain.

The other interlisted shares closed with gains. Ford was stronger than for some weeks, closing at 7½, while gains of about ⅜ were registered for Brazilian and ⅛ for C.P.R.

In the oils International Pete moved up to 12¼ and closed near the top. Imperial, British American and McColl Frontenac all did better.

PIONEER GOLD IS STILL HIGH

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Feb. 9.—Pioneer Gold equalled its new high point with sales at $5.30 during the forenoon session of the Vancouver Stock Exchange today, but, apart from Pioneer and Bralorne, the trend of the gold stocks was slightly downward, following eastern leads. Bralorne trade at $1.89.

Reno brought 7ic, premier 73c, Noble Five 6c, Georgia River 3c, Bridge River Consolidated 6¼c, Big Missouri 17c and Beaver Silver 5c. Price differences were small as compared with the previous day.

In the base metals Pend Oreille was up to 70c. In the oil section, Royalite stood at $6.10 and Crow's Nest at 1½c.

W. D. Burdis of Vancouver, Dies

Became President of Terminal City in 1889; Prominent in Several Fields

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Feb. 8.—The death of one of Vancouver's outstanding pioneer builders, William D. Burdis, a resident of this city since 1889, was mourned to-day.

The aged citizen—he would have been eighty-five years old on March 23—had been in failing health for some time. A month ago his condition became such that his death, which occurred at the home of his son-in-law, C. C. Carter, Pine Crescent, was not unexpected.

Secretary of the B.C. Canners' Association for a quarter of a century, private secretary to Mayor Oppenheimer and an active participant in the work of diking and draining on the Pitt, Lillooet and Fraser Rivers after the big flood of 1894, he had been associated with many foresighted schemes to benefit the city.

FRUIT TRADE

To him also was given the credit for demonstrating to eastern Canada what British Columbia could produce in the way of fruit and vegetables. He collected and preserved samples and superintended their shipment to the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto.

Old-timers of the city did not forget Mr. Burdis's contributions to Vancouver's advancement and in 1928 he was presented with Hudson's Bay companion medallion by the Vancouver Pioneers' Association, of which he was historian.

Born in the north of England, where he spent his younger years, Mr. Burdis first came to Canada in 1873, but later returned to the Old Country.

In the late eighties Mr. Burdis returned to this country and in 1889 arrived in Vancouver, where one of his first business ventures was in conjunction with the late W. D. Jones, many years keeper of the Brockton Point lighthouse and in the early days operator of a boat livery and bathouse on the harbor where Piers A and B of the C.P.R. are now situated.

Later he was for some years private secretary to Mayor Oppenheimer, second mayor of this city, and was associated with him in several development projects.

STREET RAILWAY

At that time the late J. W. Horne and associates promoted a company to operate horse-drawn street cars in Vancouver. Realizing, however, that electricity was the coming power for tramways, Mr. Burdis suggested to the mayor a company be formed to operate electrically-driven cars between and in the cities of Vancouver and New Westminster. Mayor Oppenheimer embraced the idea and with several other noted pioneers incorporated the Vancouver Tramway Company.

The intimate relationship of Mr. Burdis with the railway company ended in 1896, and he centred his interests on affairs of the late Isaac Oppenheimer and his nephew, Sol Oppenheimer, until 1900, when he became connected with the Canners' Association.

He retired in 1925.

Stock Market Has Rally With Issues Up Several Points

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 9

(By Logan & Bryan)

Canadian Press

New York, Feb. 9.—The stock market moved higher to-day under leadership of rail shares. Most of the rise occurred in the morning, but many shares retained advances of fractions to more than two points.

Shares gaining one to two included New York Central, American Telephone, Air Reduction, United States Smelting, Delaware and Hudson, Eastman Kodak, Consolidated Gas, Union Pacific and both United States Steel common and preferred.

Coca Cola rose four, General Motors, General Electric, Dupont, Case and Westinghouse advanced major fractions. Standard Oil of New Jersey was up a point. The turnover approximated 3,000,000 shares.

Motors were generally firm. Sugar issues were fractionally higher, in sympathy with recent strength in raw sugar.

BRITAIN FILLS GAPS IN ARMY

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London—The serious shortage in the infantry of the line which has been growing for several years, has at last been checked, and the "gap" which has been causing alarm at the War Office is likely to be reduced in the near future by some thousands of men.

An even greater source of satisfaction is the fact that more and more young men of good education are joining the army. The army of yesterday recruited its ranks almost entirely from the unskilled, but the application of science to warfare has completely revolutionized its character. A technical personnel is now needed to meet the demands of the new mechanized units.

For some years after the war these demands were not met, but the strenuous advertising campaign which has accompanied recruitment during the recent past is bearing fruit. There is to-day a better appreciation among the people of what the army offers to youths who are physically fit and of good character. One of the great advantages is that the vocational training now given by the army fits many for skilled employment when they return to civil life. It is no longer a "blind alley."

The effect of vigorous propaganda is reflected in the recruiting figures for the present year. The authorities set out to obtain 30,000 recruits by the end of March next. Towards that number 21,000 have been attested, leaving 9,000 to be recruited.

A year ago the disparity between establishment and strength was about 10,000, but as the excess of recruits over wastage is expected to be about 3,000 the shortage next year will have been reduced to 7,000. A great feature of the campaign has been the encouragement given to the county regiments to recruit their ranks from their home county.

Scotland this year is recruiting its regiments wholly from that country. Hitherto Scots regiments have called upon England for about 400 of their yearly intake of 3,000.

It is hoped soon to be able to raise the height standard of regiments belonging to the Brigade of Guards to six feet. This will be done to stem the stream of applicants as soon as the present vacancies are filled. The height for the Grenadiers and Coldstream is now 5 feet 11 inches. That for the Scots Guards is half an inch lower, while the Irish and Welsh Guards take men of 5 feet 10 inches.

Rising Prices Are Again Feature of N.Y. Bond Marke

Canadian Press

New York, Feb. 9.—With rail loans as leaders, the bond market continued to force ahead to-day. It was the third successive session of rising prices and the principal beneficiaries of the buying movement were lifted sharply above their levels of a few days ago.

Dealings showed a considerable expansion on the upswing, largely as a result of the keener demand for secondary and prime rail issues. In this group advances of a point more were numerous, embrac Nickel, Plate, Missouri Pacific, Nor ern Pacific and Pennsylvania.

In the industrials and utilities, advance proceeded more leisurely, many high grade descriptions clim fractionally to a point.

The United States Government vision retrieved a considerable part yesterday's losses and ruled firm. F eign loans were irregular.

Blacksmith Seeks Two Bright Boys

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London—Cheering evidence that at least one of the ancient rural industries of England still holds sway in a mechanical world comes with the announcement that a Devon blacksmith has vacancies for two premium pupils to learn smitheraft.

Nearly 2,000 farriers still carry on their calling in London alone. It is important to remember the distinction between a farrier and a blacksmith. Farriers make and nail the shoes on horses, but blacksmiths, in the heyday of their trade, made suits of armor, wrought-iron turnspits, log-tongs and other beautifully executed things which demand a high degree of artistic and manual craftsmanship.

Their motto was "by hammer and hand all arts do stand," but mass pro- duction in some of the big cen such as Birmingham has killed m of the old trade of the blacksm though he still has many fine wroug iron gates and other things as mo ments to his skill.

A QUAINT TRADITION

Sir Frederick Edward Robert Bec former prime warden of the Bla smiths' Company, reminds us of quaint tradition which has been han down through several centuries to present day.

The Lord of the Manor at Oakh (Rutland) has the right to deman horseshoe from every peer of the re who passes through the town. Am these "tolls" received is a gigan golden horseshoe presented by Qu Elizabeth.

Modern peers sometimes have hor shoes specially wrought in silver or g in order to keep this picturesque c tom alive. One peer in a car offe his spare wheel instead, but this not accepted and he sent on a ho shoe.

THREE JAPANESE KILLED IN PLANE

Tokio, Feb. 9.—The Navy Office announced yesterday three persons perished when a big naval flying boat capsized in landing at night at the mouth of Tokio Bay.

Of ten persons aboard, seven were rescued and divers recovered the bodies of the other three.

ICE CARRYING DOGS TO SEA

Alaska Mail Carrier Swims 200 Yards Through Icy Waters to Safety

Fairbanks, Alaska, Feb. 9.—A flight by Pilot Jerry Jones yesterday over drifting ice in Norton Sound showed a team of dogs, whose master had swum to shore safely, marooned on a large cake of ice and being carried to sea.

Making the flight on reports that an unnamed Eskimo companion of Mitchell Charles, a mail carrier, had also been carried away, Pilot Jones messaged here that he had seen no signs of a human being on the ice. Later, on returning to shore, he learned that the previous report had been incorrect, his message said.

Charles and his mail team were swept away on Monday, as the ice broke loose between Unalaklik and Shaktolik. He plunged into the water himself, however, and swam 200 yards to shore.

Later he made his way several miles back to Unalaklik.

Two other pilots here, Vic Ross and Chester Brown, were preparing to fly to the scene when his report came in.

BLAZE CAUSES $2,000 DAMAGE

Ms. Pacific Shipper at San Francisco After Fighting Fire off Oregon Coast

San Francisco, Feb. 9.—Bearing evidence of a battle against fire at sea, the British motorship Pacific Shipper, arrived here yesterday.

Blackened plates of the top side of the engine room, smashed skylights and ports and blistered bulkheads gave mute testimony of the blaze which threatened the craft after an acetylene tank burst off the Oregon coast Monday. The members of the crew, under command of Capt. H. S. Fairclough, checked the flames before the freighter Charles L. Wheeler Jr. and the coastguard cutter Redwing reached the scene.

Officials of the Furness Line, operators of the vessel; investigators for Lloyds and port officers went aboard yesterday evening to check the damage, estimated by Capt. Fairclough at $2,000. It is expected the ship will proceed to England for permanent repairs.

U.S. RAILROADS PLAN SAVINGS

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and Northern Pacific to Jointly Use Tracks

Seattle, Feb. 9.—Plans for economies by joint use of tracks and other facilities between the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific and the Northern Pacific were announced by H. A. Scandrett, president of the Milwaukee system, on his arrival in Seattle yesterday for a five-day inspection of the road's properties in this section.

About three hundred miles of trackage in Montana belonging to the Milwaukee railroad will be used by the Northern Pacific. The Northern Pacific depot in Spokane which has been condemned by the city will be abandoned by the Northern Pacific, and a new station will be jointly operated by both companies. Savings in labor and material costs will result, Mr. Scandrett said.

"Railroad traffic is not picking up in volume, but the rate of decline is decreasing," Mr. Scandrett said. "That is a hopeful sign. The spirit of the unemployed in this crisis is admirable. It would be a fine thing if we all had as fine an attitude."

Economic welfare in the United States depends largely upon the welfare of farmers throughout the country, he said, but the season is too early to determine the crop prospects or sales prices for the coming year.

Japanese Shipping Circles Opposed To Old Foreign Ships

Purchase of Old Craft by Japanese Interests Hits Government Subsidy Scheme

N.Y.K. Planning Four New Motorships for Japan-California-New York Service

By Percy Whiteing, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

Tokio, Feb. 9 (By Mail)—A furore has been aroused in Japan's shipbuilding and shipping company circles by the purchase by certain Japanese firms of a considerable number of outdate foreign ships for use in the country's export trade, which is being carried on at a high pitch owing to the advantage given by the low yen exchange rate; and also, in some cases for domestic traffic and breaking-up.

Prominent among these ships is the 19,000-ton Cunarder Caronia, bought by Japanese interests toward the end of last year.

The purchase of old foreign ships is having a bad effect on the scheme of the Government and shipbuilding yards to improve Japanese shipping and give work to the industry by scrapping old vessels and building new ones in Japanese yards. The Government provides a subsidy for the construction of new ships on the basis of the scrapping of two tons of worn-out ships for each new ton built. The Nippon Yusen Kaisha plans to build four 7,500-ton motor vessels for its Japan-California - Panama - New York service under this new subsidy law.

SINCE TRADE BOOM

The purchase of foreign vessels since the export trade boom began, by minor Japanese shipping companies, has been camouflaged to some extent by their new owners registering them at Canadian and Siamese ports, and also at Hongkong, in many cases.

The foreign officers are retained by the new owners but they send Japanese crews to work the ships.

Owing to the enhanced freight earnings abroad, from their conversion into yen at advantageous rates, and also to the big export trade, a large number of ships hitherto employed in the Japanese coastwise trade have been transferred by their Japanese owners to international trade routes, which has caused a shortage in vessels for domestic use. This has been filled in many cases by the importation of old foreign ships, despite the disadvantage in this case from the low yen exchange, which is largely offset by the cheapness of the purchase price. Some of the imported ships are allocated by their new owners as floating crab canneries.

Prominent among the importers are the Yamashita Shipping Company, one of the leading tramp owners, and the Daido Katun Shipping Company.

PIONEER ALASKA CAPTAIN IS DEAD

Seattle, Feb. 9.—Capt. George A. Green, fifty-three, pioneer river boat operator of the Yukon and Alaska, died of influenza at his home here on Tuesday.

For the last seven years he has been operating on the Kuskokwim River as vice-president and general manager of the Alaska Rivers Navigation Company.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday from St. Ann's Church. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Katherine Green; two sons, Jack and Jerry, and his mother, Mrs. E. Green.

CANADIAN DESTROYER GREETED AT LOS ANGELES

H.M.C.S. SKEENA

of the Esquimalt naval station, shown above as she steamed into Los Angeles harbor recently to pay a visit during the course of her cruise to southern waters. In charge of Commander George C. Jones, R.C.N., the Skeena, in company with H.M.C.S. Vancouver, also of Esquimalt, is now at Mexican ports. Both destroyers will return to their base near here early in April.

CHURCHILL HAS COST MORE THAN $13,000,000

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—Owing to natural breakwaters the cost of operating and maintaining the port of Churchill will always be moderate whether the traffic be heavy or light, D. W. McLachlan, engineer in charge of the Hudson Bay Railway terminus, told the Engineer Institute of Canada at the concluding session of its annual meeting here yesterday evening.

Natural breakwaters of jetties at the entrance to Churchill harbor, he explained, directed the tidal currents so that they perform a perpetual service by their scouring action in keeping the harbor from filling up. There are no wide tidal flats or currents to deal with.

At its luncheon gathering yesterday the institute had Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, as guest speaker, and the meeting ended in the evening with a visit to the laboratories of the National Research Council.

The expenditure to date chargeable to the Churchill development amounted to abopt $13,372,896, stated Mr. McLachlan. With work still to be done, the cost on completion would be about $13,600,000. The net cost, according to Mr. McLachlan, would scale down to $12,500,000 if the dredging plant could be sold for half its original cost and if allowance was made for an amount of $625,000 incurred through taking over the plant formerly charged to the works at Port Nelson.

SNOW STOPS C.N.R. TRAIN

Sixty Passengers, Including Patients on Stretchers Have Unpleasant Experience

Regina, Feb. 9.—While a forty-mile an hour wind howled around them, piling huge ten-foot drifts against the cars, sixty passengers, including two hospital patients on stretchers, and 100 train crew men huddled in the station or aboard the Yorkton-Melville C.N.R. local, throughout Tuesday evening and yesterday. They were little more than five miles from Regina.

At 6 o'clock Tuesday evening their train should have reached here. It found the way blocked at Victoria Plains by a huge drift 1,100 feet long and from three to ten feet deep.

Stranded in the snow yesterday were three snowploughs and three locomotives, sent to release the beleaguered train.

A few hardy passengers reached the city in the afternoon, numb with the cold. They had returned on horse-drawn sleighs sent out at daybreak with a supply of hot coffee and sandwiches and blankets for the passengers and crew.

German Liners Prove Popular

The North German Lloyd carried more passengers in 1932 in the transatlantic route than during 1931, according to Victoria agents. The total for 1932 was 115,643 passengers and exceeds the 1931 record of the North German Lloyd by 443 passengers.

The steamships Bremen and Europa of the North German Lloyd carried 82,909 passengers in both directions across the Atlantic in 1932, including 21,297 first class. The average number of passengers per trip was 1,011. The Bremen, having been in service since July, 1929, and the Europa since March, 1930, have made a total of 118 round trips traveling more than 900,000 miles and carrying 281,000 passengers.

Veteran Stewardess Leaves the Pacific

Mrs. Emily Ashcroft Retires From Sea After Thirty-three Years of Service

Left Ss. Empress of Asia Last Month After Twenty Years on the Pacific

Not only the men, but sometimes the women who go down to the sea in ships serve their mistress, the sea, with untiring and sustained devotion. Such a woman is the motherly, apple-cheeked, Mrs Emily Ashcroft widow of a seafaring man, who has just rounded out thirty-three years of service as a ship's stewardess, most of which was with the Canadian Pacific Steamship's Pacific fleet of white Empresses.

Into a virtual lifetime of seafaring this stout-hearted little lady, who was superannuated from the Ss. Empress of Asia last month, has written a record of self-effacing devotion to a job of which she made an absorbing career. Skilled in practical nursing and the other rather exacting duties of the stewardess, her efficiency and unfailing good nature won her a popularity which made her prized by any captain lucky enough to have her in his ship.

Mrs. Ashcroft had ten years of service behind her when she came to Vancouver in 1913 to enter the Empress of Asia, then fresh from the builders' hands. She served with the Asia until August, 1914, when the liner was taken over for war-time service by the Admiralty, stood by until October, 1915, when she went back to sea again in the old Montcalm. Then followed, in rather quick succession, a series of changes in which the kindly little lady found herself now with one ship and now with another. Changes were being made in the fleet; newer ships had replaced the old ones and the line was expanded and improving its services. Into this shifting picture Mrs. Ashcroft fitted like the seafarer she was, serving the old Empress of Japan, the Montcalm, the Empress of France and the Empress of Canada. In August, 1930, when the new Empress of Japan appeared in Pacific service, Mrs. Ashcraft joined this newest and most palatial member of the fleet, but in June, 1932, returned to her first love, the Empress of Asia, in which she rounded out her record-breaking thirty-three years of devoted service.

A world cruise in the beautiful Empress of Australia was included in her years of service and on that cruise her efficiency and popularity were further demonstrated.

Now, however, she is living quietly in Vancouver, which she has called "home" for twenty years while aboard the Empress of Asia tiny boys and girls must take their cuts and bruises to other deft hands and mothers will turn their babies over to the administrations of other white-garbed stewardesses.

THREE JAPANESE FLIERS DROWNED

Tokio, Feb. 9.—The navy office yesterday announced three persons had perished when a big naval flying boat capsized in landing at night at the mouth of Tokio Bay.

Of ten persons aboard, seven were rescued, and divers recovered the bodies of the other three.

FEW CHANGES IN VALERA CABINET

Foreign Affairs—Mr. de Valera.

Finance—Sean MacEntee.

Agriculture—Dr. James Ryan.

Defence—Frank Aiken.

Justice—P. J. Rutledge.

Post Office and Telegraphs—Gerald Boland.

Lands and Fisheries—Joseph Connolly.

The announcement followed the opening sitting of the new Dail, which was held yesterday.

William T. Cosgrave was hooted by members of a large crowd yesterday when he emerged from a cathedral at the conclusion of a solemn mass celebrated to implore Divine guidance for the new Free State Parliament. Police cleared a passage for the deputies, who drove away in automobiles.

CRASH KILLS THREE FLIERS

Detroit, Feb. 9.—Three employees of the Stinson Aircraft Corporation were killed yesterday afternoon when their plane crashed into a field near the Wayne County airport here.

Airport officials said the three were making tests with an experimental trimotor plane, when they plunged to their deaths from a height of 700 feet after circling the airport. The cause of the plunge had not been determined.

CLASH COMES IN EVIDENCE

Yacht Engineer Cross-examined at W. J. Guy Trial at Long Beach, Cal.

Associated Press

Long Beach, Cal., Feb. 9.—Suddenly abandoning a trend of cross-examination to test the statements of Cuthbert Wills, principal prosecution witness, counsel for the defence in the murder trial of William J. Guy asked Wills yesterday if he had engaged in a dispute with other witnesses over their testimony.

With his face flushed, Wills admitted he did not know why one witness, Edmund Zeranski, had made a certain statement, but denied he had called anyone "a —— liar."

"You discussed the testimony of Zeranski, didn't you," the defence asked.

"Yes, with Edward Burzinski," Wills replied.

"What was said?"

"I was told Zeranski had testified that when I came across the body of Captain Wanderwell I reached down and shook him. I did not see why he said that. I know what I did and I did not do that."

The testimony was adduced over a succession of state objections.

WITNESSES UNDER GUARD

All witnesses have been kept under guard, none allowed to listen to the testimony of one another.

Zeranski was one of four, including Wills, the ship's engineer, in the mess hall of the yacht Carina when Captain Walter Wanderwell, adventurer, was slain in the dining salon December 5, about ten minutes, witnesses have said, after Guy went on board inquiring for the captain. Burzinski had testified to witnessing a quarrel between Wanderwell and Guy several minutes before the murder over an alleged debt.

Eugene McGann, of defence counsel, also asked Wills whether his wife had been in court taking notes of the proceedings.

Wills said she had.

"Did you see those notes?"

"Why, yes, I did. The proceedings were new to us and on the day the jury was being selected my wife just made notes of those excused and those accepted."

Douglas St. Church To Hold Concert

Under the direction of Joe Pye, dramatic leader of the athletic club of the Douglas Street Baptist Church, a fine concert and acrobatic show will be given to-morrow. This concert will bring the winter activities to a close and a record crowd is expected to be on hand. Mr. Pye has been successful in obtaining the service of two outstanding artists, Boyd McGill, shadowgrapher, and Miss Merle North, who has promised two vocal solos.

The balance of the musical programme will be by members of the club. Great credit is due to this club in developing a clever comedian—Roy Ward. Mr. Ward will give two numbers. The boys' club will give a club swinging exhibition under the leadership of Reggie Ralph.

Geo. Farmer, city wrestling champion, will give a strong man act, consisting of novelty stunts. A tumbling act will be given by members of the Y.M.C.A. Wrestling Club, under the guidance of Geo. Loyatt. With the help of Molly Wallace, who is only thirteen years of age much color has been added to the act. Miss Catherine Craig, well-known elocutionist, will give two recitations. Other artists who will perform are: Miss Edith Davis, Miss Margarette Ralph, Miss Olive Kilby, Miss Alice Pye, Jimmie Yates, Geo. Little, W. Tyson and Len Carr. Mr. Pinn Jr., and Miss Pinn will render orchestral numbers during the evening.

St. Andrew's Y.M.S.—At the home of Mrs. J. G. Simpson, 1326 Franklin Terrace, the regular monthly meeting of the Young Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held on Tuesday evening. After the usual reports were read a most inspiring talk was given by Rev. Bruce G. Gray, who was introduced to the members by the president, Mrs. W. G. H. Firth, a social hour following. It was announced that the March meeting would be held in the lecture room of the church on the evening of March 20, when the Women's Missionary Society has been invited to attend a joint meeting.

Lost Weight, Sleepless

London, Ont. — "Our family could not do without Dr. Pierce's Remedies," said Charles Inches of 79 Clarence St. "I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery' when I was in a run-down state, losing weight and hardly knew what a good night's rest was. My appetite was poor, due mostly to a nervous disorder, but a few bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' soon had my digestive organs working perfectly and I was in good health again."

All druggists. Fluid or tablets.

STREET CAR EMPLOYEES' PLEA

To the Editor:—The local street railway employees will much appreciate your kindness if you will give space to the following:

It may not be generally realized that 153 people and their families in this community are, at this time, dependent upon the street railway for their employment. This number includes the men on the cars, in the car barns, on the track and certain men in the power houses and in the general offices. The average monthly payroll for these men amounts to nearly $21,000, or quarter of a million dollars a year.

Owing to the times through which we are passing, travel on the street cars to-day is at the lowest level on record.

What we respectfully beg to point out to your readers is that owing to the practice on the part of well-intentioned but thoughtless motorists giving lifts to regular street car patrons, a difficult situation is made still more difficult.

It is not intended that anyone should forego the courtesy of offering a friend or relative a ride, but it is strongly suggested that drivers of automobiles should refrain from picking up people who, in the ordinary way, are regular street car patrons.

The picking up of the odd passenger may seem a trivial thing, but when it is considered that this runs into hundreds of passengers a day, the loss is serious.

This inevitably leads to a reduction of the car service and the laying off of men. It further means decreased payrolls and increased unemployment at the very time when everybody is, or should, be doing everything possible to decrease unemployment and increase payrolls.

The street railway payroll is one of the largest and oldest in Greater Victoria. The employees who comprise this payroll in no way conflict with any other business or trade. They are, in every instance, established residents, taxpayers and, in the majority of cases, home-owners. They and their families are entirely dependent upon the continued and successful operation of the street railway in order that they may continue to live in the community and regularly pay their way. The thoughtless motorist who picks up regular street railway patrons jeopardizes the jobs of the local street railway employees, adds to the already heavy burden of unemployment and reduces the payroll that many merchants, business men and others have long relied upon as one of their most valuable assets.

The local street railway employees also feel that the street railway company is in itself an asset to the community. Apart from the large amounts it regularly places in local circulation through its payroll, it paid last year into federal, provincial and municipal exchequers, on its Vancouver Island holdings, an amount in excess of $183,000, while it purchased locally supplies amounting to many thousands of dollars.

We feel sure, sir, that the readers of your paper will realize the significance of the above figures and that they will realize the importance of our request to the community at large. We also feel quite sure that those motorists who are in the habit of giving free lifts to regular street car patrons will readily admit the justice of our claims, and how that they, in the long run, must bear the loss and harm unthinkingly occasion.

On behalf of the local street railway employees.

TAX ON HONESTY

To the Editor:—According to rumors in the street and in the press, there is good evidence that the servants of the public, elected to administer the business of this province, have pretty well decided to stick another tax on the wage earner and the salaried people. This will not be a case of the willing horse pulling the load, but rather a case of the dumb, inarticulate ox responding again to the prodding-iron of his driver, of his so-called "servant," putting still more beef and muscle behind the yoke so snugly fitted about his neck.

It passes belief that the wage-earner can be so long-suffering, so long inarticulate; but what opportunity has he to show his distrust and his disgust? What "servant of the public" is ready to speak for him? True, after five years of what is euphoniously described as "government" by the Conservative administration, electors will have a day in which to give expression to their disapproval and pent-up feelings by kicking out one set of dummies who have voted under the thumb of a Conservative clique, and replacing them by another puppet-show operated by the Liberals. It is hardly worth while taking notice of the platitudinous ox who tells us that we have representative government and that we are "each and every one," responsible for the mish-mash of inefficiency and graft called government. The partisan machine, collaborating with its business affiliations, has too firm a grip on the throttle and steering-wheel of the old political bus. There will have to be changes more fundamental than mere alternation of the two brands of voting robots which are periodically and pompously installed in the seats of the mighty across James Bay.

However, for the information of the watchful politician who tries to keep his ear to the ground and his weather eye on the horizon—enviable posture!—let us note two of the more important opinions on the income tax which are being much discussed by the people who pay the bills.

(1) The hypocritical suggestion that the wage-earner will be only too glad to treble his income tax in the way of "sharing up" with his comrade who is fighting for subsistence on the dole, is pure piffle. For the self-same wage-earner notes that among the "servants of the people" there is not sufficient vertebrae to adjust a fair load on the incomes in the higher brackets. Graduation of the provincial income tax stops just about where it should begin to be heavily loaded: ten per cent on incomes of $10,000 and everything over. Not a whisper from the servants about changing this.

(2) The man whose income tax is deducted at the source, also holds emphatic views about tax evasions. In this field there is a fine opportunity for the tax-gatherer to show the stuff he is made of. A system which on the one hand keeps nibbling at wages and salaries before they are actually in the hands of the taxpayer, and on the other hand allows the coupon-clipper, the tax-evader, the tax-return liar, to wriggle through like a slippery eel, is self-condemnatory; proclaims its own inate laziness, inefficiency, senile weakness. Income taxes as presently administered are, to a much too great extent, a tax on honesty, a bonus on deceit.

The taxpayer who has his wage or salary cut three successive times, and who has seen his fellow-worker thrown upon the tender mercies of the dole for the unemployed, while his employer, who has slashed everything but dividends, takes a trip around the world—this taxpayer (and his name is legion) may not make himself loudly heard before the next election, but he will do a lot of thinking before he casts his ballot.

Will this be Canada's next Number One Car?

RECENTLY . . . Walter P. Chrysler announced the new Plymouth Six. Already . . . wherever you go . . . in hotels, clubs, on trains and in theatre lobbies . . . you hear people say:

"It's bound to be Canada's next Number One Car."

Clearly, Walter P. Chrysler and his engineers knew what people wanted. They knew the combination of a six-cylinder engine with Floating Power was unbeatable.

They knew that Canadians hate to be squeezed in . . . so they made the new Plymouth Six a big, full-sized car.

They understood human nature. We all want a car that travels fast . . . that's thrilling to drive. They made it safer than other low-priced cars . . . by giving it a safety-steel body . . . hydraulic brakes . . . a rigid-X frame . . . and a safety-glass windshield.

They built it to set new economy records . . . in gas, oil, tires and upkeep. And, last but not least, they gave people a low-priced car without that "low-priced look."

No wonder Walter P. Chrysler invites you to drive this much talked-about automobile! No wonder he wants your answer to the intriguing question: "Will this be Canada's next Number One Car?"

SYNOD TO MEET ON WEDNESDAY

Anglican Diocesan Synod to Hold Sessions at Memorial Hall

The Bishop of Columbia has summoned the diocesan synod to meet in the Synod Hall next Wednesday at 10 o'clock. There will be preliminary gatherings in the cathedral on Tuesday for "quiet hours" from 2 to 5 o'clock, conducted by Rev. H. H. Gowen, D.D., professor of Oriental languages at the University of Seattle. At evensong at 8 o'clock Dr. Gowen will preach. To these services, as well as to the communion service on Wednesday morning at 9.15, the bishop has invited all church members.

A group photograph of the delegates will be taken, weather permitting, on Wednesday morning at 9.50 o'clock outside the west front of the cathedral.

An exhibition of ecclesiastical art will be held in the primary class room at Memorial Hall, under the direction of Miss E. Ravenhill. There will be exhibits of wood, metal and needlework.

ATTENDANCE AT SCHOOLS HIGHER

Registration Shows 118 More at Schools in January

Attendance at city schools jumped by 118 in Jauary, as compared with December, according to figures placed before the School Board yesterday evening.

The total registration for January was 5,833 against 5,715 in December and 5,803 in January of last year. The average daily attendance was 5,516.93.

The report of the school dentist showed 142 pupils were treated at the clinic during the month, with 441 operations of various sorts performed, including fillings and extractions. In all 104 teeth of children were drawn.

Examinations of the mouths of 833 pupils were made.

Seventeen cases of whooping cough and two cases of chicken pox in the schools were reported by the School Health Inspector. This was out of 1,876 inspections made of pupils.

In a communication, the School Board was congratulated by the Provincial Health Officer upon the excellent results shown by its medical department, as recorded in the annual report for 1932.

CEMETERY HEAD IS RE-ELECTED

H. C. Oldfield Again Chosen Chairman of Royal Oak Burial Park Board

Tribute was paid to H. C. Oldfield for his services on the Royal Oak Burial Park Board yesterday evening when he was re-elected chairman for the third successive year. Mr. Oldfield has done much good work on the board and has paid careful attention to his duties as chairman in the last two years, it was stated.

Alderman John A. Worthington was again chosen as vice-president.

Standing committees were appointed as follows: Finance, Aldermen R. T. Williams and J. D. Hunter and Councillor W. F. Somers; grounds, H. C. Oldfield, Alderman John Worthington and Councillor Fred Borden.

Motors Join Hounds In Hunting Foxes

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London — Strong complaints have been made lately by masters of hounds of the behavior of those who come by car and cycle to watch a hunt. The former, it is alleged, circle round and round the hunt and the fumes of their cars destroy the scent. The latter are blamed for pressing too close to the hounds, with the result that the fox, rather than face a line of bicycles, takes to cover and is ignominiously dug out, and a good day's hunting is spoiled. A little advice to the ignorant and a few well-chosen words of rebuke to the persistent offender will probably cure this trouble.

One hunt, however, has adopted a system of charging a half-crown "cap" to all those who follow the hunt by car other than farmers whose land is hunted over. The money goes to the funds of the hunt, and this indicates the straitened position in which ma hunts now find themselves.

Americans and wealthy foreign can no longer afford to come to t country to hunt and taxation and t depression had badly hit the ric supporters. On the other hand, wh the hunt revenue has fallen, the e penses are rising. Farmers, too, badly hit and forced to claim for da ages and poultry losses which in n mal times they would not trou about.

Some hunts are still in a fortun position. One well-known Surrey hu is so well established that it can affo to discourage strangers by chargi them a three guinea "cap," while avoids the car and bicycle brigade keeping the place and date of its me secret.
